FRIDAY, MAY 24, 1895.

Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works.—The entertainment at the Congregational church last Thursday evening given under the auspices of Mrs. George C. Brownell and her Sunday school class, was greeted with a crowded house. Mrs. Brownell did the part of Mrs. Jarley, the itinerant wax works show-woman admirably, and her maid and assistant, Miss Gussie Maddock dressed in old style apparel, sustained her part splendidly. New features were introduced in the wax work combinations and the audience were delighted with the entertainment. Mrs. F. E. White played one of her best organ solos, the Glee club gave "Mother's Song," Majorie Caulfield recited a "Village Tale," and a violin solo by Miss Betta Fouts was loudly encored. Miss Clara Warner recited "Jimmie's Baby Brother," and the "Picture from Life" was realistic. "The Bit of Gossip" by three girls was interesting, and Miss Kate Ward's solo "The Pensive Old Piano," was so enthusiastically encored, that she responded with another selection, but declined to appear the third time. "How the Ladies Fish," a recitation by Miss Myrtle Buchanan, fairly brought down the house. The Mandolin club gave a well executed selection, and responded to a spontaneous encore. An organ solo by Mrs. E. E. Williams was well received and wound up the musical part of the entertainment. After more wax figures ice cream and cake were served.

THE SILETZ RESERVATION.—Register Miller and Receiver Paquet of the Oregon City land office have received official notification from the general land office that the time of opening the Siletz reservation is fixed by proclamation for Thursday, July 25, at 12 o'clock, noon, Pacific standard time. Long before the time for opening the reservation, the public will be given notice through the Oregon City land office the special regulations to govern the entry of the Siletz lands, that will be received from the general land office. There will be application to enter at last one township, probably at the mouth of the Siletz river on the bay. Most of the vacant land will be subject to homestead filings, and the cost of the filing a homestead claim of 160 acres $16, and $1 additional per acre upon proving up. The Indians have received all the choicest lands in the allotments made, but there yet remains some heavily timbered locations not so conveniently situated, that will be subject to homestead filings.

A TRILLAZ RAZOR.—Walter Janney, formerly of Oregon City, and his pal are now clearly identified as the parties who robbed the residence of Rev. Roland D. Grant. The Oregonian says: Through the efforts of Chief of Police J. M. Glass, of Los Angeles, convincing proof has been obtained against Walter Janney and Frank King, two of the gang of robbers now in jail here awaiting trial. At the time the residence of Dr. Roland D. Grant was robbed, among other articles taken was a razor, on the case of which the name of the owner was inscribed, and a ring. When Janney and King made their hurried flight from Oregon to California, they became short of funds, and in order to continue their travels to Los Angeles, adopted the brake-beam mode. While thus journeying, the men were discovered by a brakeman, and in order to keep their place on the beam they gave the man a razor and ring. In return they were unmolested, and reached Los Angeles in time. Chief Minto learned of the disposition of the stolen property, and writing to Chief Glass requested him to hunt the brakeman up and get the razor and ring if possible. On Saturday they reached Portland and Dr. Grant had no trouble in fully identifying the razor, as it had belonged to his father. The name upon it had become obscured by age, so that it was likely overlooked by the thieves. Dr. Grant has been a collector of curios all his life, and has now seven varieties of burglars on his hands. He will hardly have a chance of keeping them in a cabinet, but the penitentiary authorities will shortly receive them and keep them in safety for years to come.

SECURED THE CHILD.—Attorney C. H. Dye was attorney for Robert Morton in a habeas corpus action to recover his five-year old daughter before County Judge Hayes. Mrs. Morton is a sister of Mrs. Jane Melcher, of Stafford, in the western part of the county, who figured conspicuously in the courts of Multnomah and Clackamas counties. Mr. Morton claims his domestic life is serene, except when he comes in contact with Mrs. Melcher, and further alleged that the latter caused Mrs. Morton to change her place of residence accompanied by the little daughter and some household effects. In accordance with a citation Mr. and Mrs. Melcher appeared in court Thursday, but asserted that Mrs. Morton was too ill to come to town. They were ordered to produce the child in court on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and to present a physician's certificate as to the condition of Mrs. Morton, provided she was unable to be present. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Melcher appeared in the county court, however, at the time set, but little Sadie Morton was there accompanied by her father, who had secured the child from Mrs. Morton at Portland. An order was made awarding the custody of the child to her father, and judgment was entered against the Melcher's for the cost of the proceedings. It is understood that the breach between Mr. and Mrs. Morton has been healed.

HE WAS COWHIDED.—A young man recently arrived in Oregon City from Hillsboro or vicinity, and soon began clandestinely to pay particular attention to a little 12-year old girl, living in the southern part of the city. After repeated efforts to get her to meet him at some appointed place after dark, he succeeded in getting a note to the girl to meet him on the Canemah sidewalk at 10 o'clock p. m. The girl exhibited the letter to her mother, who concluded she would fill the desired appointment with the frisky young man personally, accompanied by her daughter-in-law, she met the writer of the note on the Canemah sidewalk, above where the falls of the Willamette glisten in the electric light, and proceeded to give the amorous lothario such a cowhiding, that he fairly yelled with pain. Our informant states that they laid on the switches long and hard, and the haunts that once knew this individual, now knows him no more. He has probably gone where people look with more leniency on beings of his ilk. Were there more ladies possessed of the grit of these women, there would be fewer instances of ruined homes aired before the courts.

A SWARM OF BEES.—Duke Aldridge secured the contract of moving J. W. Draper's furniture and household effects from Canemah to his Mink farm, but before he completed the job he devoutly wished that some rival had been fortunate enough to get the contract. A hive of live bees was stored away in the bottom of the wagon and furniture and miscellaneous household effects were piled in and around and on top of the bee hive. Everything went smoothly until they reached the top of Seventh street when the hive broke and the bees swarmed. They swarmed around the driver and horses and in and out among the furniture and household effects. The horses kicked and had to be loosened. The bees continued to hum, swarm and sting when opportunity offered, all the afternoon. Mr. Draper offered to make a present of the bees to any one who would capture them and move them away. At last when evening shades began to appear a bee expert arrived on the scene and charmed away the swarm, and Mr. Aldridge moved on with his load.

JUNIOR ENTERTAINMENT.—The Junior Endeavor entertainment at the Baptist church Friday night was greeted with a large house. First on the program was a song by the girl's chorus, followed with a doll drill by three little girls, who had been excellently trained. A recitation by Verdine Monroe was followed with a club swinging exercise by Miss Gertrude Finley, and she would put some of the professionals to shame in the art of club swinging. She responded to an encore. A duet by Mrs. Sadie White and Mr. Askin was encored and brought out a response. After a recitation by Miss Mabel Hannegan the boy's brigade gave a most excellent military drill. A duet by Confer Bros. was so favorably rendered, that they responded to an encore. A splendidly executed flower drill by a number of girls followed a recitation by Ruby Spencer. Next came a recitation by Jessie Porter and a solo by Mr. Askin then an interesting sword drill by Master Willie Groom, under the direction of his trainer, J. K. Groom. A boy's chorus closed the entertainment and ice cream and cake were served.

DESTRUCTIVE FOREST FIRES.—Last Sunday Sheriff Maddock received a letter from Justice C. S. Porter, of Leon, in Garfield precinct, in this county, which reads as follows: "We had yesterday and last night one of the worst fires this country ever knew. I arrived home about 5 o'clock and found my fences all gone, orchard ruined; my house and store took fire, but by having plenty of water and some help, they saved my store, house and barn but no fences. Others fared worse. Gutman lost his house, and both barns with all contents, 10 hogs, harness, 2 wagons, etc. Mr. Habeline lost his barn and all contents, Freager and Lamar lost nearly all their fences. John Honeb lost all his fencing, and I have just heard that my son John lost everything, and we also lost our fine school house. The school house in district 12 caught fire, but was saved. We fought fire all night, and still have to watch. There has been a great deal of damage done west of us but to what extent I do not know. In my neighborhood there were six houses with all contents burned, and five barns."

OUR STATE TAXES.—The county court has refused to allow the claim of the state of Oregon for interest on state taxes not sent to Salem until after the time named in the statute for the payment. State Treasurer Metchan presented a claim of $241.93 for interest on the deferred payment in 1893, and $83.70 for 1894. The county court claims that since the statute fixing the date when the counties shall pay their state tax was passed, other laws have been enacted rendering it well-nigh impossible to comply with the first law. Among the last named is the law requiring the state equalization board to "equalize" the assessment at so late a date as to greatly retard the delivery of the taxroll to the sheriff; and the law making city, school and road taxes payable to the sheriff and giving school districts until a late date to make their levies, which must be computed throughout the roll before the sheriff can begin receiving taxes. The county court takes the ground that the county is not responsible for the delay caused by acts of the state itself, and that it is under no obligation to pay interest, and will not do so.

State Grange Session.
 The Oregon state grange of the Patrons of Husbandry will hold its twenty-second annual session at Oregon City, commencing May 28, 1895, at 10 o'clock a. m. Arrangements have been made with the Southern Pacific railroad for reduced rates to members attending this session. Local committees have made arrangements with the hotels and private boarding houses for the entertainment of all who may attend. Hon. David Lubin, of Sacramento, Hon. A. P. Roche, master of California state grange will be present and will address an open session of the grange, to which the public will be invited. Notice of this meeting will be given later. A large attendance of the members is expected.

The U. S. Dispensary

We don't buy Cream Tartar where it is cheapest

Says Cream Tartar should contain 99 per cent of PURE Potassium Bitartrate. How often do you imagine you get 99 per cent pure Cream Tartar unless you buy of a reputable druggist? It also says "Cream Tartar is often purposefully mixed with sand, clay, gypsum, flour, chalk, alum and Potassium Sulphate."
 It winds up by saying "the best security against fraud is to purchase the CRYSTALS and have them powdered." While we are not in a position to do this, we do buy the powdered crystals of Powers & Weightman—the most reliable Manufacturing chemists known.
 We know we can trust them, and we hope you know you can trust us.
