Wedding Bells—The usual fruit tree swindle—A Champion Speller.

DEEP CREEK, Nov. 19.—The marriage of Mrs. Esther Harrison and Elder Aaron Preston took place at the school house Sunday afternoon, November 17, Rev. John Bartlemay officiating. The groom is one of Oregon's well-to-do and respected pioneers. Having been in the ministry for a number of years everybody here knows Elder Preston. The bride is one of Deep Creek's respected and charming old ladies. The school room was nicely decorated for the occasion by D. F. Warner and his pupils. The day was everything that could have been wished for. Nearly three hundred were present from Damascus, Eagle Creek, Currinville and Garfield.

E. H. Burghardt of this place is at the county seat as a jurymen.

George Brown is building a fine barn.

Quite a number of our young folks attended the debate at Damascus last Wednesday evening, and reported a fine time.

The spelling school at this place last Friday night was a grand success. Guy White was the champion speller.

Some of the farmers in this neighborhood who purchased fruit trees from agents representing eastern nurseries, claim that the trees are not what they should be for the money.

The young folks of this place will attend the school entertainment at Eagle Creek next Saturday evening.

Mr. Bartlemay is selling oats to his neighbors for two bits a bushel.

When Harrison returned from Portland where he had been employed as musician in a minstrel show.

BARLOW NEWS.

A Creamery Company Organized—Neighborhood Notes—A Fatal Fall.

BARLOW, Nov. 21.—The farmers of this vicinity, together with the business men of the town, held a meeting yesterday to establish a creamery to be located in Barlow. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Barlow. It was decided to incorporate with a capital stock of $25,000, and to issue one hundred shares. About one-fourth of the shares were subscribed. The meeting then adjourned to next Saturday.

Mr. Honeycutt and wife left on the train last night for their old home in Texas.

C. U. Starlow was in Portland Monday.

R. L. Holman, of Oregon City, was seen on our streets one day last week.

All of the farmers of this vicinity have finished digging their potatoes.

H. Gilland, who lived three miles east of Canby, fell from the railroad trestle between here and Canby Saturday night. He was found by Mr. Wheeler Monday morning in the middle pier of the railroad bridge, dead. Coroner Holman was notified and held an inquest. The verdict of the jury was that H. Gilland came to his death by falling from a railroad trestle by some cause unknown.

Springwater Spray.

SPRINGWATER, Nov. 20.—The personal property of W. Lacey deceased was appraised on the 17th inst. There will be no sale as he made provision in his will for the settlement of all accounts.

D. C. Howell broke his chopper and it will cause him a trip to Portland for repairs.

The sick and crippled are improving. W. J. Lewellen is building a shed 70 feet long in connection with his hall.

C. H. Guttridge has removed a large number of his prune trees of the Silver variety and is re-planting with Italians. Mr. Guttridge has investigated the prune question from all sources and expects to cultivate them more profitably by experience. Persons who are starting in this line of industry would gain a great many pointers by visiting his orchard and large drier, the largest in the state. He has his crop on the market and will receive the top price.

Mr. Hargraves is getting along very nicely with his school here. The first quarter is out this week and he is holding examination this week.

The Toledo Weekly Blade.

Of the now nearly twenty-thousand publications in the United States, there are but two or three weekly newspapers published for general circulation in every state and territory, and of these the Toledo Weekly Blade is the best and most popular of them all. It is the oldest, best known and has the largest circulation. For more than twenty-five years it has been a regular visitor to every portion of the Union, and it is well-known at every one of the sixty thousand odd postoffices of the country. It is made especially for family reading. It gives the entire news of the world each week, in such condensed form as will save reading scores of pages of daily papers to get less information. Republican in politics, temperance in principle, always on the side of justice and right, and is just the paper for the rising generation, and a great educator for the whole family. Serial stories, wit and humor, short stories, household department, camp fire, question bureau, farm department, Sunday school and young folks, are a few of the many other prominent features of this great paper. A specimen copy will be mailed free to any address on application, and the publishers invite any person to send in a long list of addresses to whom they will mail sample copies. They would be glad to mail a couple of hundred specimens to readers of this country. The Weekly Blade is a very large paper, and the price is only one dollar a year, and the price is only one dollar a year. Address: The Blade, Toledo, Ohio.

A dollar saved is equal to two dollars earned. Pay up your subscription to the Enterprise and get the benefit of the reduction in price.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES

All notes for this column should be sent to Mrs. H. S. Gibson, editor, Oregon City, Oregon.

DISCIPLINE.

The distinction between the savage and the civilized man lies almost entirely in their sense of moral law. The savage feels no restraint of law, moral or civil, while the civilized man has been disciplined to follow certain fixed rules of conduct. This discipline, this civilizing process, is the training process which is received in the home and in the school room. An eminent scientist has said that the mental development from childhood to manhood is an epitome of the evolution of man from savagery to civilization. The boy then comes to school a semi-savage, his moral faculties have been only partially developed. The first step the teacher takes with the boy is to teach him to subject himself to certain laws and when these moral laws have been thoroughly ingrained, when a moral sense has been developed in the child-nature, the boy is disciplined. A far-reaching step has been made in his civilization in teaching him the necessity of a law-abiding life. Here is seen the importance of thorough discipline. "Young America" is by nature independent, hence when beginning to discipline him we must be careful. First secure his respect; let him feel your power. Control develops reverence. Firmness and kindness will quickly subject him to your laws. The secret of gaining a permanent control of a school lies in beginning aright. A good beginning insures a good ending. The teacher should begin with decision and firmness. Every step should be made in a business-like manner. To impress the pupil favorably, the teacher should begin as if he understands what he is doing. There must be no hesitancy, no indecision in manner. He should remember that pupils are the most merciless, unparrying critics and if a blunder is made he is severely condemned in the home. It is best to have the work of the first day mapped out beforehand. Every pupil immediately upon opening school should be set to work. Give the larger pupils a composition exercise, the smaller ones slate work. Classes should be called and lessons assigned as soon as possible. Make no long stereotyped list of rules. "Do right" is plain, precise and pointed. Every pupil will understand it. He has been taught the difference between right and wrong at home if his rearing has been as it should be. It is true in some cases the moral character has been abnormally distorted in some cases by the bad example of bad parents, but the most of pupils know what "do right" means.

(To be continued next week.)

Our debating society is progressing nicely. We intend to discuss the woman suffrage question on next Friday night.

Navigation Notes.

The rains of the past few days have caused a slight raise in the Willamette. The river bottom of late was getting too near the surface of the water for good boating and some of the larger boats have had great difficulty in getting over the bars in the upper river. The Willamette is the great freight rate equalizer of the Willamette valley and some of these days such pressure will be brought to bear on congress that an appropriation will be secured large enough to so improve it that it will be navigable at all seasons of the year without depending on the freshet.

The steamer Hasslo has been withdrawn from the Portland-Cascade route by the O. R. & N. Co. for the winter. The local traffic on this route will be left to the Tone and Hattie Belle independent boats.

The steamer G. W. Shaver has been placed on the Dayton route while the Hoag now runs to Salem. The difference in the draft of the steamers was the occasion of the change.

The whaleback steamer City of Everett which was recently launched at Everett is 361 feet long, 42 feet beam, 26 feet deep, with a carrying capacity of 4,800 tons. Its launching weight represents about 1,500 tons. The model of the steamer is between the Christopher Columbus and the freight boats built at Superior. The City of Everett complete will cost $375,000. It will take until Christmas to complete the boat. The Everett is the first work of the Pacific Coast plant to replace the Charles W. Wetmore, which was lost off Coos bay a few years ago. The new steamer is nearly 100 feet longer, has more than double the horsepower and 1700 more tonnage than the Wetmore. The Everett will probably go into the coal carrying trade between the sound and San Francisco.

Supervising Architect General Dornot, of the steamboat inspection service, in his annual report states that of the 600,000,000 or 700,000,000 people carried on steam vessels during the fiscal year, only ninety-six passengers lost their lives through casualties. During the same period 150 officers or persons employed on steam vessels were lost, an increase in the total over 1993 of twenty-seven. Nearly 11,000 boilers were inspected.

Overland Monthly.

From a purely artistic point of view the Christmas Overland Monthly is the most attractive number that has been issued under Mr. Wildman's management. The outside cover will be in gold, green and brown, on pure white. The famous old Overland Grizzly seems almost out of place in his modern setting. Mr. Wildman contributes a pathetic little Christmas story in his charming department—"As Talked in the Sanctum." It is in fact, other than the cover, the only distinctly Christmas feature, although a number of other contributions might be so classed.

Mr. Joaquin Miller's great masterpiece, "The Song of the Balboa Sea," grows in interest from month to month. It will be completed in the January number, and Mr. Paul's remarkable narrative of the doings of the "Vigilance Committee of '96" is brought to a close with this number.

Professor Anso's beautifully illustrated article of "Fencing on the Pacific Coast," cannot but be of more than passing interest to all lovers of the many art of self defense throughout the United States.

Under the caption, "The Decline of the Mission Indians," Messrs Scanland and E. P. Clark throw some light on the much mooted question.

As a chronicler of Pacific Coast history the Overland will begin a series of biographical sketches in this number on "Famous Californians of Other Days." The subjects treated in the first article are Senator Henry S. Foote, Gwin and Broderick, Doctor Durant and Colonel Jack Hayes.

Mr. Wildman has another Malayan sketch, "The Rivals," and Mr. Reed a story of Indian life in the Southwest. Mrs. E. S. Marshall is responsible for a timely article, well illustrated, on "Prickly Plants of California," and Charles S. Greene for a unique little poem, "Taking Toll."

Jones to Hotchkiss.

I'll be switched if that St. Louis Shoe Store does not take the cake. I have bought a good many shoes, but there is no store that can reach them. They are very polite and attentive and their trade seems to grow wonderfully. Opened four and one-half months ago and had to enlarge to double its former size. At this moment Mr. Jones produced list of their men's heavy shoes, all sizes, 95c to $1.75; men's boots $1.65 to $3.45; ladies' shoes, lace and button $1 to $1.75; ladies' latest kid $1.50 to $2.50; children's and misses' 75c to $1.50; men's dress shoes $1.25 to $4; boys' boots $1 to $1.50; babies' shoes, all sizes 25c each.

Then Mr. Hotchkiss cried out to his wife, "Mary Ann, get ready and let's go to town, but do not forget to mark down that order."

Square Type.

The thumb is an unfailing index of character. The Square Type indicates a strong will, great energy and firmness. "Close allied is the Spinalized Type, the thumb of those of advanced ideas and business ability. Both of these types belong to the boy man or woman; and Demorest's Family Magazine prepares especially for such persons a whole volume of material which is condensed in a small space, so that the record of the whole world's work for a month may be read in half an hour. The Clinical Type indicates refinement, culture, and a love of music, poetry, and fiction. A person with this type of thumb will thoroughly enjoy the literary attractions of Demorest's Magazine. The Artistic Type indicates a love of beauty and art, which will find pleasure in the magnificent illustrations of roses, 16 1/2 x 24 inches, reproduced from the original painting by De Longpre, the most celebrated of living flower-painters, which will be given to every subscriber to Demorest's Magazine for 1895. The cost of this superb work of art was $250.00, and the reproduction cannot be distinguished from the original. Besides this, an exquisite oil or water-color picture is published in each number of the Magazine, and the articles are so profusely and superbly illustrated that the Magazine is, in reality, a portfolio of art worth seeing to the student of art, and the lover of the beautiful. If you are unacquainted with a merit, send for a specimen copy free, and you will admit that Demorest's Magazine is in the way of saving money by finding in one magazine everything to satisfy the literary taste of a whole family.
