

DECORATION DAY.

Orders and Program of Exercises and Arrangement of Procession.

GENERAL ORDER.

Headquarters of Committee on Decoration Day, Grand Army Hall, May 30, 1895.

The undersigned, having been requested to act as grand marshal upon Decoration Day, promulgates the following orders, and makes the appointments of the members of his staff:

First—Headquarters will be established at the Armory.

Second—I appoint as chief of staff, M. L. Moore, and as aides, A. C. Warner, F. T. Barlow, C. C. Robbins, Leo Harding and Ray Norris.

Members of the staff will report mounted to the chief of staff, M. L. Moore, at 8:30 a. m., to receive orders for the parade and assignment.

Third—The Park Place band will report at headquarters promptly at 8:45 a. m. and proceed in charge of officers to the Barclay public school and escort the children under the supervision of Supt. W. S. Holmes and the several assistant teachers to the Catholic school on Main street, when the children of said school, under Father Hillebrand, will form in rear of column to be conducted to position assigned in the line of march. The several organizations and societies taking part in the parade will assemble at the several places of meeting and promptly take their several positions in line as designated.

Fourth—The column will form promptly at 10 a. m. on Main street at the Armory in the following order:

- Park Place band.
- Co. F, O. N. G.
- Grand Army of the Republic.
- Children of the public schools.
- The column at 10 o'clock a. m. will move north on Main street to Tenth and along the road up the bluff to Seventh street; thence out said street to the cemetery. Arriving at the cemetery the column will halt. Company F will open ranks and Grand Army will march through, then Co. F will close ranks and reverse arms and march to the cemetery, the band playing a dirge.

E. T. GRIDES, Marshal of the Day.

COMMANDANT'S ORDER.

Meade Post No. 2, G. A. R., respectfully requests the citizens of Oregon City, Oregon, to join with the members of the Grand Army of the Republic in commemorating Decoration Day, May 30th, 1895. We would ask that all places of business be closed from 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m. of said day, and request the citizens along the route of procession to properly decorate with flags and appropriate emblems of national character on their buildings. J. T. APPERSON, Post Commander.

Following is the order of exercises to be conducted by Meade Post No. 2, G. A. R., and Women's Relief Corps. The children of Eastham school, with Supt. W. S. Holmes and assistants, will form in procession with the pupils of Barclay school, and with the pupils of St. John's school will march to Pope's hall, where appropriate exercises will be held and addresses delivered by Supt. Holmes, of the public schools, and Father Hillebrand, of St. John's school, after which the children will be dismissed.

Census Enumeration.

Assessor Bradley has just completed the enumeration of the inhabitants of Oregon City, and finds the total number to be 3296, of whom 3247 are whites, 17 Indians and 31 Chinamen. The males number 1720 and the females 1575. The number of voters in the city is 950. By the census of 1890, which included the suburban communities on the west side, Park Place and Gladstone, all being within this precinct, the number of inhabitants was 3067. When the enumeration of these places, which are commercially a part of Oregon City, shall be completed, it will be found that the whole will foot about 6000 now resident here.

Resolutions.

At the meeting of Willamette Falls Camp No. 148, Woodmen of the World, the following resolutions were adopted: WHEREAS, it has come to the notice of this camp, that God, ruler over all, has seen meet to remove from the home of our esteemed neighbor, Chas. Meserve, and his beloved wife, Louise C. Meserve, their only child, therefore be it

Resolved, That this camp feel and sympathize deeply with Neighbor and Sister Meserve in this, their time of sorrow and bereavement. Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of Neighbor Meserve, and one copy to the OREGON CITY ENTERPRISE for publication, also one copy spread upon the minutes of this camp.

Mrs. A. E. Stout, proprietress of the Pacific Hotel at Long Beach, was in the city yesterday visiting friends. She had been in Portland purchasing supplies for her house, and is getting ready for the immense summer trade which goes to her house every season. Mrs. Stout has one of the best conducted home-like hostleries at Long Beach, which is a popular resort for Oregon City people as well as the best people in Portland. Her table is pronounced first class.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock a union meeting of the churches of Oregon City will be held at the Congregational church to discuss good citizenship matters. A number of laymen, as well as the different pastors, will make short addresses. There will be no morning service at this church on account of the union Memorial services at the Baptist church. In the evening there will be usual service at the Congregational church.

Last Friday night Street Commissioner Babcock with a force of men worked all night, to build a new approach from Main street to the suspension bridge. The old wooden approach was torn away and the space filled rock. Teams can now make the turn toward the river more easily, and loungers have to take a seat further back on the bridge.

The water commission has purchased an acre of ground and a 20-foot right of way from F. M. Darling paying $1000 therefor. The site is on the highest point of ground near Ely and is a most suitable place for a water tank. A good pressure of water can be secured to all parts of the city from this point.

COUNTERFEITER'S CAUGHT.

Four of them Now Lay in the County Jail Awaiting Trial.

On the 29th day of April Sheriff Maddock's attention was called to a peculiar looking mould arrangement that Mr. Hoffman was making to order for Close brothers. On May 1st one of the Close brothers came and took the apparatus away, which was a pair of blacksmith's tongs, to the jaws of which were iron cups, so arranged that they could be closed with accuracy and firmness. When closed the tongs appeared to hold a cylinder about three inches long, the cavity being of a diameter sufficient to admit a silver dollar. The blacksmith said it was the most mysterious thing he had ever been called upon to make in 20 years. The sheriff soon came to the conclusion that the cups of the tongs were calculated to hold molds for making counterfeit money, and he told the blacksmith that if this surmise were true he would be ordered to drill a small vent hole before the job was completed. The next day one of the Closes went to the shop and ordered precisely that hole to be made. Before the suspicious implement left the shop the sheriff put a secret mark upon it, with the expectation of having to identify it at some future time. A long-handled ladle also belonged to the outfit.

Of course, from that time the Closes were carefully watched. They appeared to be cultivating connections that would enable them to work off spurious coins, with the least danger of exposure. They visited both the banks for brand-new $5 and $10 pieces, and after considerable trouble obtained the coins that suited them. This was taken as a confirmation of the theory that they were to start a spurious mint. The Closes were about to move to Gresham for the ostensible purpose of opening a saloon, but the officers here thought it a dodge to get further away from possible detection for the purpose of manufacturing counterfeit money, and the sheriff and Chief of Police Burns nabbed the men Monday evening.

Two of the Closes are married and live in town. The other two live with their parents on a small farm at Maple Lane, just east of the city. The parents are very aged, and it is not thought that they were aware of anything wrong going on under their roof. W. H. and Al Close kept a saloon here until recently. Ed Close was arrested and taken to Albany some time ago on the charge of having committed perjury in swearing to a marriage license, in which it was stated that the girl was more than 18 years of age, when she was much younger than that. The prisoner was acquitted because the county clerk could not identify him, but it is said Close admitted that he was guilty of the crime.

The Closes went into Harding's drug store almost every day for awhile and purchased quantities of plaster paris and some gum acacia. Mr. Bailey, the new clerk, wondered at the time what they could be using so much plaster paris for, until they were arrested for counterfeiting.

The sheriff and chief of police searched the premises and found some partially finished gold and silver coins, but could not get any trace of the mold or dies. Some plaster paris that appeared to have dropped from such molds was picked up and is among the things in evidence.

On Tuesday afternoon the four Close brothers were taken before Justice Dixon where they waived examination. They were held to appear before the grand jury, and the bond of each was fixed at $500, in default of which they now lay in jail.

Sam Bailey was also arrested on the charge of counterfeiting, but was discharged from custody because there was no evidence to hold him. A sample $10 piece in the hands of Sheriff Maddock indicates that the composition was not sufficiently hot, and was not properly made, but the marks of an attempted production of a $10 piece are plainly discernible. The composition appears to be principally copper, and another factor of evidence against them is the fact that they went to a hardware store and purchased some copper for melting purposes.

HOW TO CARE FOR THE FEET.

Attend to Them Assiduously Through the First Hot Weather.

The boots and shoes for summer wear should be a half size larger than those worn during winter. If possible, shoes should be worn in warm days, as they leave the ankle free and the circulation better. If boots must be worn, they should not be very high, and extremely pointed toes and really high heels should never even be thought of by any one who values peace of mind and comfort. The leather for summer should be light, but not too thin, and brown in preference to black.

The evil effects of tight lacing will be very soon realized by the woman who has tender feet. The undue compression adds tenfold to the pain, and very often the ankles, even of young girls who are silly enough to sacrifice their well being for the sake of having a waist of 18 inches, are so swelled and inflamed by the end of the day that they are utterly shapeless.

Soak the feet well in tepid water to which a little ammonia has been added, and as the water gets cold pour in a little more hot to keep up the temperature. After drying the feet rub them gently and thoroughly with the following mixture: Add one ounce of the best linseed oil to the same quantity of lime water, shake the bottle in which the ingredients are until a mixture about the thickness of cream is produced; then pour in half a dram of spirits of camphor, shake again, and it is ready for use. The feet, after being rubbed, should be wrapped in soft linen for a little while and then powdered with boracic acid before the stockings are replaced. In the event of the feet and ankles being in a very inflamed condition, after soaking them, as I have described, apply an arnica lotion, which will soon allay the discomfort. This is made by adding 20 drops of tincture of arnica to half a cupful of tepid water. Saturate a piece of lint sufficiently large to envelop the entire foot with the lotion, cover it with a piece of oiled silk and rest for an hour or two.

How to Attend to Blankets.

Never wash blankets. Air them as often as possible, and if possible for 24 hours. Shake them well whenever a bed is vacated, and until put back on the bed let them hang open wherever they can best get the air. Once a year or less send them to the cleaner, and they will stand several years of use if treated in this way. Never turn down bed coverlets and leave the blankets exposed. The rough surface is a ready receptacle for dust, etc. Blankets, no matter how well washed, become harder and heavier. Lightness, cleanliness and warmth without weight are the secrets of comfortable rest.

How to Attend to a Lawn.

The beauty of a lawn depends largely on the neatness with which it is kept. Dead leaves, rubbish and refuse of all kinds should be kept from disfiguring its surface. Lawn rakes are made of bent wire, which take up everything which may be scattered over the grass without in the least injuring its roots, as is done by an iron toothed rake. A lawn mower is also necessary. For small yards one with a narrow cut will do, but on larger grounds one with a wider swath is advisable, as it greatly expedites the labor of properly caring for the lawn.

Do not spread coarse fertilizers over the lawn, as the fertilizing properties are dissipated and wasted in winter by the action of the elements. Very little nutriment from it reaches the soil, and as a protection it is valueless. In the spring scatter bone meal or some such concentrated fertilizer over the soil as soon as the grass shows a tendency to begin to grow.

How to Make Ordinary Cloth Waterproof.

In a pail of soft water put a half pound of sugar of lead (the acetate of lead) and a half pound of alum. Stir this at intervals until it becomes clear, then pour it off into another pail and put the garments therein and let them stand for 24 hours. Then hang up to dry without wringing. Garments treated thus can be worn in the wildest storm of wind or rain without the wearer getting even damp. The rain hangs in globules upon the cloth, and cloth that is waterproof is better and more healthy than rubber goods.

How Purple Became the Royal Color.

Purple was selected as the color for royalty because of its enormous cost and rarity. The only purple known to the ancients was the Tyrian purple, which was obtained in minute quantities only from a Mediterranean species of shellfish called the murex. In the time of Cicero wool double dyed with this color was so excessively dear that a single pound weight cost a thousand denarii, or about $175. A single murex only yielded a little drop of the secretion; consequently very large numbers had to be taken in order to obtain enough to dye even a small amount of wool. Among the nations of antiquity there were some with whom it was death for any one except the sovereign or supreme judges to wear garments dyed with Tyrian purple. Upon the accession of Julius Caesar a law was passed forbidding any private person to wear it.

How to Make Orange Chips.

Cut the oranges in quarters and carefully squeeze all juice through a sieve. Soak the peel in water, and the next day boil until tender. Drain and slice the peel, put it into the juice, weigh as much sugar and put all together into a broad earthen dish. Place over the fire at a moderate distance, often stirring till the chips candy and then put them in a cold room to dry. They will not be sufficiently dry in three weeks.

How to Relieve Moist Hands.

Ninety grains of cam de cologne and 15 grains of belladonna is an excellent lotion, after the use of which dust with powdered alum.
