The members of the West Side Baptist mission presented Rev. Gilman Parker as a Christmas present a fine copy of Holman's self-pronouncing teachers bible. The gift was greatly appreciated by Rev. Parker as an evidence of the kindly feeling existing between himself and his parishioners.

The West Side Sunday school held a Christmas entertainment in the chapel on Christmas evening. There was a tree and confectionary and a program by the members of the school and an address by the Rev. Gilman Parker. It was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

Rev. Thos. Stephenson, of Omaha, Neb., will preach next Sunday morning and evening at the Baptist church. Rev. Stephenson is said to be a very bright and able pulpit orator and is well worth hearing. Rev. Gilman Parker will be present in the evening and assist in the Junior and young peoples meeting.

W. T. Shurtleff, mention of whose leaving town was made in the ENTERPRISE last week, has returned and squared up some little matters which he claims were all due to an oversight on his part. He now has his principal office in the Chamber of Commerce building in Portland, and has a branch office in this city with W. H. Borghardt, where he will continue the real estate business.

Married, in LaCamas, on Sunday, December 16, Miss Susie Golden, to Mr. Martin Mockley. The bride is the daughter of an old settler and well-to-do farmer residing near LaCamas, while the groom is a resident of this city and is an employe of the Willamette paper mills. The young couple immediately commenced housekeeping in a cottage on Fifth street.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATIONS.

How the Day Was Observed in Oregon City—A Day of Enjoyment.

Christmas passed off in a quiet manner in Oregon City. The day was most perfect, the air being clear and cool enough to be bracing. The business houses were nearly all closed and the day was observed more as a holiday than has been the custom heretofore. Many home gatherings and family reunions took place to make bright spots in the lives of the participants.

Christmas at St. Johns Catholic church was observed by special service during the day. At eight o'clock in the morning the first sermon was held, Rev. Father Hillebrand delivering the address in English. At nine a similar service was held for the German members the sermon being in that language. At 10:30 high mass was celebrated and a sermon in English was delivered by Father Hillebrand that was an able effort and highly appreciated by the congregation. Solemn vespers at 7:30 closed the day's exercises. The interior of the church edifice was handsomely decorated and presented a most attractive appearance. The attendance was unusually large every seat in the building being occupied.

The Presbyterian Sabbath school held its Christmas celebration Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. A few minutes were spent in listening to songs and recitations from the younger scholars. The principal feature of the entertainment was a magic lantern talk given by the Rev. W. S. Holt, of Portland. A choice selection of views from the Holy land, representing scenes and places in the life of Christ, was first thrown on the canvas. This was followed with a liberal supply of views from the Orient. Mr. Holt has rare gifts as an entertainer and held the attention of all from beginning to end. At the conclusion the usual treat of Christmas good things was made to the scholars. A general good time was had and the occasion will no doubt be long remembered.

The annual Sunday school treat took place in the M. E. church Christmas Eve—taking the form of a Christmas tree decked with boxes of candy for the scholars. A very interesting program was rendered by the school, Jonathan Humphreys, the superintendent presiding. There was a large and enthusiastic audience, all joining heartily in singing the Christmas songs for the occasion. A nut and candy collection was taken up for a sick boy and girl and the children responded in a most liberal manner.

Notwithstanding the incompleteness of their building the Baptist people had their church prepared for the reception of an audience and had a very pleasant Christmas gathering. A well loaded tree was a part of the program and contained candies and nuts for the children. Santa Claus himself, (C. Hoberg) and his deputy, (Willie Marshall) attended to the distribution of presents. A brief literary program was carried out consisting of songs, recitations and dialogues. A magic lantern show closed the evening's pleasures. The room was handsomely decorated with evergreen and presented a very attractive appearance. The attendance was fully up to the large gatherings always had in the Baptist church.

The Christmas services for St. Paul's church began with the celebration of the holy communion at 8 A. M. followed by the morning service at 10 A. M. In the evening the children of the Sunday school held a choral service at 5:30. A very pretty tree, beautifully trimmed, was placed near the pulpit. Each child, members of the Sunday school and visiting children were all remembered with candy, nuts, popcorn etc. The exercises for the evening opened with a few remarks by Rev. I. Dawson, rector of St. Paul's parish, which were followed by recitations, carols, etc. by the children.

The young people of the Congregational church together with their parents and friends celebrated Christmas in a most fitting manner at the church on Monday evening. A literary program of more than ordinary merit was prepared and carried out by the young people under whose management the exercises were conducted. The music was furnished by the Chautauqua Glee Club and was one of the most pleasing features of the entertainment. A tree beautifully decked with candles, ornaments and presents occupied a place on the platform and from its generous boughs each child in the house was made glad with a sack of candies and nuts.

The Christmas celebration of the Evangelical Lutheran congregation took place Monday evening at Shively's hall which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Owing to the absence of the pastor Rev. L. Grey, who was out of the city, the exercises were under the management of Mr. Chas. Horn, superintendent of the Sunday school who was ably assisted by Rev. Dr. Hertting, who conducted the musical part of the program. Addresses were made by both Supt. Horn and Dr. Hertting and each were well received. That of Dr. Hertting's was especially eloquent. The little ones were all remembered with an appropriate present.

The good people of Canemah had one of the most successful Christmas entertainments ever given in that place, Monday evening in the old school which was handsomely decorated for the occasion.

A splendid program was carried out after which candies and nuts were distributed to the young people.

Santa Claus did not forget the Oregon City Hospital in his rounds of making people glad. A handsome tree was provided for the patients and attendants and each was remembered by a gift. The ladies of the Methodist church in this city kindly remembered the hospital with a fine collection of fruits and vegetables for which the hospital management feels grateful and appreciates their good will. Among the other gifts was one from Mr. Geo. Hughes, the well known dealer in fireworks in Portland, of two fine invalid roller chairs. One, was of those used at the world's fair and cost when new $75. In addition to an invalid's chair it will make a fine ambulance to transfer patients from the electric car platform to the hospital. Through the efforts of the management and the kindness of friends the Oregon City hospital is getting to be fully equipped and a most pleasant and comfortable place for patients to remain in.

Our prices defy competition, McKittrick

Hospital Notes.

Chas. Gallogly whose ribs were broken and other hurts inflicted on him by an accident some time since at the new electric station has recovered so far that he was able to be removed to his home in Willamette Falls last Saturday. It will yet be some time before he can resume his work though he is convalescing in good shape.

Mr. C. Lemon, whose foot was amputated some time since is expected to be able to go to his home near Damascus the first of next week. The healing has been perfect and the surgeon in charge anticipates that Mr. Lemon will have no further trouble other than the inconvenience of the loss of the foot.

Wm Mink was taken to the hospital Monday to have a crushed hand treated. While working in the Willamette paper mill he attempted to assist the machine tender in his work when his hand was caught in the huge calender rollers and severely crushed. Had the machine not been stopped at once he would have lost his arm. Dr. Carl hopes to save the hand, though he may have to resort to skin grafting to prevent the hand from being deformed. Though the little fellow is but twelve years of age, he stands his misfortune like a soldier.

The Baptist Y. P. S. C. E.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Baptist church, held its annual meeting on Wednesday evening, with President A. S. Dresser in the chair, George W. Swopes being secretary protem. The reports from mission work was gratifying as to results, but showed a weakness in the working force numerically. The election of officers resulted as follows: president, Miss Mattie Gray; vice-president, Miss Sarah Roberts; secretary, Miss Alice Williams; treasurer, Ray Case; chairman devotional committee, H. E. Crose; chairman social committee, Mrs. Ida Donaldson; chairman lookout committee, Ed Beach.

A Great Snag.

For sale, 30.60 acres within one mile of Oregon City on Main road. 15 to 18 acres cleared, house and barn, mostly under fence, improvements worth $1,200, will be sold for $1,800, $1000 cash, balance on time if sold soon. C. H. Dyx.

The marriage took place Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Franklin. The ceremony was performed by Justice Dixon in his usual happy style. The bride is a bright, energetic young lady well worthy of the man she has chosen for a life partner, while the groom is a prosperous young farmer of Multnomah where he owns a fine farm and has a home ready for their occupancy. After the wedding ceremony an elegant dinner was served, followed by a social dance participated in by the guests and friends.

A meeting of the school board was held Wednesday evening at which Prof. McAdams of Salem was elected to the principalship of the Eastham school, made vacant by the resignation of Prof. Powell. Prof. McAdams comes well recommended as a teacher and scholar and it is to be expected that the Eastham school will be kept up to the high standard maintained by Prof. Powell.

Married, at the Cliff House in Oregon City, on Monday December 24, Mr. R. L. Coleman and Miss Luella Fryrear, Rev. W. H. McLain, officiating. The groom is a well known teacher of the county and is now in charge of the Oak Grove school near Macksburg, while the bride is a most estimable young lady and is the daughter of Mrs. Fred Klingler of Macksburg.

In the decline of life, infirmities beset us to which our youth and maturity were strangers, our kidneys and liver are subject to derangement, but nothing equals Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm as a regulator of these organs. For sale by C. Huntley, druggist. The fireman's ball Monday evening while not so largely attended as on former occasions, was a very pleasant affair and those who took part report a splendid time, having good music and lots of dances.

Persons who lead a life of exposure are subject to rheumatism, neuralgia and lumbago and will find a valuable remedy in Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment; it will banish pain and subdue inflammation. For sale by C. G. Huntley, druggist.

Navigation Notes. Capt. O. S. Waad well known as one of the most popular steamboat men on the Willamette is now running on The Dalles and Cascades route in connection with the steamer Regular.

The steamer Multnomah, built in Portland some years ago and which 5 years ago ran on the Oregon City and Portland route for a time, is now running on the Olympia-Tacoma-Seattle route and is said to be doing a good business.

The steamer Salem came up Sunday to go on the Yamhill river route for the O. R. & N. Co., to take the place of the Hattie Belle, which has again gone on the Washougal route. The old Salem has had a new hull put under her, and is now one of the lightest draught boats on the Willamette.

The steamer Ramona is having a good passenger traffic even now while only two trips a day are made to Portland. The warm, comfortable cabins together with the convenience in carrying bundles is greatly appreciated by the traveling public especially now that carrying bundles is prohibited on the electric cars.

Pennoyer's Work.

Bob Gardner and Bert Bacon, as a result of Governor Pennoyer's indiscriminate pardons, are now out of the penitentiary after serving two years of a seven years sentence for rape committed in this city. They arrived home Wednesday. These boys were two of the most unprincipled toughs in Oregon City and if justice had been ruled rather than a fool governor freak, they would have served their time out. Now, that they are free the opportunity is theirs to make men of themselves and become decent law abiding citizens. Otherwise they may not be so fortunate again in having a weak minded governor to help them regain their liberty.

Make good resolutions and buy from McKittrick.
