Mrs. E. J. Garrow and family and Ed. Baxter and family returned on Wednesday from a camping trip up the Clackamas.
 Miss Florence Brownell, of this city, is a guest of the family of A. N. Wright, of Portland, who are camping on the lower Columbia river.

Dr. Geo. Parish of Macedonia, Iowa, was in the city yesterday, the guest of County Clerk Horton who was an old Iowa friend of the doctor.
 Kimball organs are admitted to be the sweetest toned and most durable organ made. See Burmeister & Andresen about prices and terms.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Dresser and Mrs. Rachel Baird and family are camped at the spring below Gladstone, where they are enjoying a pleasant outing.
 Miss Sarah Cameron one of the Seattle teachers was here the first of the week the guest of H. S. Strange with whom she taught in La Grande.

Prof. E. W. Pringle writes he will be in Broadhead, Wisconsin, schools the coming year where he has a pleasant and in every way a desirable position.
 John Cross was thrown from a horse on Wednesday at Gladstone and for a time it was feared that he was seriously hurt as he was a long time unconscious.

Mit Cross, Paul Prager, John Cross, Chas. Smith and Ed. Bolds constituted a hunting and fishing party that started for the head waters of the Clackamas on Thursday.
 Wm. Lankins, who has been visiting in the western states the past year returned last week pleased to get back to Oregon. He says that this county is away ahead of everything back there.

Patronize home institutions, buy your groceries of Marr & Robertson. Every thing in the line of fancy or staple groceries. Orders called for and delivered. "Wonders of the World's Fair" free of expense. Every purchase of $3.50 secures one portfolio.

That Oregon City is to have a hospital is perhaps not generally known, yet such we are informed is the case and the best of it is that the ladies who are founding it are well known as nurses of the best ability. It is to be located at Gladstone adjacent to the electric line near the Clackamas river in a pleasant locality. The promoters of this enterprise are Miss M. E. Libker and Miss J. Utter both graduates of the German hospital as nurses. They are now having their building fitted up with all modern appliances and will soon be ready to receive patients. As Clackamas county annually pays to the Portland hospitals a good round sum for the care of patients it can now help a worthy institution and besides leaving the money at home secure better care for patients.

J. W. Grout, J. A. Buck, E. Rechner and S. Marrs, of this city, and Mr. Huffman, of Eagle Creek, returned Saturday evening from a trip to the mountains. They went three weeks ago up the Molalla to its head waters, then passed along the summit of the Cascades for some distance and descended the Santiam. They were on the lookout for mineral, but though they found some prospects there was no discovery of color to cause them to take a claim. Several mining parties were passed while they were out, but none of them seemed to be striking it rich.

The superior ability of white men is shown in the garden business which a few years ago was entirely in the hands of the Chinese. On the hill back of Canemah F. R. Andrews has one of the neatest gardens in the state, which he has named "Maplewood Gardens." There, may always be found the choicest and most succulent vegetables because he has introduced a system of irrigation which keeps the garden even and constantly watered. It is the best way in the world to raise vegetables as his customers have found out to their pleasure.

Clackamas county is recognized everywhere as one of the finest if not the best stock county in the valley and its fine beef animals are everywhere renowned. Knowing this the well-known butchering firm of Petzold & Gale, the Seventh street butchers, make a specialty of selecting from the best animals in the county such stock as will enable them to keep only the very best meats, which they sell at the lowest living prices. Their customers are always certain of finding the best of everything in the meat line at their shop.

D. F. May and family and R. E. Roberts and family returned from a three weeks camping expedition on the upper Molalla the first of the week and report an exceedingly pleasant time. One evening while out they invited neighboring campers in, and had a camp fire and candy pull. Good time! You may be assured that it was way up.

Home-made bread is recognized as the very best at all times and the customers of J. Egle the Shively building baker assert that they can not tell the difference between his bread and that made at home unless it be that his is just a little the better. But don't tell your wife that.

During the past week the Western Union has had men in the city putting in a system of electric clocks which, besides being connected with the Lick Observatory and showing the correct time, are self-winders. They will be a great convenience.

Superintendent H. S. Gibson was agreeably surprised the last day of the institute when his teachers called him up and presented him with an elegant watch, charm and chain as a token of their esteem. The watch is a beauty and Mr. Gibson is justly proud of it.

At Willamette Falls the water mains, sewer pipes and electric wires are now all in place so that residents there are about ready to live. They are connected to town by telephone so they are about as good as in the city.

O. E. A. Freytag still complains that he is being rushed to death to supply customers with vegetables. This week he has been unable to supply all the fresh sweet corn required so great was the demand.
 Geo. H. Webster, of Clackamas, was in town Monday on business. He is just building a new dry house to use in converting his prairie crop into a marketable article.

Oswego's Future.

Under the head of "A Bright Future" the Ironworker says: "Oswego has as bright a future as any town in the Northwest, will soon be bristling with activity if only part that is promised comes true. The prospects of this town are even brighter than Oregon City, notwithstanding the spurt now being enjoyed at the county seat. While Oregon City will be but a station furnishing electric power, Oswego will have the advantage shortly of being one of the manufacturing sites utilizing that power and in direct communication with the Pacific. In a comparatively brief period the deepening of the channel between here and Portland will enable ocean vessels to anchor at Oswego. This fact will be quickly recognized by manufacturers, who will on account of this beneficial navigation, establish plants here, and especially so as they can secure electric power at Oswego as at Oregon City, where ships cannot reach. In Portland sites cannot be so readily obtained as at Oswego, which is really a suburb of the metropolis, it being understood that that which helps Oswego helps Portland. The power now passes through Oswego and the deepening of the channel in the Willamette, a certainty, and factories are all that are necessary for the fulfillment of a brilliant prophecy.

The Teachers Resolve.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the teachers of Clackamas county at the close of their annual institute last Friday:
 We, the teachers of Clackamas county, realizing our obligations to those who have made our institute so pleasant and profitable, do hereby pass the following resolutions of thanks:
 First—To Professor H. S. Gibson, our efficient county superintendent, for his thoughtful attention to our needs as teachers.
 Second—To Professor J. H. Ackerman for his capable presentation of methods in history, geography, physiology and grammar.
 Third—To Professor D. A. Grout for his able exposition of advanced methods in reading and mathematics.
 Fourth—To Professor H. S. Strange, for his valuable instructions in orthography and theory.
 Fifth—To Rev. G. W. Giboney and Superintendent J. H. Stanley for their kind words of encouragement in the interest of the public schools.
 Sixth—To President J. M. Bloss, of Corvallis, for his eloquent and instructive lecture.
 Adopted August 7, 1894.

It is stated that the teachers of this county who were undergoing examination for certificates were exceedingly gratified on Thursday morning when they discovered in the Oregonian a full list of the question for examination in six of the branches. What made the list more acceptable to them was the fact that they had not written up a single set of those printed.

The room recently vacated by Mrs. Sladen is being neatly refitted for a shoe store and will be occupied as soon as ready by A. Coles with a fine assortment of the best goods obtainable.

Marriage licenses have been issued during the week to Cora B. Harding and A. J. Lewthwaite, Sarah Ellen Jackson and Thos. Spurlin, Ruth Buckner and E. G. Hornschuch.

That cabbage patch which E. P. Rands is so proud of is turning out some fine saur-kraut heads, some of which weigh twenty pounds thus early in the season.

There will be no preaching services at the Presbyterian church for the next two Sundays as Rev. G. Wm. Giboney is taking a short vacation.

Applied Electricity.

Both the electric omnibus and the electrical parcels van have been running in the streets of London for several weeks and have attracted a great deal of attention. They roll along steadily and easily and thread their way among the mass of cabs, omnibuses and trucks with a nicety that excites general admiration. They are under perfect control, and run at different speeds as the circumstances warrant. In a clear stretch of street they go at a pace of ten miles an hour, though this is not the limit of their speed. The horses seem not to mind the electric vehicles at all. The bus can carry twenty-six passengers, ten on aside in the interior and six on a cross seat on the roof. The two sets of storage batteries which furnish the power are carried one under each seat and the motor is in a box slung between the rear wheels to which the power is applied. The batteries weigh about 1800 pounds each. The bus itself weighs about two and one-quarter tons, and when fully loaded with passengers it is calculated to weigh in all a little over six tons. In the estimates which the inventor has prepared for the company formed to operate a line of these omnibuses, it is stated that the cost of operation would be less than six cents per car mile. The present cost of operating such an omnibus by horse traction is stated to be about ten cents per car mile. The inventor says his omnibus could easily make an average of 380 miles per week the figures being given for a special route over which it is proposed to run the vehicles in London. The weight of the electrical vehicles will be great, but the tires of the wheels will be broad. Wood or other noiseless pavements may become universal, and the tremendous volume of street noise which now afflicts the public may be almost wholly abated. Pneumatic tires for electric vehicles are a probability.

G. J. Trullinger, of Union Mills, was in the city Wednesday. He says that his mill has already begun work on new wheat and that the quality is very good, though the yield is proving a little lighter than was expected.

Fresh candy is always much nicer than stale imported stock and the Novelty candy works attribute to that fact their unprecedented success and the great demand for their fine candies.

Judge Meldrum and family left on Monday for their ranch beyond Summit Prairie where they will spend a few weeks resting and fishing.

The first of the week J. L. Swafford had the misfortune to lose a fine cow for which he would not have taken $60.
