The Methodist Campmeeting—Church Dedication—Baptism in the Molalla—Dramatic Entertainment.

CANBY, July 3.—The annual Methodist campmeeting which was held here during the last ten days broke up Monday morning. There was a large attendance this year, and quite a number were converted. Last Sunday there were, by a rough estimate, about 4000 people on the grounds. Three young ladies were baptized in the Molalla river near the grounds.

The new German Evangelical church of this place will be dedicated next Sunday, July 8th, H. Schuknecht of Portland, assisted by the pastor, H. E. Hornshuh. Preaching in the forenoon will be in the German language; in the afternoon at 3 o'clock in the English, and in the evening in the German. Everybody kindly invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton and Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt came home last Monday from Turner, where they have been attending campmeeting for a few days. They report that they had a good time, and that there were many people on the ground.

The Portland Dramatic Company, consisting of eight or ten members, will give one of their fine dramatic entertainments in Knight's hall on Friday evening, July 6th.

Millard Lee is agent for the sale of a new hop drying stove. All in need of a good stove will do well to come and see this one.

McCarthy & Schwaibald, of Woodburn, have opened a butcher's shop in town. They intend to keep all kinds of meats on hand. They say they have come to stay.

James Adkins is running his saw mill at its full capacity. He is getting out a great deal of lumber and railroad ties. The railroad company has just received from him 6000 ties. This is good for Canby. We wish there were more similar industries here.

Geo. Knight is agent for the new Minneapolis binder which he has on exhibition in his warehouse here. He will be pleased to show it to all who may be in need of a good binder.

Milo Lee is sick in bed suffering severely with muscular rheumatism.

The railroad strike does not suit the people here. No mail, no freight. If it keeps on any length of time the people will have to take to the river. We trust it will be satisfactorily settled soon.

BEAVER CREEK BREEZES.

Will not Build a School House—A Spry Old Gentleman.

BEAVER CREEK, July 2.—The farmers are improving the time this pleasant weather, "making hay while the sun shines."

The people of school district No. 15 decided at their school meeting on the 21st that they would not build a new school house. They also decided to put a new roof on the old building.

Quite a number of people from this place attended the campmeeting yesterday at Canby.

Miss Jennie Rowen closed a three months term of school in the Hendrix district. She will teach in Canby the coming year.

The Sunday school concert given at the Presbyterian church a short time ago was a complete success.

O. A. Hayward and family, of Carus, were guests of Mr. Rowen a week ago.

Rev. Forbes, of Portland, will preach at the Presbyterian church of this place on next Sabbath, July 8, at 10 o'clock a. m., and at 2 p. m.

Robert Gintler and sister, of Mink, attended the teachers' association at Mullino. The report a good time.

G. W. Traylor recently gave a social dance. Everything passed off pleasantly. Beaver Creek can boast of the spryest old gentleman anywhere around. David Wilson aged 80, two weeks ago went to the pasture, caught and saddled his horse, and rode to Oregon City. He purchased a few articles and returned, being gone from home only four hours.

Stafford Scraps.

STAFFORD, July 2.—Oh, my! Thermometer 83 deg. in the shade. Can't put it in the sunshine for fear the mercury will run out of the top.

Farmers are rejoicing over the present change of weather as it will give them a chance to put the hay in the barn that has been out in the rain for the past week.

A small bug resembling the hop louse has made its appearance in the grain fields and the wheat heads are literally covered with them. Some have become quite excited about them and fear the crop may be destroyed.

Miss Winnie Moses, of Portland, is spending a few days of vacation until after the Fourth with friends here.

A dance will be held at Larson's hall on the night of the Fourth. A splendid time is anticipated.

School was out Friday last and Prof. V. E. Rowton has turned about forty archers loose to prey upon this quiet community. Some of the parents are already wishing the school was in session once more.

Miss Doering gave a public spelling school last Saturday evening at the Frog Pond school house. At least seventy persons, all single, took part in the contest. Sides were chosen, and for an hour some excellent spelling was done. When recess was called the sides stood even, thirty-one words having been missed by each side. The meeting was very orderly and Frog Pond regained the good name it lost at the spelling school held there a couple of weeks ago.

Insurance agents have been buzzing around and have insured several buildings since Mrs. Melcher's house burned.

Sandy Scoops.

SANDY, June 29.—Grain is beginning to head and looks well regardless of the wet weather.

Fruit will not average as large as the crop of last year. Cherries are beginning to ripen.

Mr. Meinig has on exhibition in his store a monthly rose bush which is about twenty inches high having on it sixty-nine full size roses. It is considered by everybody a great beauty.

A deputy sheriff from Portland passed through here recently for the toll gate after a man who stole a horse and cart in Portland, but so far no capture has been effected.

Saturday, June 30, Kasper Arduser's term of carrying the United States mail will expire, and so far nothing has been heard of our new mail contractor. Kasper's customers would like to see him continue to run his stage.

A band of bunch grass horses came over the mountain the other day.

Last Sunday Rev. Frothy of Damascus was here helping to organize a Presbyterian church.

Our German Sunday school, which was organized last winter is progressing nicely under the superintendence of Mr. Herity.

Miss Minnie Bruns, who was staying in town for awhile, returned home last week accompanied by Miss Cella Wenker.

CHERRYVILLE CREEPS.

People Crossing the Toll Road on Sleds—Lots of Snow Yet.

CHERRYVILLE, June 28.—Our school closed Friday, the 22d, with appropriate exercises and a picnic dinner. All had a good time.

G. W. Woods and family have left this neighborhood and moved across the Sandy river near the head works of the Bull Run water ditch.

N. A. Flinn was elected school director in the place of G. W. Woods.

Clay Myers, of Portland, brought fifty-two head of fine beef cattle over the Mt. Hood and Barlow road from Eastern Oregon.

J. W. Baty has just returned from a trip across the mountains where he has been clearing the timber and other obstructions from the Mount Hood and Barlow road. He reports the snow all the way from one to six feet deep, yet teams are crossing the mountains, using sleds while crossing the snow. Mr. Baty says the snow is going fast.

Springwater Spray.

SPRINGWATER, June 30.—But little hay has been made here on account of the rain.

Miss Helen Taylor's school closed June 29 with a pleasant time.

Richard Hargreaves has been employed to teach the Springwater school at a salary of $45 per month.

C. L. Gray has returned home after closing his school at Damascus.

Mr. Haly, wife and two sons, of Portland, have been spending a few days this week with relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Rev. J. C. Sylvanus, assisted by ministers from Portland, will hold a series of meetings at the Springwater church July 7, 8 and 9th.

Highland Happenings.

HIGHLAND, July 2.—Highland will celebrate the Fourth.

Our band is progressing nicely under the supervision of A. Miller, of Viola, who proves to be a good instructor.

A grand entertainment will be given at the school house on the evening of July 14, it being the close of school. A grand time is anticipated.

Miss Minnie Harrington has returned home after a year's absence at the state normal school at Monmouth.

The Highland base ball team played the Redland team last Sunday, resulting 18 to 35 in favor of Highland. The Highland team will play the Logan team on the 11th.

WHAT KYLE'S RESOLUTION MEANS.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The following telegram from Representative Haugen, of Wisconsin, in reply to Secretary Seligman, of the West Superior Trades Union, explains his view on the resolution offered Monday by Senator Kyle, and is worthy of careful consideration by every thinking man: He says:

"Senator Kyle's resolution would, if enacted, remove all protection by the United States to the life and property of those engaged in interstate commerce as carriers of passengers or shippers. It would nullify the pledges of the constitution that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. It would overthrow the government and establish anarchy. I cannot and will not support it. I am satisfied that you did not realize the import of Kyle's resolution, and that you will, on reflection, condemn it as revolutionary. All grievances of citizens must be redressed within the constitution, and the law. Any departure from this principle is the abandonment of civilization for barbarism."

Bread, Bread.

Of all things the average housekeeper is particular about, it is the quality of bread for her table. Good home made bread is not equalled by the ordinary bakery and to meet this requirement, Mr. J. Egle of the Shively bakery has put on the market his celebrated home made bread. This bread is made from the same kind of flour that is ground for export and none of the processes are used in its manufacture that, while giving the bread a fine appearance, ruin its quality. The utmost cleanliness is observed in all departments and the patrons of the bakery are invited to inspect it at any time, that they may see for themselves how their bread is prepared and handled.

THE DINING TABLE.

INFORMATION ABOUT ALL KINDS AND QUALITIES OF TABLE LINEN.

All White Linen Is the Preferred Style. Napkins Correspond With the Cloth. Centerpieces, Serviettes and Dollies May Be Embroidered in Colors.

At present the preference is for all white table linen. Napkins should always correspond with the cloth, and of course damask as fine as the purse can buy is in rule. Small patterns are never out of style. Such as stars, balls and cobweb, acorn borders with vine centers, daisies, buttercups and similar designs.

The housekeeper skillful with her needle takes delight in outlining the borders in Kensington or stem stitch, either in white or wash silks for luncheon cloths. On uncolored table linen both china and silver are seen to their best advantage. If a bit of color is liked, it may be introduced in centerpieces and serviettes for the broad plate, the olive dish and in dollies. In fact, the cloth may serve as a background for as much display as convenience will allow.

Napkins remain the same large size, from 23 to 27 inches square. Dollies are made in diverse sizes and materials. The finest are bolting cloth, either exquisitely embroidered or painted. They are sometimes finished at home in sheer linen or Japanese silk. A little skill will enable the housekeeper to paint them delicately in dull blues, pinks and yellows. The patterns may be either conventionalized flowers on a tiny scale or birds and landscapes rather suggested in outlines than filled in solidly. Fruit napkins are sometimes decorated with mottoes borrowed from Shakespeare, from "Alice in Wonderland" or from original phrases. In this decoration the imagination will find ample play. Dollies for bonbons, salted almonds and flower vases should have special finish.

Open work and hemstitched linen are still popular. Under them is usually laid colored linen, and this again covers a double layer of double faced white cotton flannel. Upon this linen not only looks better, but it is more serviceable. No starch, or at most but an infinitesimal portion, should be used in table linen. Nor is it good taste to have it ironed in center folds and flutings in imitation of hotel table linen.

In embroidering serviettes it is well to secure harmony between the decoration and that for which it is used. For instance, breadcloths some 18 inches square may be outlined in gold colored ears of wheat. For the meat dish the heavy unbleached linen is both appropriate and serviceable. A hem finished article with hemstitching is more durable than fringe. Table mats crocheted in heavy cotton or sewed in fanciful patterns out of corset cord may be further adorned with milky white glass beads. Those will effectively keep hot dishes from discolored the surface of the table, according to The Decorator and Furnisher.

A Good Thread Holder.

A convenient thread holder is very easily made. Take an oblong piece of leather an inch wider than a No. 30 spool of thread. Cut a half inch square out of each corner, so an edge that wide can be turned up all around. Line the leather with silk and bind with narrow ribbon and fasten the turned up sides in place. In the shallow tray lay as many spools of thread as it will hold from No. 30 to 80. Ribbon fastened at the end and run through the holes and tied will keep the spools in place.

Saving Laundry Work.

A writer in Decorator and Furnisher tells of the expedient of a thoughtful mother whose large family of children made much laundry work. For breakfast and luncheon, instead of large tablecloths, she provided half yard squares made from a good quality of butcher's linen. These were hemmed and an initial worked in one corner—eight or ten squares for the use of each child. These were laid diamondwise under each plate and renewed as needed, the laundress finding these small pieces much easier to care for than the large cloths.

The same writer offers the suggestion that if good sized, milky white glass beads are sewed on table mats, crocheted in heavy cotton or made of corset cord, their efficiency in protecting the table from hot dishes is absolute. For general use this is certainly a good idea, though these mats are not specially pretty for company days.

Hint About Boiling Dumplings.

Instead of covering the kettle so that as little air as possible will get in, do exactly the reverse. Place something on the kettle to raise the cover an inch or two. You will never have a heavy dumpling if cooked in this way.
