CHURCH DEDICATED

Oregon City Churches Grow With the Town.

SOME HISTORICAL SKETCHES

The Baptist People Open Their New House of Worship—Free of Debt—Financial Statement.

The First Baptist church of this city was dedicated Sunday under the most auspicious circumstances. In spite of bad weather and delays in finishing the house it was opened to the public as pre-arranged.

The Congregational and Methodist brethren had omitted their morning service out of kindly feeling for their Baptist friends and at an early hour people began to wend their way to the new edifice which was to be that morning dedicated to the service of God, and by the time the service had commenced standing room was at a premium, there being between 500 and 600 people in the auditorium. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Roland D. Grant, D. D. of Portland, his text being Joshua 1:15, his theme, "Persistent Effort."

We have no right or title to any privilege except as we strive for it and if we seek to rise or advance we must put forth effort. We must also put forth effort to hold any position we have already attained, even if we do not seek to advance, and this church can only grow by increased effort and after having advanced to the position which demands the increased facilities and room, it must still make effort or it will die. "To him that hath (and uses it) more shall be given."

After the services Mr. D. C. Latourette made a brief financial statement. The improvements on the church cost in round figures $3200. There had been donated $400 in work, $1300 in cash, $600 by the Ladies Aid Society and there was about $300 in unpaid pledges. Besides the immediate improvements there was an indebtedness of about $500 already on the church, making $1100 which ought to be raised then to dedicate the church free of debt.

Dr. Grant then made an earnest appeal to the people to raise the money, and when the taking of subscriptions was over there was $1,135 pledged and a basket collection taken which netted $22 more. Dr. Grant was then asked to return thanks to God for his goodness, which he did in the most heart-touching and soul inspiring prayer it has ever been the privilege of the writer to hear.

At the afternoon citizen's meeting there were stirring addresses made by the Revs. Sykes, Montgomery and Cowan of this city and Rugg of Salem, short congratulatory by Revs. Teal, Sims, and Holcroft of Portland. At 6 P. M. there was a rousing Union Young People's meeting. A. S. Dresser president of the city union being the leader and Miss Ana Baird presiding at the organ. The house was full of bright, earnest young people, and in some respects this was the best meeting of the day.

At 7:30 P. M. Rev. M. L. Rugg, of Salem, preached an eloquent and sound sermon from Eph. 4:11, 12 and 13, on "Development of Christian Character and the Unity of the Faith." How denominational unity will be brought about. "Not by giving up or receding from any truth we may have got hold of, but by clinging faithfully to all the truth we have, and honestly, with unprejudiced minds, striving to get all the more truth we may be able to attain."

After the sermon Hon. W. C. Johnson, L. L. D. gave a brief history of the church. Mr. Johnson's father, Rev. Heskiah Johnson and Rev. Ezra Fisher came overland in 1845, with wagons and were seven months on the way, arriving here on December 7th of that year.

On July 4, 1847, seven people organized the first Baptist church, and a little later built the first Baptist meeting house in Oregon (this building still stands on the corner of Main and Thirteenth streets) Deacon Hatch, a member of the Congregational church gave the use of his house to the Baptists on that occasion, so the unity and friendship existing at this day between these two churches of our city, is only the continuation of a feeling which had its origin at the birth of the Baptist church. The first pastors of the church were in part supported by the Home Missionary society. They were Elders Johnson, Fisher, Chandler and Jas. Read.

After a time the little church became too small for the growing society so it was sold and the property at present occupied was purchased and the house which the present one displaces was built. It was dedicated on Sept. 3, 1871. Rev. E. Fisher preaching the dedicatory sermon. There was raised on that occasion $2,057.

Since then there has been a steady, gradual growth. The pastors since have been: Revs. J. T. Huff, J. A. Worth,

J. H. Teale, J. C. Read, C. C. Bateman and Gilman Parker, Every one of which the church has parted with, with a feeling of regret.

Rev. Gilman Parker, was moderator of the day, and directed the exercises and services.

The size of the main audience room is 42x56 and has a seating capacity of 406. There is a Sunday school room of the same dimensions, parlors, class rooms, closets etc., making a very convenient house for the purposes to which it has been dedicated.

Contractor Miller, placed a box in the apex of the belfry tower, containing a copy of the city papers etc. This while not a corner stone exactly may serve some day to show the future generation the advancement Oregon City has made between 1871 and 1895.

The decorations were beautiful and appropriate, being mostly tasteful draping United States flags and were designed and arranged by Mrs. Emma C. Groom.

Elmer E. Charman attended a church dedication for the second time in his life last Sunday, a coincidence being that the other time it was the dedication of the old Baptist church in 1871.

Of the former pastors Messrs. Teal and Parker were the only ones present.

The music of the occasion was furnished by the full choir of the church. A. F. Parker, leader, Messdames D. C. Latourette, A. F. Parker, A. S. Dresser, O. F. Ohlsen, C. O. T. Williams, and J. K. Groom, Messrs. W. C. Johnson, G. F. Howard, E. A. Smith and G. C. Watson, Rev. M. L. Rugg composed a hymn for the occasion, but by some means the printing of it was neglected so there were no copies of it and it could not be sung.

Redland Bippes.
REDLAND, Jan. 7.—Snow, rain, slush, mud, lots of it. That snowstorm of last Wednesday was a bad one. It began here at 7 A. M. and continued till 3 P. M. when it commenced to rain and froze on the trees as it fell till they were loaded with ice. All day Thursday it sounded like musketry in the woods; limbs breaking and trees falling blocking roads with small trees. It did considerable damage to the old apple trees. Some it upset, others it split all the limbs off and left them mere stumps. In some orchards nearly every tree was injured.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES
All notes for this column should be sent to Mrs. H. S. Gibson, editor, Oregon City, Oregon.
