Death of a Popular Minister—Spelling Schools Galore—Literary Society Reorganized—Other Notes.

LOGAN, Nov. 5.—Spelling schools are now the order of the day. Of the crowd gathered at Logan District No. 4 last Tuesday evening, Miss Matilda Reed and Mr. Robert Ginter proved themselves the best spellers.

Robert Ginter won honors at the spelling school at the Hatchery last Thursday evening. Miss Annie Mumpower, teacher of the school, introduced a pleasing variety to the spelling by a geography spelling game.

Two school ma'ams are evidently one too many for Jim; he was unhorsed Thursday evening.

The Logan literary and debating society was reorganized November 21 with President O. Robbins in the chair. Frank Hutchins was elected president, Tom Swales vice president, Madison Reed treasurer, and Miss Matilda Reed secretary.

"Passed through the gates ajar," as the death angel bore away the loving spirit of Rev. John M. Johnson at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, October 31.

Our pastor suffered but a few weeks with typhoid fever, when the summons which he expected, came. We mourn a loving friend and upright citizen, yet rejoice in the finished, faithful life that has entered into rest and left a memory and example that will live in the hearts of men.

Rev. Hargreaves, of Springwater, delivered an excellent sermon at the Logan church Sunday morning.

Henry Babler and Tom Gallagher, with their families, are now enjoying life under their own roof trees.

Attrice Kirchem is enjoying health once more.

Some of the Logan boys had fine sport in some one's orchard Sunday.

Logan school, District No. 4, received some much needed repairs this week.

Miss Reed and Mr. Ginter dismissed school Friday on account of the funeral of Elder Johnson. Miss Reed held school Saturday. Miss Hampton visited the school and reports it in fine condition.

Mount Pleasant News. MOUNT PLEASANT, Nov. 5.—Miss Bessie Hamilton is suffering from oak poisoning.

Miss Minnie Jhoenke went to take charge of the school at Mt. Road last Sunday. Archie McCord has been down the Columbia a few days.

Carl Jhoenke's face bears witness that he has unwittingly come in contact with poison ivy.

Miss Blanche E. McCord has been quite sick during the past week.

Mrs. Maud Kyzajski and her little daughter Gladys went to their new home near Tualatin last Sunday week.

Morton Haynes and Homer Martin have been on a hunting expedition up the Willamette. They went as far as Salem in a row boat.

Miss Minnie Jhoenke gave a pleasant "five senses" party at her home Friday evening. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Jhoenke, Isaac McArthur, Emma Wilhelm, Nettie McCord, Alice McArthur, Lorena Lazelle, M. Haynes, G. McArthur, H. Martin, Carl Jhoenke, and Bert McArthur.

Mr. Hofer is building a neat cottage on his three acre lot.

Mr. Harrisberger, of Canemah, has built a barn and board fence on his five-acre place.

Mr. Finnegan, of Canemah, has seven acres neatly fenced. Mr. Foss has also a place adjoining.

The above-named parties purchased their property of Mr. A. S. Lawton, who, like Mr. Partlow, of Hazel Green, is helping the growth of our community by selling small parcels of land now and then.

Mr. Hamilton is plowing for Mr. Finnegan.

Mr. Wilhelm has rented his farming land to Mr. Hamilton for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Benj. Hendrickson visited the metropolis last Saturday.

Saturday evening a few friends gathered at Mr. Titus's home where they enjoyed a pleasant time at cards and in conversation.

MEADOW BROOK NEWS. MEADOW BROOK, Nov. 3.—A hunting party composed of "Doc" Pendleton, Frank M. Baker and Mr. Kelly are up on the headwaters of the Clackamas and Molalla rivers.

A. E. Clark, from east of the Blue mountains, passed through here last week with a band of large, well broken horses for sale.

John Dolan started to Portland today with a band of fat beefsteers.

S. A. Lane has been doing some ditching during the past week for Mrs. M. E. Wright.

The Sunday school at Wright's school house has been discontinued for the winter.

Sunday school every Sunday at Gorbett's school house at 1:30 A. M. followed by a union prayer meeting. All are cordially invited.

George Williams is pulling oak and ash grubs with his stump pulling machine for Charley Holman on the Meadow Brook farm. He has already grubbed about fifteen acres. As soon as he finishes his present contract he will grub for Mr. Fry in payment for a fine saddle horse he recently purchased of Mr. Fry. Geo. says his grubbing machine will grub as much in one day as twelve Chinamen can do by hand.

It is about time for the usual epidemic of road meetings, resolutions (on paper) and chronic growling, as the road through the timber is getting cut full of deep mud holes.

CARUS CLIPPINGS.

New Survey for the Molalla Road—A Pleasant Entertainment.

CARUS, Nov. 5.—Three road petitions have been in circulation the past week relating to the locating and putting on record the Molalla road. The wording of two of the petitions was unsatisfactory to the majority, but the last one circulated will probably pass muster.

J. J. Guyer left his plow in the field last Tuesday evening as usual. The next morning the plow was there but minus the double-trees. Mr. Guyer is probably the victim of a practical joke; a rather serious one, however, for a busy farmer, and no credit to the joker, or to the thief, if it prove to be the work of some light-fingered gentleman. (?)

John Stedman is building a fine two-story house on his ranche. Mr. Stedman is a rustler and his ranche shows great improvement since he took possession.

Miss Emma Bullard gave entertainment to a large company of young people from Carus and vicinity last Saturday evening. The time was passed in the enjoyment of social games. Cake and coffee were served at the close of the evening before the guests separated.

Jo Teasdale has gone to Oregon City today to attend his case on trial before the grand jury.

I. Inskip, A. O. Hayward, and other parties of Carus, went down to Canby last week to dispose of dried fruit in trade. They found a good market for the times and prices falling on new quotations. CALLA.

Eagle Creek Notes.

EAGLE CREEK, Nov. 6.—Married, Sunday, November 4, 1894, by W. J. Curran, J. P., at the residence of Mrs. Mica, the bride's mother, Halley F. Gibson and Marie C. Anderson.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of friends and relatives of the contracting parties, whose congratulations were numerous and sincere. At 4 P. M. all marched to the diningroom where a bountiful wedding feast was spread. The table fairly groaned under the weight of good things. After the dinner the elders of the party went home, but the young people remained until the wee sma' hours of the next day, spending the times in social games and conversation.

The debating society met and reorganized with J. Vancutrin president, Jas. Bell secretary, and J. Brackett treasurer. The question of debate was, Resolved, That education is more beneficial to mankind than money, and after a warm discussion the judge decided in favor of the affirmative. The question for next Saturday is, Resolved, That foreign emigration should be prohibited.

Misses Katie and Annie Johnson, of Portland, were out on a visit to their parents last week.

Fred Hofmeister is building himself a small house on his 40 acres. "Just wait awhile."

Charles Ballou, Bert Stafford and Miss Daisy Danvers were the guests Sunday of Miss Della Glover.

Born, to the wife of August Kruger, a baby girl. Gus is sorry it wasn't a boy. He wanted it to become a populist.

Dr. Simeon Smith, of Portland, is visiting his son, Hon. C. B. Smith.

Springwater Spray.

SPRINGWATER, Nov. 6.—Nothing strange this week. Cold weather is gradually making its appearance. Frost and ice one-half inch thick on standing water on the 3d and 4th.

The trouble that has been existing for some time between J. B. Lewis and C. C. Lewis in their mercantile relations was settled last week by arbitration. B. Tucker, H. Palmater and M. Warnick were the court of arbitration. J. R. Lewis takes charge of the store at Stony Point and C. C. Lewis the store at Springwater.

T. J. Snider and J. Tucker, of Beaverton, with their camping outfit, took up their winter quarters at the island camp on the Clackamas to trap and hunt this winter.

Joseph Roney, a brother of S. H. Roney, is very low with kidney trouble and his recovery is very doubtful. He is under the care of Dr. H. Smith.

Mrs. R. H. Hargraves is on the sick list. Rev. Jas. Hargraves and wife, of Gervais, are spending a few days with Richard Hargraves as they return from the Baptist convention at Portland.

Born to the wife of J. H. Roadman, on the 3d inst, a ten pound boy. Rev. Thomas, of the M. E. church South preached his first sermon on this circuit in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening at 7 P. M.

Smyrna Snacks.

SMYRNA, Nov. 5.—J. S. Yoder has stored a car load of potatoes at Woodburn. Rev. Merriman, assisted by Rev. McLain, of the U. B. church, have been holding a protracted meeting at the Sanson school house during the past week. The meetings are announced for the coming week also.

Miss Sadie Crocker is attending school at Woodburn. L. H. Yoder left for Salem last Friday to attend the Willamette University the remainder of the year. Miss Mable Schwartz will leave this week for the same place and devote the rest of the winter to the study of music. Miss Mable will be the sixth of the young people of the neighborhood who are away at school at different points in the valley. They are missed in the Sunday school, endeavor meetings and social gatherings of our neighborhood.

F. E. Taylor, W. H. and A. J. Yoder are busy at work on the extension of the wagon bridge across Rock creek near Marion Samson's.

Clark's Clippings.

CLARKS, Nov. 6.—John L. Gard will begin school in district 101 Monday. Every body is complaining about having had cold and sore throat in this community. Mr. Cran, a LaCamas merchant, was out MOLALLA MUSINGS. A Man Hurt—Religious Revival—Fall Wheat Looking Fine.

MOLALLA, Nov. 5.—Messrs. Robins & Son are closing out their stock of merchandise with the intention of retiring from business. Harless & Son have made some building addition about their mill.

Herman Bros. contemplate moving their sawmill on the main road in order to keep their dust from obstructing Bagby Creek.

Last Monday evening our butcher, N. P. Kayler, had the misfortune to get his right leg broken while attempting to mount a nervous horse, which wheeled and kicked him below the knee. Colvin Bagby came along, and found the sufferer by the roadside, who, by the way, tips the beam at 200 pounds. The butcher's assistant, a 130 pounder, had his coat off trying to shoulder his boss in vain. Dr. Leavitt was soon on the spot, and now has Norin resting quite well at R. J. Moore's.

Molalla seems to be the religious center lately, for all the prairie at least, judging from the way preaching has been going on. It is also rumored that our saloonist has concluded to close out his gin mill; not that he has become religious, but from a sense of right and justice to his neighbors. We wish him a more pleasant life out of the saloon, and being a very industrious man there is no doubt but what he will find plenty to do for the up building of the community.

Not much fall wheat has been sown to date, but what is sown is growing nicely.

Miss Elsie Daugherty is recovering from her severe spell of illness.

W. A. Shaver has the skeleton of his house up; his barn is up. The boys say he commenced at the comb to shingle and got down when he reached the eaves.

Agricultural College Notes.

CORVALLIS, Nov. 5th.—Last Saturday another of the inter-collegiate foot ball league games was played between the Oregon Agricultural College and the State University teams. The score made was Agricultural College 16, University 0. One significant fact is that no team has ever scored against the college team upon its own field, thus giving another proof of the statement that "Americans fight best while defending their own soil."

Rev. G. P. Irwin, state superintendent of schools, delivered a lecture yesterday in the college chapel. The object of Mr. Irwin's visit is to better acquaint himself with the workings of the college, as he becomes a regent upon taking the oath of office.

L. M. Leland has been chosen president of the Ciceronian literary society. A windmill has been erected near the green houses.

The battalion this year consists of three companies, A, B and C. Lyman B. Andrews is second sergeant, and Lester M. Leland second lieutenant of Company A; Lake Casto is fifth sergeant of Company C, and Levi Rusk, this being his first year, is a private in Company C.

Halloween was duly celebrated in Corvallis. A band of about eighty boys, uniformed with white caps, bliskened faces, and old clothes, made the rounds making the injury of gates, fences and sidewalks. It is to the credit of the Clackamas county boys that they remained in the dormitory.

The Salvation Army is doing the town, and will in future entertain the people with nocturnal outbursts of music. Those who have ever experienced dormitory life will appreciate the fact that the army choruses have been mastered by the occupants of the boarding halls and can be heard at all times excepting (?) study hours.

Borings Bulletin.

BORINGS, Nov. 5.—News is scarce in these parts. Nothing new going on. Perhaps it is an account of the good democratic times. We have no democrats or populists out here now since the last spring election. Perhaps their coffers are full and their riches untold.

Since we last wrote from this part we have had plenty of rain, making bad roads and lots of grumbling. We would advise the grumblers to travel less and work more on the roads. Under the old system of road work it was hard for supervisors to get their men to do good work. Under the present system of road labor they want all the money expended in front of their own premises. Perhaps the editor of the ENTERPRISE can give us a plan that will please some one. If he can we would like to hear from him.

Mrs. W. S. Wood, who has been the guest of Mrs. W. H. Boring during the past week, has returned to her home in Powell's Valley. W. H. Boring and wife have been visiting their son at University Park.

Mrs. Edgar Richey is visiting relatives in Portland.

The farmers of Borings have their fall work mostly done—potatoes dug, wheat sown, their apples picked, and are well along with their fall plowing. Ask 'em.

Damascus Items.

DAMASCUS, Nov. 6.—John Elliott has gone to Yaquina Bay to visit his uncle. There was a pleasant social gathering at the house of Mr. Boring last Wednesday evening, it being a birthday party for Mr. Richard Boring.

Rev. Johnson, formerly of this place, but later of Logan, died last Wednesday and was buried Friday.

Quite an interest is being taken in our literary and debating society. The next question to be discussed, Resolved, That capital punishment should be abolished, is a fair sample of the questions we intend to discuss. No time will be wasted on frivolous questions in Damascus.

Those neither absent nor tardy in the Damascus school for the past month, are Noah Rayer, Albert Wolfberger, Arnold Schmidt, Christine Denboer, Ella Fredolph, Pearl Hilleary, Mabel McMurry, Isabel Grimm, Josie Denboer, Millie Denboer, Emma Fagolda, John Greenwell, Edith Kingsbury.
