It will be a branch of the Hirsch company of Chicago. They say they will put in about $100,000 worth of machinery and manufacture on a large scale.

S. R. Green received notice of his appointment as postmaster at this place on Friday night together with his blank bond which was executed the following day for eight thousand dollars, Thomas Charman, Geo. A. Hardin, H. H. Johnson and being his bondsmen. The bond was sent on the same day to Washington where upon its approval his commission will be issued. Upon its receipt which will probably be about the 3rd of August he will take charge of the office.

On Monday evening about 8:30 o'clock the firebells at the down town houses sounded a short fire alarm and a moment later the Cataracts, Fountains and Hooks were rushing down the street while many citizens were also hurrying in the same direction, the objective point being Fourth street. Upon reaching the hydrants at that corner both companies attached hose and began to throw water on the streets at which the onlookers perceived that it was only a trial run preparing for the tournament.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Special and Lively Meeting to Discuss Electric Line Ordinance.

The proceedings of the last regular meeting of the city council noted the application of certain parties for a street car line franchise along certain streets on the hill. On Monday evening the council met in special session and enjoyed a two hours and a half seance with sparring enough to keep all members awake if nothing else. The committee had been unable to agree fully upon an ordinance so the form of one was submitted and discussed at length. Various and sundry amendments were offered, some of which were carried and some of which neither the mover nor his second would vote for after it was seen what they meant. At length the copy submitted by the committee which had been drawn up by the attorney for the petitioners J. E. Hedges, at the request of the committee was dropped and a copy prepared by the petitioners was substituted and considered till about 10 o'clock when it was referred to the old committee and the council adjourned.

The mayor thought that the members of the council were disposed to treat lightly the subject of granting the franchise and taking the floor stated that the petitioners were asking for a franchise in good faith intending to build a road which if built would prove a great convenience to residents of the hill and to the city and he thought that they should give it careful consideration and pass upon it in the spirit in which it was asked. He also stated that not one of the council would put his money into it as a business venture, and that as it would if built give the laboring men considerable work without returning dividends to the builder he thought that they should be as liberal as possible with them at the same time protect the city.

There was a meeting of the stockholders of the Willamette Falls Building and Loan Association at the Bank of Oregon City office on Thursday evening at which the following named directors were chosen: E. G. Causfeld, president; W. E. Carll, vice-president; N. O. Walden, secretary; Bank of Oregon City, treasurer, L. L. Porter, attorney; W. P. Hawley, G. A. Harding, E. E. Charman, W. A. Huntley and C. P. Thore. Messrs. Harding, Charman and Thore constitute the finance committee, and Messrs. Walden, Hawley and Huntley the appraisement committee. There was a meeting of the directors on Saturday evening and another on Monday evening at which by-laws were adopted and the entrance fee made payable by the 20th of August.

The last of the brick for Main street arrived the first of the week and the work of laying them was resumed on Monday. It is being concluded as the ENTERPRISE goes to press and hereafter when farmers and others visit this city they will find the street finished and open to travel from one end to the other. It is not only one of the best looking streets in the state, but is without doubt the best street so far as use and durability are concerned. It is a pleasure to drive on it either with a driving rig or a load, no street that is made being as well adapted to all around use as vitrified brick. The contractors, Messrs. Hamshaw & Bhem, have taken a great deal of pains with their work upon this street and deserve credit for the substantial way in which they have completed their contract.

The Rinearson party returned from their trip to Mt. Hood on Tuesday evening, several of them being quite ill. A. F. Parker was among this number, although he came up town on Wednesday he was unable to work. He says that none of their party ascended the mountain on account of Mr. Rinearson's being taken ill while ascending the slope below Crater rock, probably on account of the elevation. They report the snow very slumpy and the climbing correspondingly hard.

F. R. Charman and family and Geo. A. Harding and family picked up their camp outfits on Thursday morning and hied themselves away to their annual camp at Alderlea on the Clackamas at the mouth of Clear creek where the younger members of the family at least expect, and will have a glorious time. They expect to be joined in a few days by J. G. Pillsbury and family.

A street fakir appeared on the street on Tuesday night and after attracting a crowd proceeded to stick himself full of pins and to fill up with water, filling the crowd with wind at the same time that he poured the twenty-five glasses of water down his throat. After sticking sundry and various pins through his ears, cheeks, lips and into his arms he sewed his lips together and proceeded to take up a collection which returned him only $1.50 at which he became mad and refused to inflict further punishment upon himself till the hat should contain five dollars. As his audience was not interested to that extent he pulled his pins and left for greener pastures.

Mr. H. L. Kelly handed in to this office the past week a copy of the Donison, Texas Herald printed on the 3rd of the month for a Fourth of July number, the striking feature of which was the fact that it was printed on three sheets of paper, one red, one white and one blue. It is evident that Donison bestirrs itself when it comes to being patriotic on the anniversary of the natal day.

Work has been actively pushed on the foundation to the wall for the new power station since the subsidence of the waters and one section of the wall is being made ready for the reception of machinery and the second section is being prepared for getting at the foundation on bed rock. With anything like a fair season it will be possible to get the work done this year which the high water prevented last.

Postmaster Protzman of Portland is in trouble with his bondsmen because he will not make appointments to suit them, and a paper is being circulated amongst them asking the postmaster general to release them from the postmaster's bonds. Three of the bondsmen have signed this request and it is thought three of the seven others will add their names. The bonds are for $120,000.

On Tuesday evening the Willamette Falls Camp of the Woodmen of the World of this city initiated seven new members. A committee was appointed at the last meeting to arrange for an observance of the first anniversary of the local camp which will occur about the 19th of August.

J. C. Arnold of Pendleton was confirmed as surveyor general of Oregon on Wednesday. As James Thorne of this city was a candidate for that position this will cut him out. It is to be hoped that being in Washington at the time of the appointment that he may have the promise of some other plum.

To Build the O. P. Road.

The Toledo Leader unfolds the following plan for the extension of the Oregon Pacific over the Cascades into Eastern Oregon. It says:
 "Representative John Daly is at work upon a scheme to open up a road to Prineville and Eastern Oregon. His idea is to construct the Oregon Pacific 16 miles further into the mountains and then it will only take 10 miles of wagon road to be built to connect with a good wagon road to Prineville. The first twelve miles of railroad necessary to construct is already graded, and is ready for the ties and iron, and the former are already on the ground. The latter four miles would have to be graded, but there is a good grading outfit on the ground to do the work. If this stretch of sixteen miles of proposed road can be gotten from out of the Oregon Pacific muddle, there are men with money ready to construct it and put it in operation. Of course, at this time the scheme is in its inception and nothing may come of it. The benefits to be derived would be manifold. It would bring Prineville within fifty miles of a railroad and shipping now goes to The Dalles 136 miles away. It can be readily seen that the whole trade of the basin of Eastern Oregon would come over the Oregon Pacific. One can scarcely realize the immensity of this trade. The wool shipments alone that would come over the road is asserted by some to be so great that it would keep a steamer busy between Yaquina and San Francisco. The construction of this short link of sixteen miles would complete a chain that would place the Oregon Pacific and tributary country on its feet. We sincerely hope for the success of the enterprise."

School Picnic.

The pupils of the New Era school, accompanied by some of the parents, spent a most delightful day at Castle Kehm, the guest of their teacher, Nettie A. Olds. Judge Smith and wife had made arrangements for the reception of the pupils, and the day spent at their home will not soon be forgotten. A fine lunch was spread beneath the beautiful trees, and the day was spent in fishing, sailing, playing games, and following the winding trails which make the place so attractive. Miss Olds' school closed on the 7th instant.

There was a meeting of the Fourth of July committee on Monday afternoon at which it was voted to transfer to the use of the firemen at the coming tournament the money not used for the celebration. This amounts to about $120 but it will not be turned over for a month yet so that if any bills have been overlooked they may be met.

On account of low water on the upper river the Altona which has been running from Portland to Independence has been taken off of the route and will be overhauled before she is placed on the Oregon City run to take the place of the Ramona which will then be overhauled.

Mrs. I. Selling accompanied by Miss Alice Ackerman and Mrs. C. H. L. Burmeister left for Newport on Wednesday intending to enjoy a rest at the seaside.
