To Meet the Times.

The subscription price for the ENTERPRISE has been reduced to $1.50 per year; seventy-five cents for six months. This low price is made in order to get the list on a cash basis and induce all subscribers to pay up, and especially to prevent dead beats from taking the paper and not paying for it by reason of their being law proof. Reduced price will only commence with date of renewal.

This makes the ENTERPRISE the cheapest paper in Clackamas county—eight pages all home print and full of live local news.

D. B. Rees & Co., the new Oregon City merchants, make their introduction this week to the public through the columns of the ENTERPRISE. They have the goods and the energy and accommodation to guarantee a success of their venture in our city.

Mr. C. H. Albertson, of Portland, has rented the house on Main between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets belonging to Hon. L. T. Barin, and is having various improvements made with the intention of opening a private boarding house. He intends to open about the first of next month.

A runaway team belonging to Mayor Straight was the cause of a lively scene on Main street last Saturday, by upsetting the wagon and throwing the driver and contents into the street. After running for six blocks the horses were stopped before any serious damage was done.

Hon. Owen Wade has been nominated by the republicans of Napa county, Cal., for state senator at the recent convention held in that county. Mr. Wade was a former resident of this city and among other positions held that of register in the land office here. The host of friends he has among the old settlers here are pleased to hear of the new honors that have been conferred on him.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

What is Being Done in Oregon City in the Building Line.

The cottage being built on the corner of Ninth and Van Buren streets for Howell brothers is now so far completed as to be ready for the painters.

Wm. Aldrich has just completed his cottage at the head of Seventh street. It will be occupied by Deputy Sheriff Nathan Moody.

The Oregon City Sash & Door Factory were delivering the mill work Monday to Willamette Falls for the Capen Shoe Co.'s building.

Willamette Falls is to have its first store shortly, J. Baldorf having let the contract to Jones & Peckover for the construction of a two story frame building. It will be on Ninth street adjoining the electric car line. The upper story will be fitted up for a public hall while the lower story will be occupied by Mr. Baldorf, who will at the earliest date possible put in a stock of general merchandise and will doubtless build up a good trade in that thriving addition to our city.

The cottage of O. F. Oisen, head electrician in the P. G. E. Co.'s station "A" under course of erection at Willamette Falls is rapidly nearing completion. It will be supplied with hot and cold water and other conveniences and will be one of the most attractive and comfortable residences in Oregon City.

Ex-Sheriff Ganong will have one of the most comfortable residences in the vicinity of Oregon City when the improvements now being made on his residence are completed. He is having quite a large addition built on and the house entirely remodeled to put all in modern conveniences.

The Excelsior company of this city shipped a car load of excelsior to Los Angeles last week. The company is receiving a large amount of cotton wood by rail from up the valley and Supt. A. W. Howard was out on the Molalla the first of the week making other wood contracts.

Capt. Wm. Smith, of Park Place, has just completed and is preparing to occupy his new residence at that place. It is a nine-room two-story house with basement, all finely finished. It presents a very fine appearance which will add much to the looks of Park Place.

White Bros. are preparing the plans for an eleven-room cottage for A. W. Schwan, to be erected in Willamette Falls. It will be one of the most attractive looking houses in that part of the city.

Work is being pushed at a rapid rate on the building for the Capen shoe factory. Murray & Morrison, the contractors, have a large force of carpenters at work and have the frame work up and nearly enclosed. It is expected the building will be completed in two weeks. The machinery consisting of three car loads is expected to arrive here some time next week, when the work of setting it and of insulating the electric motors for power will be crowded right along. The factory is located at the intersection of Twelfth street with the electric line in Willamette Falls and is most advantageously situated both for handling the freight as well as to the homes of the operators.

Jno. Kelley has completed his neat one-story cottage at Green Point and moved into it the first of last week.

J. M. Taylor has bought the home of Arnold Gregerson at Green Point and is adding two more rooms and a front porch. Mr. Taylor will occupy it when completed.

Henry Vonderahe has a $900 cottage under way in the eastern part of the city and when completed will present a very neat appearance.

A. T. Howland, of Mt. Pleasant, is hauling brick for a large cellar to be erected under his house.

The bids were opened and the contract awarded Tuesday for the construction of a seven-room cottage which Rev. G. Wm. Giboney will have erected on Jefferson street just back of the Presbyterian church. The following is a list of the bids submitted: White Bros, $684. A. W. France and T. S. Lawrence $714. G. R. H. Miller and Ben Barclay $815. E. C. Scott $569. Geo. Zimserling $814. Baxter Bros. $634. John Horn $645. Harley Wishart $619. Owing to an error in the lowest bidder's figures the contract has not as yet been awarded.

James Currin has a six-room cottage well under way on Molalla avenue, and will have it completed shortly. D. G. Frost has charge of the work.

Wishart & Horn are building a one-story house at the head of Seventh street for Chas. Hickman.

M. L. Lewis laid the foundation this week for a cottage on the west side. It will contain six rooms and be a comfortable little home.

Jas. Roake, proprietor of the Oregon City Iron Works, has been making some substantial improvements of late on his works. He has put in a railroad, track from the dock on the river to his shop and put in a traveling crane capable of carrying 20,000 pounds to transfer material from the car to the shop. The car is hauled up by a steel cable operated from the engine in the shops. He has also refined the cupola and enlarged the moulding facilities in the casting department. Mr. Roake has been at work for some days planing the girders for the new electric station. As they weigh 3,000 pounds a piece it is no small job. The Oregon City Iron Works is an establishment that is a credit to our city and Mr. Roake is to be commended for the confidence he has in Oregon City's future growth to put in so extensive a plant.

E. E. Charman is having that part of Ninth street adjoining his residence property graded down to the proper level and will have it graded in good shape. Such public spirit is to be commended as this work will greatly add to the appearance of the street as well as be a permanent improvement to the town.

The handsome residence of L. G. Burnett, manager of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Co.'s mills, is rapidly nearing completion. It will contain ten rooms and has all the conveniences of the most comfortable of modern dwellings. The lower floors will be of hard-wood, waxed and polished, and the inside finishing of curly maple and oak, finished in oil. The total cost of the building will be about $5,000. The location is one of the most sightly in the city and commands a fine view of the falls, factories and main part of the city.

Preparations for the erection of the Barclay block on the corner of Main and Seventh streets is being actively made. The grading and excavation are being done by Sam Godfrey, Joe and Ed Baldorf and Henry Gilbert, who pooled on the job and are doing the work for 12 1/2 cents per square yard. The earth removed will be used to fill up the lower end of the lot on Water street. That part of Seventh street adjoining the lot will be graded down to a level with Main street. W. A. Tompkins, one of the architects, came up from Portland Thursday and was busy at the hour the ENTERPRISE went to press looking over the bids. The award will probably be made Saturday or Monday. The brick and carpenter work will be let in separate contracts.

The work of rebuilding and adding to the Presbyterian church is being pushed. The addition put on will give an auditorium 40x60 and a session room 11x11 feet. The roof of the old building has been raised so as to conform to the new part, thus giving the building an imposing appearance and at the same time adding to the comfort of the auditorium by making the ceiling a good height. The building will be lighted by electricity. It will be a handsome edifice when completed and reflects credit on White Bros. the architects. Contractor Scott expects to have it completed and ready for occupancy by the first of October. The total cost of the improvements will be over $1000. The Presbyterian people with their pastor, Rev. G. W. Giboney are to be congratulated on the prosperity of their church and their efforts to keep pace with the growth of Oregon City.

The brick foundation for the addition to the Baptist church was completed last Saturday by the contractor, P. G. Wells. Monday G. R. H. Miller, who has the contract for the wood work, and who, by the way, built the old Baptist church in 1872, commenced with a force of men at the erection of the addition and of the remodeling of the old building. The addition is to be put on the north side of the present building and will give the church the shape of an L. In the angle of the building a vestibule will be built containing an entrance to the lecture room and a stairway both to the basement and auditorium above. The present belfry will be removed and a handsome tower 84 feet high will be built on the corner of the old building next to Ninth street. In the tower will be another entrance to both the lecture room and auditorium. The basement will contain the furnace and wood room and a nicely furnished gentlemen's toilet. The first floor will contain a lecture room 43x50 feet with sliding partitions for Sunday school purposes. On this floor will be a kitchen provided with all necessaries for giving socials and a ladies dressing room. The second story will contain the auditorium 43x55 feet and two class rooms and the baptistry. The pulpit will be situated in the middle of the back side and the seats will be arranged in a semi-circle. In the tower on this floor will be a study for the pastor 12x13 feet. A hall and cloak room 10 1/2 x 20 will connect the stairway in the tower with the one in the vestibule, and from which the entrances to the auditorium will be. The building will be lighted throughout with electricity and will be one of the best arranged and most comfortable church edifices in Oregon City, and reflects credit on the architects, White Bros. The total cost will about $8000 and our Baptist friends will be able to boast of one of the handsomest churches in the state.

Dissolution Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the firm of Maple & Ray, general blacksmiths, has been dissolved. The business will be continued by Mr. Maple, who will assume all obligations of the late firm.

W. S. MAPLE, F. H. RAY.

OREGON CITY, Sept. 16, 1894.

Brick! Brick!!

Jas. Hammett, of Newberg, will deliver brick to any part of Oregon City in large or small quantities at the lowest price. First class brick guaranteed. Write for terms.

Among the farmers who were in town Monday was J. S. Gill of Logan. Mr. Gill is a farmer of progressive ideas and believes in putting them into practice. He is diversifying the crops on his farm to as great an extent as possible and has now added buckwheat to his productions. He raised a number of bushels of that grain this season of extra fine quality. Before marketing he took it to the Viola flooring mills, the millers of which are said to be experts in the handling of buckwheat, and had it ground into flour. On bringing it to Oregon City he had no difficulty in finding a market, E. E. Williams, the grocer, taking all he had at a price that realized a good profit to Mr. Gill. When more of our farmers diversify their crops there will be less growling about farming not paying.

Last Tuesday evening J. W. Noble received word that his wife's brother, Sherman Ford, of Sherwood, was very sick and dying. Mrs. Noble at the time was visiting with relatives near Marquam and to get her home and to the bedside of her brother was the task for Mr. Noble to perform. He immediately hitched up his buggy and drove to where she was that night, making the round trip of forty-two miles by daylight when they arrived back in Oregon City and changed teams and left at once for Sherwood, a drive of twelve miles. On their arrival at Mr. Ford's home they found him slightly better with fair prospects of recovering from a very severe attack of typhoid fever. Mr. and Mrs. Noble arrived back in the city Sunday.

The September Midland Monthly (Des Moines), comes laden with good things. Elaine Goodale Eastman, the poet, whose career among the Indians is itself a romance, has an intensely interesting story, "A Hasty Conclusion." Director Sage, of the Weather Service, answers the conundrum, "Do Battles Bring Rain?" Mr. McCown's "Mundunderstood Man" is Professor Herron, of Grinnell, whom Governor Crouse attacked at the Nebraska Chautauqua. "Cycling in the Rockies" will interest all cyclists and would-be cyclists. "A Typical Midland Convention" will interest all. Dozens of portraits and many fine views enrich the number. Among the new contributors are Ella Hamilton Durliv, of the Des Moines News, and Julien Richards, of the Chicago Tribune.

W. L. Hankins, a younger brother of T. B. Hankins, while working with their steam wood saw last Friday met with a severe accident and came near losing his right hand. He was passing wood to the sawyer when some of the sticks tumbled down knocking him against the saw which penetrated his hand just back of the knuckle of the little finger completely severing the bone and cutting the back of the hand nearly to the bones of the other fingers. Dr. Powell dressed the wound and has every hope of saving the finger though possibly with a stiff joint.

Henry Nachan, who for the past year has been living in Wasco county came home last week for a visit. He is greatly improved in health and expects to return to Oregon City another year to reside. The wheat crop he states to be enormous in that part of the state but the farmer can only realize about 30 cents on the bushel after hauling it to market many of them from a distance of thirty to fifty miles. The stock market has also gone up, horses being sold for what purchasers are disposed to give.

One wheelman towing another was a novel sight witnessed on Main street Sunday. A party of wheelmen had ridden up from Portland and one of them had broke a pedal off his wheel thus disabling it so that he could not keep up with the others. Rather than leave him behind one of his companions procured a rope and rigged up a tow line and towed the cripple along as though that was a part of the day's sport.

Dr. Hickey, whose office is in Charman Bros' block, is having most flattering success in his dental work. He is building up a practice far in excess of his expectations and is rapidly making friends by his thorough work and reasonable price. With so skillful a dentist as he is in our town there is no occasion to go to Portland for that class of work.

A. S. Pence, formerly night agent for the Southern Pacific at this place, was recently married to a Miss Applegate of Eugene, and has been given the position of agent at Drains. His bride is said to be a very estimable lady and one of Eugene's best, and his many friends in Oregon City congratulate Mr. Pence both on his successful matrimonial venture and his merited promotion.

The firm of Maple & Ray has been dissolved, Mr. Ray having retired. Mr. Maple will continue to make the anvil ring at the old stand, while Mr. Ray has taken a position with the P. G. E. Co. on their new station.
