PARK PLACE SCHOOL CLOSES.

No "Sweet Girl Graduates," but Two Young Gentlemen Get Diplomas.

A car load of Oregon City people went to Park Place last Friday evening to attend the graduating exercises of the public school, which were of an interesting character. The two rooms on the upper floor were thrown open and all the available space was occupied with interested auditors, and the patrons of the school were out in full force, and looked with pride on the attainments of their graduating class. The platform and walls of the building were artistically decorated with flowers and evergreens, and on the stage were seated the members of the graduating class, Fred W. Smith and William H. Beach, the school board and Prof. J. W. Gray, the principal; while on the wall back of the stage was a floral motto, "Launched, but Whither Bound."

The exercises opened with a selection by the Park Place Band, and their efforts were appreciably applauded. Rev. M. L. Rugg pronounced the invocation, followed with a quartette by Mrs. George Hamilton, Miss Elliot, Bert Hamilton and George Howard, that was well received. County Superintendent H. S. Gibson made the opening address, and although short, was replete with inspiring and ennobling thoughts on educational matters. Mrs. E. C. Hackett favored the audience with an acceptable selection on the zither, and a recitation by W. J. Dauchy was well delivered. The Oregon City Mandolin Club, composed of Misses Pauline Campbell and Vera Canfield, Harley Stevens and Clara Campbell rendered an excellent selection, and responded to an encore. Miss Rose Eby did excellently in a recitation, and a duet by Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Elliott was rendered in a pleasing manner. The oration, "Beyond Alas lies Italy," by Willie H. Beach, one of the graduating class, was a comparison of Hannibal's energy and steadfastness of purpose in crossing the Alps and eventually conquering Italy, with the work of the student if he would succeed in encompassing all obstacles in the pathway of life. Mrs. E. C. Hackett rendered another selection on the zither, and was heartily encored. The oration by Fred W. Smith, another member of the graduating class, "Rowing, not Drifting," was a creditable effort and the subject matter was well handled. Prof. H. S. Strange added laurels to his reputation as an orator, and his address was replete with good things. It was an appeal to the parents, guardians and pupils for better things and a more zealous interest in the right kind of education. His remarks to the graduating class were timely and effective. After more music by the Mandolin Club, Capt. J. T. Apperson as a member of the board of directors, presented the diplomas to the graduates in a neat little speech.

This is the first class that have ever completed the advanced course of studies laid out for the Park Place school, and the citizens of that enterprising suburb are to be congratulated. Prof. J. W. Gray has been principal of this school for three years, and his work has proven satisfactory. The other teachers in the school for the past year were Miss Phoebe Eddy, Mrs. Anna Read and Miss Frances Curran.

Funeral Obsequies.

Mention was made in the ENTERPRISE last week of the death of the infant son of Charles and Louise C. Meserve of this city. The funeral took place at Clatskanie, Columbia county, on Wednesday of last week, and the following is taken from the Clatskanie Chief:

"The sorrowing parents and sympathizing relatives and friends accompanied the remains to this place for interment in Maplewood cemetery. The funeral took place on Wednesday from the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Conyers. The remains, in a white casket, were tenderly borne by young men as pallbearers to the church, where at 11 o'clock A. M. they entered the building followed by the immediate relatives and friends, while a funeral dirge was being rendered by Miss Lou Barr upon the church organ. The casket was placed upon a white pedestal in front of the pulpit beautifully decorated with white flowers and was itself covered and surrounded by chaste floral designs in wreaths, crosses, anchors, etc., from friends in Oregon City, St. Helens and this place, and a pillow having a green background with the name "Horace" in white daisies was placed just back of the casket. Other decorations of white flowers very tastefully displayed about the pulpit and elsewhere were conspicuous. After seating the audience, the pastor, Rev. O. A. White, announced the familiar hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," which was led by a quartette of young misses about the organ. Rev. White delivered a brief address from the words, "Suffer little children to come unto me, etc." from which there was much of comfort and hope. Following this the cover of the casket was removed for a few minutes when the friends took a last look of all that was mortal of the child and the bearers again carried their charge to the cemetery, followed by a large concourse of people. Here a brief final service was rendered by the pastor, and with the singing of "Shall We Gather at the River," the last sad rites were finished. This is the second time these parents have laid away a child, the one buried at St. Helens will be brought here later. The kindness of friends has been a source of comfort to the afflicted and will remain in their memories as the silver lining to the clouds that have oppressed them.

The steamer Ramona of Oregon City made connection with the steamer Dixon, which brought the family to Oak Point and through the kindness of the Shaver Company their boat brought them to this place Monday night.

Walter Janney and his wife, nee Rosy Sullivan, are now in the toils of the law at Portland, awaiting a hearing on serious charges of burglary, and having been returned from California where they were arrested. Walter is a nephew of Rev. J. R. Janney, formerly of this city, and during his residence here cut a wide swath. Mrs. Janney formerly lived here and sustained a somewhat shady character, but finally made pretensions of reform, and a marriage certificate found in her trunk by the police indicates that they were actually married.

Mrs. Lou Davis, who has been in the Oregon City Hospital undergoing treatment for the past two months, was ordered sent to the insane asylum Tuesday by County Judge Hayes, and Sheriff Maddock conveyed the unfortunate lady to the asylum on the same evening. Mrs. Davis' physical condition has materially improved, but her mental powers have not kept pace with her improved physical condition. Her malady was of such a serious nature that there was danger of her innocently injuring her small child.

The Y. P. S. C. E., of the Presbyterian church, gave a very interesting social at Shively's hall last Tuesday evening, although the rainy weather prevented many from attending. Prof. Holmes delivered an appropriate address. Mr. Askin, a tenor singer from Portland, was well received, and Mrs. Sadie White responded to encores twice, after singing her solo. A comic pantomime was an interesting feature of the occasion, followed by social conversation and interesting games.

Considerable has been said in the papers about the indictments against Miss Mary Berger, for sending slanderous matter through the U. S. mail. The facts are she was allowed to go on her own recognizance, and when $1500 bail was required for appearance in June, she readily furnished the amount with Mrs. Ditchburn of Portland and an Oregon City party as sureties. Miss Berger was a former resident of this city.

The ladies of the Christian church at Canby will give a hard times party in Evan's hall next Monday evening. Everybody is invited and all are expected to wear their hard times cloths. The ten best dressed persons will have to pay a fine, and lunch will be set at reasonable price. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Christian church at Canby.

J. W. Moffat, O. P. Miller and T. F. Ryan will represent the Oregon City Odd Fellows at the grand lodge, which convenes at Salem on Wednesday, May 15. Mrs. W. H. Howell and T. F. Ryan will represent the Rebekahs at their convention, which convenes at Salem next Monday.

The St. Helens Mist gives an account of the marriage of George T. Howard of this city, and Miss Elizabeth Gilmore of Columbia county. Mr. Howard is clerk in the Hamilton Brother's establishment, and has fitted up a neat residence at Green Point, which the newly wedded couple are occupying.

THE W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

Multnomah and Clackamas Representatives Hold a Profitable Session.

The W. C. T. U. convention of Multnomah and Clackamas counties met at the Baptist church in this city at 10 A. M. last Friday. The meeting opened with devotional exercises led by Mrs. D. C. Latourette, subject, "God Leads." At the close of the devotional exercises Mrs. C. Shipley of Oswego was elected moderator for the day and Mrs. Emma C. Groom, secretary.

Miss S. L. Lyman, of Portland being absent, the topic "Scientific Instruction in Public Schools" was discussed at considerable length by members of the convention as was also "Temperance Work With Children." These discussions aroused an interest in the meeting among those in attendance and they were in good spirits for the afternoon session. At noon there was an adjournment taken for lunch, which was partaken of at the church, which arrangement was a specially fortunate one, on account of the rain.

At 4:30 P. M. the convention was called to order. After singing, "Tis the Blessed Hour of Prayer" and prayer by Mrs. Shipley, Mrs. Meade, state superintendent of Evangelistic work led a consecration meeting, which was very profitable and helpful. At 2:30 o'clock the secretary read a report on "Loyal Temperance Legion Work," from Miss E. M. Downs of Sunnyside, Portland. Miss Kem of Portland gave a report on "Petition Work and Necessities." Mrs. C. H. Dye also made a report on the "Preparation of the W. C. T. U. for the Chautauqua assembly." The event of the day was an address to mothers on "Purity" by Rev. Lida Ronnick of Portland. This lady is an able speaker and she pressed home to the hearts of her hearers the serious responsibility resting upon mothers, in guarding their children and training them so that their characters may be properly formed, that as they go out into the world they will be strong enough to withstand temptation. A vote of thanks was given Rev. Ronnick for her most excellent address.

The evening adjournment was spent in sociability and again lunch was served in the church. The evening exercises were spent by reading of the 146th psalm by Mrs. Keon. This psalm is known as the W. C. T. U. crusade psalm. At this session Mrs. Shipley made a report on "Work at the Fairs" showing how the women are striving to raise the moral tone of these very necessary assemblies.

Mrs. Green had a paper on "Social Purity" in which she unveiled some of the iniquities of Oregon City. She handled her subject fearlessly and in a manner which would have aroused the wrath of some people had they been present to hear. The meeting closed with a talk by Mrs. Hoxter of Portland on various lines of W. C. T. U. work. Hon. H. E. Cross had arranged to take the ladies out to Gladstone Park for their noon lunch, and they were to select a site for a building the state association expects to build on the Chautauqua assembly grounds, but the wet weather prevented.

A new union with thirty members was reported from Clackamas station.

The attendance was only fair, quite a few of the Oregon City members even not being present all the time.

SCROFULOUS ABSCESSSES.

Mrs. BELLE SWEENEY, of Flat Top, Mercer Co., W. Va., writes: "About four years ago I took scrofula, and did everything that doctors and others prescribed, but only got worse. Several abscesses formed about my neck and breast, discharging a quantity of matter. I got so weak I could scarcely walk about the house. I read all the medical works I could get hold of, and among the rest, read some of your works. You described my case, and recommended Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with his 'Pleasant Pills.' So I procured some and commenced using them and soon began to mend. In six months my sores were all healed up. I am forty-five years old and believe I am as stout as I ever was in my life. I used about one dozen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' with the 'Pleasant Pills,' and used nothing else after I began using your medicines."
