THE DAIRY

A WORLD'S FAIR GUERNSEY.

Call For Improvement and Development In This Dairy Breed.

It was often said during the Columbian exposition that if half the attention had previously been paid to the Guernsey cows that the Jerseys have been receiving for the past 20 years in America, the Guernseys would have made a grand showing at the fair, and the Jerseys would not have had things so much their own way. Very well, then, there are more world's fairs. There are county fairs and state fairs every year. If the Guernsey breeders think their cows better than the Jerseys, then let them go in and develop the red and white Channel Island cow for all there is in her.

A stockman and dairyman who has looked into the matter says the Guernseys as a breed have certain defects, showing them to be not yet fully developed.

GUERNSEY COW PURITY.

Guernsey enthusiasts would not of course admit that their pets have any defects at all, but they can at least learn what defects other people think the cows have. The stockman and dairyman declares that Guernsey cows lack vitality. Next, they have defective udders, one sided, with crooked teats or teats too small and difficult to get the milk out of. The udder is sometimes not large enough. Finally, they do not give as much milk as they ought to, considering how large they are. But, on the other hand, Guernsey enthusiasts declare that they make excellent, sizeable beeves. Perhaps that is the reason they do not give such a quantity of milk.

At any rate, whatever the defects in the Guernsey breed, these defects can every one be bred out of them, as the defects of the Jersey breed have been. It has been suggested that an admixture of Ayrshire blood would be beneficial. Even 10 years would do much in that direction, when undertaken with intelligence and zeal. Here is an admirable field for the enterprise of some rich man who would help American farmers and dairymen and win enviable fame for himself, as ex-Vice President Morton is doing. At any rate, whatever the defects of the Guernseys, they do not seem to be shared by the cow Purity, shown in the illustration. Purity was one of the premium best five cows at the World's fair and is a New York Guernsey.

Goos In For Sterilizing.

Mr. G. B. Lawson of Grinnell based his arguments in favor of sterilizing milk and cream upon the two facts that souring of milk is due to bacteria, and that heat will kill the bacteria. As to the method, he said it should be heated in open pans and constantly stirred so it will not have a cooked taste. He thinks milk would be much improved by running it through a separator without creaming it, the object being to purge out impurities. He showed a method by which creamerymen can run private milkmen out of the business, or rather absorb their business as they do that of the home churner. It is by sterilizing milk and shipping it to the city market.

The cows can be milked in the morning, the milk taken to the creamery and sterilized before noon and shipped next morning. This would take that trade out of the hands of private dairymen, the creamery doing the work by wholesale.

In sterilizing cream equally marked advantages are gained. One quart of sterilized cream is worth two quarts of unsterilized cream for the manufacturer of ice cream. Ice cream makers say that it "swells" in making up. Cream is better for this purpose when 24 hours old than when fresh, and he has kept it from Tuesday until Friday and found it in prime condition.

Butter made from sterilized cream has brought him a cent a pound above the highest quotations. He sent some to the World's fair and it scored as follows: Flavor, 43; grain, 25; color, 15; salting, 10; package, 5; total, 97—being three points off in flavor, otherwise perfect. This is convincing proof that sterilizing does not hurt the grain nor destroy the flavor, for it was still marked high.

Mr. Lawson's paper called attention to the fact that a starter must always be added to sterilized cream to ripen it, as the bacteria have been destroyed by the heat. He is satisfied that thousands of dollars would be added to the value of Iowa butter by sterilizing cream.—Address Reported in Creamery Journal.

The Winter Cow.

A writer thus describes the cow for winter dairying: She should come in fresh Nov. 1, should be from 1 to 9 years old and weigh anywhere from 1,000 to 1,800 pounds. She must be a hearty feeder, with barrel rib, giving plenty of room for breathing and digestion, must also have a large udder and full, round teats. Her daily yield of milk should not be less than 30 to 60 pounds, and that milk should make from 1 to 2-1/2 pounds of butter a day for nine months at a stretch.

The World's Fair Dairy Test.

The Breeder's Gazette says of the World's fair dairy test: The Jerseys sweep everything. They have 18 out of the first 25 places. And, finally, it remains to be stated that as a result of the Columbian dairy test the 14 pounds a week cow is worth a great deal more than she was before the test was instituted.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nervous system that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorders which they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., L. L. B., the highest celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nerveine is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerveine is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. Restorative Nerveine positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.
