Fifteen Thousand Sacks of Potatoes Shipped from New Era—The Grange Prospering.

New Era, April 20.—We are basking in sunshine and flowers while the air is redolent with the fragrant bloom of orchards.

Farmers are improving the fine weather planting potatoes, etc.

We have a good prospect for a large crop of fruit in this locality.

The aggregate amount of potatoes shipped from New Era during the past season amounts to about 15,000 sacks, the larger part having been sold in San Francisco.

Our energetic road overseer, Wm. Rider, has been doing some much needed work on the road north and south of the creek bridge in New Era.

This road has long been in a deplorable condition, causing many of those passing over it to utter words of astonishment that a road over which so many teams pass daily should be allowed to remain in so nearly an impassable condition.

A start, however, has been made toward improvement of our roads and it is to be hoped will continue.

The river road from Canby and New Era to Oregon City is one of the oldest and most traveled public roads in Clackamas county, and the people residing along its length hope to see it kept in repair.

R. O. Vidito and Fred Chiam have finished clearing some land for J. C. Newbury.

Mrs. Newberry has been suffering with an attack of the grippe. She is now convalescent.

August Braesner, who has been sick for some weeks, was seen riding to Oregon City today. All are pleased that he is able to be out again.

Jacob Crader is having a new barn built. Peter Eger has finished a fine new barn which adds greatly to the appearance of his farm.

Born to the wife of M. Stauber, a fine daughter. All doing well.

Warner grange held a regular meeting at their hall in New Era on the 27th instant. Several new members were added to the roll.

Many farmers are uniting with the order on account of the opportunity offered them to obtain what they deem sound fire insurance on their property at a nominal cost.

J. L. Hoffman is selling from eight to twenty cords of wood to the river steamers daily which he will be able to continue for some time, having a large amount of wood on hand.

Herman Anthony will soon commence the erection of a residence on the site of the one recently destroyed by fire.

The next day the young man that made the racket was taken before Justice Schubel and fined fifteen dollars. Better stay home next time, boys. TELEPHONE.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

MINK, April 30.—Last Thursday night young Ed Hornschoch and Herman Moehnke had a fight over some love affairs. Mr. Hornschoch got a little the worst of the battle and so had Mr. Moehnke arrested and taken before Justice G. A. Schubel who fined him fifteen dollars. Herman claims he did not get justice before G. A. Schubel and will take the case to Oregon City. If boys can't have little scraps without going to law, or go with the girls without having scraps they had better give up both.

The dance at Henry Henrich's last Friday night was enjoyed by all that were present. J. Moehnke and orchestra furnished the music.

Arbor Day at Wilsonville.

WILSONVILLE, April 20.—Miss A. I. Hic-inbotham and her pupils of the Wilsonville school observed arbor day at that place Friday, the 19th, by entertaining a large audience of friends, neighbors and parents with an excellent program, consisting of songs by the school, instrumental music by Isadore Shields on the organ, and recitations by the students and others. Everything was well rendered. It was a beautiful day and the rather small school room was completely packed, one half of the room with the company and the remaining room with the school like sardines in a box. All enjoyed the day notwithstanding the limited space. The following is the program as it was executed:

The house was called to order and a grand march came first, with music by Isadore Shields.

Fred Pendleton returned ten days since from the gold fields of southern Oregon, and last week started to try his luck fishing on the Columbia.

As news items are scarce, last Thursday we decided to visit Mr. E. Dodge's shingle mill at the Molalla bridge near here. We found Mr. Dodge a thorough gentleman who took great pains to give us pointers on his business. Four years ago he came to Oregon from the lumber woods of Michigan. Working at odd jobs he found to be a poor way of accumulating a bank account. Last August, with a cash capital of ten cents he started in business for himself. For the first few months he hired his machinery for the shingle mill, paying for the use of an engine $5.00 per day. Success smiled upon his efforts and he gradually purchased his machinery until today he is practically out of debt and owns all his mill, engine included, besides erecting two neat and commodious dwellings for his family and hired help. Since March first the mill has turned out over 300,000 shingles, which sell at the mill for $1.10 for first class and 65 cts. for second class. The working crew of this mill consists of seven hands—Mr. Dodge, two hired men, three sons, the oldest 19 years, the youngest a lad of 12 years, who is engineer, and Alfie, Mr. Dodge's pretty 15 year old daughter who runs the knot saws. We timed her work. She handles fifty shingles per minute. Mr. Dodge certainly deserves great credit for his success in this venture. PHOENIX.

While a load of young people from Needy were returning from the meeting at the Samsou school house one wheel of their vehicle struck a stump and was completely smashed. When the accident occurred the party were still several miles from home, but the walking was good.

Uncle Joe Johnston, who scratched the knuckle of his right hand while putting boards on his barn, has been confined to his room and bed for several weeks. The wound festered and blood poison set in, and it was feared that he might lose his arm. We are glad to note that he is improving.

It is with feelings of sorrow that we think of the fate that has befallen one of our old schoolmates in the person of M. F. Prindle. As a boy he was studious and of a pleasant and quiet disposition, and seldom had to be reprimanded by his teacher. He was one of the first in his class, and the champion speller of the district spelling schools.

Melchers have got their spuds dug and have been shipping them.

Most of the grain is in the ground and gardens and potatoes are now in line.

P. H. Baker's family are all up and around and improving rapidly.

Lewis Oelsieger had the misfortune to get his arm broken. Mr. Oelsieger has been very ill, but they are both improving.

Maple Lane Matters.

MAPLE LANE, April 30.—There is some talk of a string band being organized in our neighborhood. We hope it will not end in talk as "band music" would be very highly appreciated by all.

Coming to This County.

Mrs. Allen Mullen, a Corvallis servant girl, is a person to be envied, for Dame Fortune has cast a goodly inheritance into her lap. Forty-seven years ago in the land of Erin, she became the daughter of Michael Mullen, and twenty years later she became the wife of Patrick Mullen, who, after three children had been born to them, suddenly died. Two years ago Mrs. Mullen left her children on the farm that has been rented of rich land barons by the Mullen family for 300 year and came alone to the United States. A year ago she landed in Corvallis and since then has been employed in the household of Mayor McFadden. Her uncle having died, she has fallen heir to 300 acres of the finest land in Oregon, situated between Milwaukee and Oregon City, and an undivided one-half interest in 1019 acres in Texas. On the latter it is said a town is located, besides two railroad depots.
