Death of a Pioneer.
DIED—In this city Saturday, September 29, 1894, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. Reddick, of heart disease, Mrs. Lois Cochran, at the age of 99 years.

The subject of this sketch came to Oregon, crossing the plains in 1832 with her first husband, J. H. Kerns, and settled in East Portland until the death of Mr. Kerns, who was accidentally killed in an explosion of a mine in Washington. Sometime later she married a Mr. Cochran who still survives her. Mrs. Cochran went to San Jose, California, last November thinking the change would benefit her, but as there was no change for the better she returned to Oregon about two weeks ago, during which time she has been confined to her bed at the home of her daughter. She gradually grew worse and death came to put an end to her sufferings at 5 o'clock Saturday morning. The deceased leaves five children, Wilbur Kerns and Mrs. Thos. Ward, of The Dalles, Mrs. Westervelt, of Portland, Mrs. R. Reddick, of this city and Elmer Kerns, of California. The remains were taken to Portland Saturday on the 3:30 car to the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. M. Westervelt, where the funeral services were held Sunday and the interment was in Lone Fir cemetery. Many beautiful floral pieces were sent by friends of the deceased as a token of the high esteem in which she was held in this city.

Hospital Notes.
The five patients now confined at the Oregon City Hospital are getting along in a very satisfactory manner. The patients are more than pleased with the care and attention they receive from the hospital attendants, while the physicians who have the patients in charge, pay the hospital management the compliment of carrying out their instructions closer and of being more attentive to the wants and needs of those under their care, than is to be had in the Portland hospitals.

Thos. Hamilton, the man whose leg was broken some time since while at work on the new paper mill, is doing fine and will have the full use of his leg in about three or four weeks.

Michael Welch, who had his ankle and leg crushed by a falling tree in a wood camp, is rapidly recovering from his injury and will have the entire use of his leg, to the surprise of both himself and friends.

Samuel Clark, who was operated upon some time since for the removal of a cancer from his face, is recovering from the operation in good shape with every indication that the cancerous growth is killed. His under lip and chin was affected so much that the doctor cut the flesh entirely away and built him up a new lip and chin by transposing strips of skin from his throat and face. The knitting of the pieces of skin has been perfect and other than a slight scar. Mr. Clark will have no reminder of his former affliction.

Fred Madison, who is under care for a broken collar bone, is almost a well man and will soon be able to resume his work.

John Morris, who was received last Saturday suffering from a broken leg, is doing nicely. The broken parts are knitting in good shape and other than a few weeks of detention, Johnny will be none the worse for his accident.

Latourette that a committee of three be appointed with instructions to draw up resolutions of respect to the memory of the said Hon. Septimus Huelat and to present them to the circuit and county courts of Clackamas county upon the first days of the next regular terms of said courts.
