It cures piles, it cures obstinate sores, chapped hands, wounds. It does this quickly. Is there any good reason why you should not use De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve?

Take a dose of DeWitt's Little Early Risers just for the good they will do you. These little pills are good for indigestion, good for headache, good for liver complaint, good for constipation. They are good. C. G. Huntley, druggist.

The Longfellow Symposium promises to be one of the most classic entertainments ever given in Oregon City. In a single evening one can obtain a fair knowledge of Longfellow's principal works and characters. Forty speakers and singers sustain the different parts.

Those who travel now have a two-fold reason to take the Rand-McNally Guide. First, it is the standard; second, it insures you without charge for $1,000. 40 cents per copy. 3.00 per year. On sale everywhere. Send subscription to 166 Adams street, Chicago.

Insure in the Farmer's Co-operative Fire Insurance Association of Oregon City. The cheapest mutual protection in the state. Men combined to insure themselves. Applications taken by M. I. Moore, county treasurer, and president of the Association. Agents wanted throughout the state. Address the secretary, O. A. Cheney, Oregon City. Or.

During the absence of Senator Brownell in Salem and Mr. Dresser in the East, C. E. Barney, a law student in their office has attended to Messrs. Brownell & Dresser's business in a very satisfactory manner. After Monday next Mr. Brownell will be in his office and will give his personal attention to all business of the firm.

President McClelland of Pacific University dropped in on the McLaughlin Chautauque circle Monday evening. President McClelland has lately returned from the east where he has been having good success in raising the hundred thousand dollar endowment for Pacific University. Pres. McClelland was voted in as the 50th member of the McLaughlin circle.

Mrs. E. E. Charman entertained the Congregational choir with a little gathering Saturday evening in honor of Mr. H. A. Young who is a skilled violinist. Mr. Young has a valuable cremona violin over 200 years old, a genuine work of art, that was presented to him by the Northern Pacific railroad in whose employ he was an agent for many years. All were happily surprised at Mr. Young's ability with the bow, and wondered that his modesty had kept him silent so long.

Another Pioneer Passed on.

The community at Butte Creek lost a very worthy citizen by the death of William Allen Jack, which occurred February 10, 1896, at his home near Marquam, Clackamas county, Oregon. Mr. Jack had been feeble for several years and his death was not unexpected and by him not unprepared for, as he divided his farm among his children and gave them deeds some two years ago, reserving for himself and wife life interest in the land, a precaution probably unnecessary with his prudent children, but generally too much neglected by pioneers. Mr. Jack, though a pioneer of 1847, did not avail himself of the opportunity offered by the donation land law. His parents were aged and rather infirm upon their arrival in the territory and needed the care and support of their children, which was freely and self-denyingly given. I well recollect the reply of the father, Jeremiah Jack, when I asked him why his sons, William and Robert, did not take claims when that beautiful Butte Creek country was unoccupied? "Oh, we could not be separated," and he continued, "My wife and I have taken a section and Porter has taken a half section and don't you think that a section and a half of land is enough for our three boys?" I must not omit that the said section and a half of land was all in one body, lying on both sides of Butte creek, including a large area of splendid bottom land, and that the parents and three boys, William, Robert and Porter, lived in the same house. The father was Irish, the mother was Scotch, but no jarring feuds ever came into that home. Differences of opinion, which were frequent and rationally disposed of, seemed to weld them more firmly together. True enough they could not bear to be separated, and a tough arithmetical problem was presented to me in the year 1863 when the father desired me to run a line dividing the section from the half section and passing through the house so that he could swear to a residence on his land and Porter on his. The problem was satisfactorily solved and the requirements of the land law fully obeyed. The adage of "like father like son" is reinforced in the person and family of William Jack, for that too is a model family. His marriage to Miss Mary Jane Weddle January 5, 1854, was fortunate and their children, Barton, J. E., W. S., and A. F. Jack and Mrs. Nettie Albright and Mrs. Susan Hook are worthy of their ancestors.

It seems to be a fashionable idea with too many people that those who never quarrel lack courage and force and that such are a goody-goody set who can't be depended upon when severe trials come. No better proof of the falsity of such notions can be found than the life history of William Jack. He was born August 28th, near Madisonville, Monroe county, East Tennessee, where he lived until March 1836, when his father and family, consisting of his wife, three sons and one daughter, moved to Sedalia, Missouri. Here they lived eleven years, then the family joined an emigrant train bound for Oregon, which they reached in October of the same year, 1847. The winter of that year the family lived near Oregon City and the spring of 1848 moved to their claim on Butte creek. William Jack, though worn and wasted by the overland journey of some five months duration, could find cause and courage enough to join a company of volunteers enlisted for the Cayuse war in Eastern Oregon. He bore unflinchingly every duty during that rigorous winter and was one of the company who buried the bleaching bones of Dr. Whitman and family. Arriving home late in the spring of 1848, he and his brother set about preparing for a trip to the California gold mines, which they reached in the fall. But the hardships he had undergone were beginning to tell upon a constitution never strong and sickness constantly interrupted the mining business. Despairing of success, he took passage for Oregon on an old sail vessel which made the trip in twenty-one days at a cost of $126 for each passenger. Mr. Jack became a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church in 1842 and though there has been some dissatisfaction in that church as well as in others, he has kept on in the straight and quiet way.

I became acquainted with the family of Jeremiah Jack immediately after my arrival in the Willamette valley, in the fall of 1851, and I can say that every since, and it covers a long period of forty-four years, I have never experienced anything but unalloyed pleasure when we met. Honorable, candid, patient, intelligent people, not unduly selfish and possessed of a fund of humor and delicacy of appreciation which baffled the disagreeable pricks which are wont to make such woeful rents in this world's peace and pleasures. Why shouldn't I long to meet them?

T. W. DAVENPORT.
Will's seeds are good; Likewise his trees and plants. Twelfth annual catalogue now ready, is full of things that will interest you, among which are sacaline the new forage plant, Great Northern Bean, seventy day corn, first of all peas and golden queen onion. Hardy fruit and forest trees at hard times prices. $25 in prizes for best yield of corn. Oscar H. Will, Bismark, North Dakota.

The Kermesse cigar is a decided success. Ten cents value for five cents cash. E. E. Williams, the grocer.

The Boy Debaters.

The lecture room of the Cong. church was filled to its utmost capacity last Friday evening. The occasion was a very enthusiastic one. The Philomathean and Franklin Societies met in a joint debate and the topic for discussion was. Resolved, That increased wealth is a benefit to the morals of the people. The former club, which was represented by Messrs. Bert Beattie, Clarence Purdom and Arthur Holden took the affirmative side of the question, while the invincible Franklin Lyceum, upholding the negative, was represented by Jas. Matheson, Fred Meindle and Edgar Meresse. The meeting was called to order by Dr. Ferrin. Bert Beattie led the affirmative in a most convincing manner, and was followed by his colleagues. The negative, led by the fascinating and able speech of J. Matheson, soon overbalanced the affirmative; then came the eloquent appeal of Fred Meindle, which made a great impression upon the judges and audience. The decision of the judges was rendered, two in favor of the negative and one in favor of the affirmative. The meeting then adjourned.

This second victory of the Franklin Lyceum over the Philos, brings great credit and congratulations to the former club; but one knows not which to admire the more, the gallantry of the attack or the heroism of the defense. In such a defeat no disgrace. A Boy.

A Piece of Her Mind.

A lady correspondent has this to say: "I want to give a piece of my mind to a certain class who object to advertising, when it costs them anything—this won't cost them a cent.

I suffered a living death for nearly two years with headache, backache, in pain standing or walking, was being literally dragged out of existence, my misery increased by drugging.

At last, in despair I committed the sin of trying an advertised medicine, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and it restored me to the blessedness of sound health. I honor the physician who when he knows he can cure, has the moral courage to advertise the fact."

The medicine mentioned cures all the delicate diseases peculiar to females, as "Female Weakness," periodical pains, irregularities, nervous prostration, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus' Dance, sleeplessness, threatened insanity.

To permanently cure constipation, biliousness, indigestion or dyspepsia, use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Annual School Meeting.

Notice is hereby given to the legal voters of School district No. 62, of Clackamas county, State of Oregon, that the annual school meeting for the said district will be held at Pope's hall, in Oregon City, Oregon, to begin at the hour of 8 p. m., on the first Monday in (being the 4th day of) March, A. D., 1896.

This meeting is called for the purpose of electing a school director for a term of three years, a district clerk for a term of one year, and the transaction of business usual at annual meetings of school districts.

THOS. F. RYAN, T. S. LAWRENCE, District Clerk, Ch'm. Bd. of Directors, Dated at Oregon City this 21st day of February, A. D. 1896.

A Des Moines woman who has been troubled with frequent colds, concluded to try an old remedy in a new way, and accordingly took a tablespoonful (four times the usual dose) of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy just before going to bed. The next morning she found that her cold had almost entirely disappeared. During the day she took a few doses of the remedy, (one teaspoonful at a time) and at night again took a tablespoonful before going to bed, and on the following morning awoke free from all symptoms of the cold. Since then she has on several occasions used the remedy in like manner with the same results and is much elated over her discovery of so quick a way of curing a cold. For sale by G. A. Harding, Druggist.

Poultry raising has become one of the recognized industries of this county and as it does not cost any more to raise a first-class fowl than to grow a scrub of the barn yard variety it behooves our poultrymen to secure the best stock possible. Mr. Garrison, of the Forest Grove Poultry Yard whose ad appears elsewhere, has made a specialty of thoroughbred chickens for the last eighteen years and for purity and healthfulness his birds cannot be excelled. His prices are very reasonable and all his shipments are made promptly.

Home-made bread is recognized as the very best at all times and the customers of J. Egle the Shively building baker assert that they can not tell the difference between his bread and that made at home unless it be that his is just a little the better. But don't tell your wife that.

You ought to know this: DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will heal a burn and stop the pain instantly. It will cure badly chapped hands, ugly wounds, sores, and a well known cure for piles. C. G. Huntley, druggist.

Busy people have no time, and sensible people have no inclination to use a slow remedy. One Minute Cough Cure acts promptly and gives permanent results.

The ENTERPRISE is the only newspaper in Oregon that gives a cash premium to those paying their subscription in advance.

Have you tried the minced sea clams yet? They are delicious. E. E. Williams, the grocer.

Yucca Root toilet soap will not chap the hands or face. E. E. Williams, the grocer.

Make no Mistake.

By dispelling the symptoms so often taken for Consumption. Santa Abia has brought gladness to many a household. By its prompt use for breaking up the cold that so often develops into that fatal disease, thousands can be saved from an untimely grave. You make no mistake by keeping a bottle of this pleasant remedy in your house. California Cat-R-Cure is equally effective in eradicating all traces of Nasal Catarrh. Both of these wonderful California remedies are sold and warranted by C. G. Huntley. 50 cents and $1.00 a package, 3 for $2.50

Yucca Root toilet soap will not chap the hands or face. E. E. Williams, the grocer.

A Startling Admission.

In New York City, for five consecutive years, the proportion of Deaths from Consumption has been three in every Twenty Persons.

Epidemics of Cholera, Yellow Fever and other diseases of similar character, so terrible in their results, occasion wide spread alarm and receive the most careful consideration for their prevention and cure, while consumption receives scarcely a thought, yet the number of their victims sinks into insignificance when compared with those of consumption. Comparatively few people know what to do for their loved ones when they see them gradually lose strength, lose color, manifest feeble vitality and emaciation, or develop a cough, with difficult breathing, or hemorrhage. Cod liver oil was for a long time given in all such cases, but the poor success attending its use coupled with its nauseating taste has led many practitioners, as well as the public at large, to place their main reliance in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It deserves early attention and will prove effectual not in every case but in a large percentage of cases, and we believe that fully 95 per cent. of all cases of consumption can, if taken in the early stages of the disease, be cured with the "Discovery." Dr. Pierce does not ask people to believe until they have investigated for themselves. A pamphlet has been published having the names, addresses and photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies which will be mailed free to those sending for it with their name and address upon a postal card, or you can have a medical treatise, in book form of 160 pages, mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write those cured and learn their experience.
