A PLAIN BUSINESS TALK.

Editor Horr Talks Finance and Tariff An Enthusiastic Audience.

Shively's hall was packed to its utmost capacity last Saturday night to hear the address by Hon. Roswell G. Horr of New York upon the political issues of the day. Long before the hour for the meeting the hall began to fill and by the time the speaker and procession arrived at 8 o'clock there was not room except upon the stage and about the sides of the hall. This was soon filled and hundreds were turned away.

The procession formed in front of the Charman block with the First Regimental band in the lead, followed by the Multitorpor flambeau club, the Oregon City band, the Milwaukee club, the Oswego club in rigs led by the Oswego band and citizens. No particular effort had been made to get up a parade, but it was noted that those in line made a very creditable showing, the Multitorpor club with their gay uniforms and flaming torches making a particularly fine appearance and good impression. This club and the Oswego club won many warm words of approval.

The speech was listened to with the closest attention, and was pronounced exceedingly good by all but the ultra populists who did not like the effect of Mr. Horr's cold facts. His speech was devoted almost entirely to the financial and tariff questions, and was an able presentation of these from the republican standpoint. As a public speaker Mr. Horr is pleasing, clear, logical and convincing. His speeches throughout the state cannot fail to result in good.

A Thrifty Order.

There was a meeting of the Rebekah lodge at the I. O. O. F. hall on Monday evening at which further business pertaining to the work of organizing was attended to. This lodge is the youngest in the city, but has a large membership of the best ladies and gentlemen in the city. As will be seen from the full list of officers which is given below it is conducted almost wholly by the ladies. It is evident from the list of officers and the way in which it sets about business that it is destined to occupy a prominent place among the fraternal societies of this city.

Following is the full list of elective and appointive officers: Noble grand, Mrs. M. M. Charman; vice grand, Mrs. C. O. T. Williams; secretary, Mrs. F. R. Charman; treasurer, Miss S. L. Stevens; right supporter to the N. G., Thos. F. Ryan; left supporter to the N. G., Mrs. C. N. Greenman; right supporter to V. G., Mrs. Georgie Meldrum; left supporter to V. G., Mrs. Jessie Cooke; conductor, Mrs. N. F. Glass; warden, Mrs. Mary L. Bradley; chaplain, Mrs. A. N. Porter; inside guard, Mrs. Lizzie Howell; outside guard, W. H. Howell.

Monday evening, May 7th, the residents of River View gave Mr. and Mrs. Akin a pleasant surprise party. The evening was spent in playing games, vocal and instrumental music, recitations etc., followed by ice cream and cake, making the evening an enjoyable one. Mr. Akin departed on the following morning for Southern Oregon, where he has a position with the Davis-Amblen-Merrell Co. The guests wished him success in his venture. There were about thirty-five friends and relatives present who felt they were losing a good neighbor.

In conformity with the request of citizens of Wilhoit and vicinity Henry Meldrum is making arrangements to have Hon. Chas. H. Dodd speak at that place sometime about the middle or last of next week. Mr. Dodd is a plain business man who knows what it is to have his business injured by trade depression and populist theories. He never used to have time to make political speeches, but this year he is making quite a number of excellent, telling speeches. Go and hear what a business man thinks of politics.

Brownies, Did you say Brownies? To be sure, every body is on the qui vive awaiting their appearance. The band is now on a tour around the world and have announced that they will appear in this city in full costume about the last of May or the first of June. This is positively their last appearance in Oregon City and no one will want to miss seeing the pigmies. They are under contract with St. Paul's Guild to appear just this once in the city.

Henry Meldrum, chairman of the republican county committee, who is out making the campaign has just returned from the southern part of the county and reports the trend of public sentiment to be entirely in favor of the republican party and candidates. He says that nearly all of the meetings are well attended and that much interest is taken in the campaign, republicans as a rule being enthusiastic and anxious to vote their sentiments.

J. W. O'Connell, the republican nominee for justice of the peace, is well known in this community as an intelligent and active young man. As justice for the Oregon City district he will give his whole time to the office and administer the law without fear.

This is the time to set out your bulbs and plants for summer and fall blooming and the best place to get them is at the Clackamas greenhouse, Park Place, Jos. Collin's proprietor.

County clerk Horton and Recorder Ramsby were out in the southern part of the county a couple of days the past week on their old stamping ground to see how the boys were making it in the campaign.

Rally at Barlow.

If there is one place in the county that prides itself on the vim thrown into the meetings of the republican club that place is Barlow, and the meeting which was held there last week on Thursday was no exception. The house and streets as well as the hall were gaily decorated for the occasion and everybody was prepared to help to make the meeting a success. After the people from the surrounding country and the visiting clubs had arrived they presented a gala appearance. It is said that fully 500 people sat and listened to rousing republican speeches for more than two hours and would gladly have remained as much longer. The candidates were most of them there and stirring speeches were made by Hon. C. M. Idleman, nominee for attorney general, Hon. C. H. Dodd, the practical business man of Portland, and Hon. T. T. Geer, the former statesman. Music galore was supplied by the Oregon City band and the jolly Multitorpor quartet. Good time? Well rather. At least that is what everybody says.

Judge W. L. White has placed his card in the ENTERPRISE and desires it stated that he is a candidate for justice upon the ground that if elected he will be independent, fair and impartial in his conduct of the office. His experience as county judge and his legal ability fit him for the place.

Meade Post is arranging to observe Sunday, the 27th, Memorial day, at the Congregational church with appropriate ceremonies. All old soldiers and friends are invited to be present on that occasion. Program next week.

The owners of that fine suburban property, Bolton are arranging to have a wide sidewalk laid along the street from the end of the suspension bridge through the property. This will greatly enhance its value and convenience.

Remember that J. W. O'Connell is the regular republican nominee for justice of the peace in the Oregon City district.

BEAVER CREEK REPUBLICANS.

Smilax Pays his Compliments to Starkweather and Pennoyer.

We were very glad to notice in your excellent paper of last week the prosperous condition of the Maple Lane Republican club, we too have made some advancement in our club. We started some time since with but twelve names on the roll and have added new names at every meeting, and some have hunted up the secretary between meetings of the club and signed until our list numbers over seventy names of the most intelligent farmers in our precinct and still there are more to follow. On Friday night of last week the "pop's" big gun, Starkweather, was out and made one of his mud slinging speeches against the two old parties and the next morning two intelligent German farmers hunted up the secretary of our club and asked to have their names added to our roll. Come again Brother Starkweather and we will soon get all the "pops" on our list. I tell you Mr. Editor we want men for our representatives in office that know more than we do, we want to vote for men that have stability enough to stay in a party long enough to find out what its principals are before jumping on to something new just for office. No, no, Starkweather, the old republican party is good enough for us. The party that looks out for America first and wants every dollar of our money just as good as any body's dollar; the party that believes in giving employment to every idle American that is willing to work, the party that would encourage home industry and thereby keep at home the people's money; the party that has made ours one of the best financial systems in the civilized world and made this country so prosperous that until 1892 the United States was looked upon with envy by every nation under the sun and if every precinct will get to the front like Beaver Creek, Starkweather will never go to the state senate or Pennoyer to the United States senate. Then get to work boys and see that. The Pennoyerites Cuxyism is stamped out in Oregon now and forever. SMILAX
Beaver Creek May 14, 1894.

During the last week arrangements were completed for the improvement of the mail service between Oregon City and Portland by having the car which leaves here at five o'clock carry mail. This will take any letters that may come into the postoffice after the three o'clock mail is made up, that may be destined for the East, the West Side, down the river points or the eastern part of Clackamas county. On Thursday the county papers can leave on this car and go out to the eastern part of the county on Friday. It will undoubtedly prove a great convenience.

Notwithstanding the several other attractions in the city last Saturday evening the members of Falls City lodge of Workmen and their families had a most enjoyable time, the hall being crowded. The literary entertainment was away up good, and after it was disposed of all hands turned loose to have a good social time. Did they have it? Ask any one who was there and see what is said about it. Ice cream and cake were served to over 500 persons. Quite an undertaking that in itself, but the committee having it in charge started in to make it a success and they did their work well. Why don't you join the Workmen?

Rev. Ernst left the first of the week for his new field of labor at Seattle. He preached his farewell sermon Sunday morning and in the evening Rev. Myers preached his first sermon. Mr. Myers and his family have moved into the Evangelical parsonage and expect to be at home soon in our midst. Rev. Ernst will be missed by many, for in the two years that he was here, his quiet and unassuming conduct won for him a host of friends outside of his congregation where he was most highly esteemed.

Oswego is to have a rally. Chairman Meldrum has arranged to have the candidates visit that place on the evening of the 25th when if possible, a crowd will go from here to see how the boys do it in Oswego. If obtainable they will take a few torches and other appliances with them. When you hear the hand play look out for the Oregon City republican boys. Oswego is all right.

Rev. Cowan writes from Council Bluffs that he is enroute and that if no accident occurs to prevent that he will be here to occupy the Congregational pulpit next Sunday.

County warrants and city warrants on the general fund will be taken at par at the Store of Glass & Smith, in exchange for goods.

Bread, Bread.

Of all things the average housekeeper is particular about, it is the quality of bread for her table. Good home made bread is not equaled by the ordinary bakery and to meet this requirement, Mr. J. Egle of the Shively bakery has put on the market his celebrated home made bread. This bread is made from the same kind of flour that is ground for export and none of the processes are used in its manufacture that, while giving the bread a fine appearance, ruin its quality. The utmost cleanliness is observed in all departments and the patrons of the bakery are invited to inspect it at any time, that they may see for themselves how their bread is prepared and handled.
