FRIDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1894.

LABORERS WILL GET THEIR PAY.—In the circuit court in Portland, Judge Stearns Monday modified the injunction in the case of the Portland Clay Company vs. Hamschaw & Behm so as to allow the payment of laborer's claims, amounting to $4000. Hamschaw & Behm submit the contract for improving Main street, in this city, with vitrified brick, from the American Bridge and Contract Company. The Portland Clay Company furnished the bricks and claims a balance of over $5000. Oregon City still owes on the work between $9000 and $10,000, and the Portland Clay Company had Judge Stearns enjoin the recorder of Oregon City from paying this money until the merits of their suits are determined by the court. The American Bridge and Contract Company also claims an interest in the money due Hamschaw & Behm, and is made party defendant in the suit as a consequence, and further because the Clay Company disputes the validity of the American Bridge & Contract Company's claim. Yesterday an effort was made by the interested parties to get the court to allow proceedings to dissolve all of the injunction. This was refused, and payment of the laborers only was agreed to. Most of these checks have been taken up by the merchants of this city in payment for goods furnished the working men while engaged on the work and the delay in payment has been a serious loss to them.

WEATHER FOR JANUARY.—The following data, compiled from the weather bureau records at Portland cover the period given for the month named, and should prove of value and interest in anticipating the more important meteorological elements, and the range within which such variations may be expected to keep for the coming month of January: The month of January for 22 years showed the following: Temperature—Mean or normal temperature, 38; the warmest month was that of 1891, with an average of 43; the coldest month was that of 1888, with an average of 29; the highest temperature was 2, on the 15th, 1888. Precipitation (rain and melted snow)—Average for the month, 7.50 inches; average number of days with .01 of an inch or more, 19; the greatest monthly precipitation was 13.71 inches in 1883; the least monthly precipitation was 2.12 inches in 1893; the greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any 24 consecutive hours was 6.86 inches on the 5th and 6th, 1883; the greatest amount of snowfall recorded in any 24 consecutive hours (record extending to winter of 1884-85 only) was 9 inches on January 30, 1890. Clouds and weather—Average number of clear days, 5; partly cloudy days, 7; cloudy days, 10. Wind—The prevailing winds have been from the south; the highest velocity of the wind was 53 miles, from the south, on the 19th, 1880.

CHILDREN'S DAY.—Saturday of this week has been designated as children's day at the Portland Exposition and by the public spirit of the Oregonian, children under 14 years of age in the state will be given a free pass to the exposition including all the side shows. It is expected that it will be the great day of the exposition and that the little folks will be out in force.

THE WAY TO GET FACTORIES.—The Eugene Register has the following to say of a new industry to be located in that place: We are in a fair way to have a box and basket factory established here. Three gentlemen from Tacoma have been looking over the field here for the location of such an enterprise and have decided to establish one here if they can receive the proper encouragement, and they ask but little in that way. The location selected is at Fairmount, on the banks of the mill race, Mr. Geo. M. Miller having donated land for that purpose. The amount of land required amounts in all to about five acres, which includes right of way for a side track from the railroad. They also ask for the free use of the mill race for the purpose of getting their water supply, running and storing logs, and for $350 to pay the freight on their machinery from Tacoma to this city. They guarantee work to at least fifty men, and from that number up to 200 at times. The proposition was submitted to the board of trade Thursday evening and was received favorably and steps will be taken at once to complete necessary arrangements to bring the enterprise here.

A BOYS' DEBATING CLUB.—Recently a debating society was organized in this city under the name of the Philanthropic Debating Club, for the purpose of giving the boys a chance to learn how to express themselves before an audience. The meetings take place every Friday evening in the Congregational church, and are open to the public. Dr. Ferrin is president and Amos Gard secretary of the society. The subject for debate at the last meeting was: "Resolved, That War Has Caused More Harm to Man than Intemperance in the Use of Liquor." The subject was ably discussed by Fred Meinle, Jacob Tompkins and Howard Brownell on the affirmative, and Charles Gilbert, Willie Lorus, Edgar Meresse, Chester Roake and Amos Gard on the negative. The judges decided the question in favor of the affirmative. The question for this Friday night is, "Resolved, That Foreign Immigration Be Absolutely Prohibited in Coming to the United States." The leaders are Jacob Mader on the affirmative and Edgar Meresse on the negative.

BY ELECTRIC POWER.—The Oregon City Iron Works, to keep up with the times and to prepare for the handling of a larger quantity of work, has set aside their steam power and put in an electric motor. By putting in electric power their work room is largely increased as the motor occupies a space no larger than a cook stove, while a whole section of the building had to be given to the boiler and engine. An important advantage is that the power is always on, day and night, with the repairs but a fraction of what they are in keeping up a steam plant. Mr. Roake has spent a large sum of money in properly fitting up the Oregon City Iron Works, and now has as complete a shop and foundry as can be found in the state outside of Portland.

Fortunes are lost annually, directly and indirectly, by people who cannot do their own figuring, write their own letters, or keep their own books; and who do not know when business and legal papers which they must handle every day are made out correctly. All these things, and much more, we teach thoroughly.

Hundreds of our graduates are in good positions, and there will be openings for hundreds more when times improve. Now is the time to prepare for them. Besides, a business education is worth all it costs, for one's own use. Send for our catalogue, to learn what and how we teach. Mailed free to any address.
