To allay pains, subdue inflammation, heal foul sores and ulcers, the most prompt and satisfactory results are obtained by using that old reliable remedy, Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment. For sale by C. G. Huntley, druggist.

Ben Franklin tramped, hungry and foot-sore, through Philadelphia streets, with a loaf under one arm and a lot of brand new proverbs under his hat. One of Ben's maxims was, "a penny saved is a penny earned." You've heard that before, but no matter if you will buy your groceries at V. Harris' you will realize the force of it.

HIGH SCHOOL EXERCISES.

A Class of Ten Receive Their "Shropshire" and Honors.

Long before the time announced for the beginning of the exercises of the graduating class of the Oregon City High school, last Friday evening, crowds of people could be seen wending their way to Shibley's hall where the interesting program was rendered. The immense hall was crowded to its full capacity by the time the first number on the program was announced, all anxious to see how the graduating class would acquit themselves in whom they felt an interested pride. The exercises that followed would have done credit to the commencement program of some of the state colleges and universities, and Oregon City has reason to feel proud of her thorough public curriculum. The motto of the graduating class "Palma est Victori," was appropriate, and the personnel of the class who wore their honors with modest demeanor, were Musa E. Barkley, Thomas H. Lindsey, Clara E. Campbell, Anna E. Midlam, Imogene Harding, Victor H. Paquet, Hulda E. Holden, Ruby B. Spencer, Leila G. Jones and Samuel L. Stevens.

The young ladies looked lovely in white, and the boys presented a manly appearance, seated in regular class order on the stage, and were greeted with applause when the curtain was raised. It was a great event in the lives of the young people, and an occasion that they will always look back upon, with pleasurable memories. For days, months and years they had studied faithfully and labored diligently, until at last they reached the goal.

First on the program was the invocation by Rev. A. J. Montgomery, followed with a selection by Misses Lulu and Mattie Draper on the violin and piano, which was well received. Among the other musical numbers was a vocal solo by Miss Kate Ward, "I Long to See the Girl I Left Behind," and responded to an encore, with "Somebody Loves Me." Miss Spangler rendered "Brettone Dance" on the piano, and responded to an encore with another selection, and Miss Neita Barlow sang "Happy Birds," but did not respond to the enthusiastic encore. Disappointment was depicted on the countenances of many of the auditors, when it was announced that the duet, "Greetings," by Mrs. E. E. Charman and Mrs. A. S. Dresser would be omitted from the program by reason of illness in the family of Mrs. Charman. The musical numbers were interspersed between the class essays, and added variety to the entertaining evening exercises, which were delivered in the following order.

MUSA E. BARKLEY, read an essay on "Great Deeds of Women," in which she said "Many of the great deeds of men have been published to the world, but few of the great deeds of women have been heralded in history. She told of the great institutions of learning that flourished in Rome and ancient Greece, but women are not permitted to enter these schools. In those days an educated woman was looked upon as almost an outcast. Still history gives accounts of the heroic deeds of a number of brave women, and instances were given. She spoke of the great work of women at the present day; her leadership in the matter of reforms, and her great work in the home and social circle.

CLARA E. CAMPBELL, in his essay discussed, "Should the Turks be Expelled from Europe," and handled the subject in an able manner. The Turks were a disgrace to modern civilization as a nation; bribery and robbery were of usual occurrence among the office holders, and the people were oppressed with burdensome taxation. The rulers of Turkey have made promises of reform to other nations, but these reforms had never been carried out. Russia has always been the enemy of Turkey, and is anxious to acquire her territory as a part of her domain. He further said, the time is not far distant when this power will be brought under some government fit to control it.

LEILA G. JONES, The subject of Miss Jones' essay was "Michael Angelo," and she had evidently carefully studied the character of this noted artist, statesman and literateur of the Medieval Ages, and the paper was replete with incidents in his notable career. His example was pointed to and as an ideal worthy of emulation, who achieved wonders by his industry and energy. "Self Reliance," was the title of the essay by THOMAS H. LINDSEY, He gave numerous examples of great men who had made their way in the world, and one of the great elements in their success was self reliance. If the school boy would master his studies, it must be done through the medium of self reliance. The boy and the young man should learn to rely on himself. These qualities are necessary in every avocation of life, and its practice must be encouraged in the young.

ANNA E. MIDLAM, read an interesting essay on "Art in Nature," and said, when we are happy everything looks beautiful. Often times, things beyond our reach are the most attractive. The cherry tree over the wall, just beyond our reach appears to have the largest and reddest cherries. After enumerating many grand places, noted for their grandeur, she said that we need not go outside of Oregon to find the beautiful landscape. The scenery on the Columbia was grand and there were beautiful places on the Willamette, and wound up her essay with a tribute to the falls at this place, VICTOR H. PAQUET.

chose as the title of his essay, "Daniel Webster," and so well did he discuss the traits that made the statesman and orator a great man, that all became deeply interested in the subject. In the days of Daniel Webster the boys labored under great disadvantages—they had not the facilities of obtaining an education that the boys of today have. He told of the early struggles of Henry Clay, Abraham Lincoln and James A. Garfield, but Daniel Webster deserved more credit than any of them. He studied every spare moment, and had a great memory. After relating some interesting anecdotes of Webster, he told of the advance made in science since that time, and that success was in the reach of ever man and woman. Every man cannot expect to acquire a fortune, yet he can be successful.

RUBY B. SPENCER, read an essay on "Famous Caves and Caverns," in which the scientific causes of these wonderful formations were given, she described the peculiarities of the great caves of the old world, and told something of their history. The great mammoth cave of Kentucky was commented upon at length and interesting facts concerning its structure was given.

SAMUEL L. STEVENS, read a very practical essay on "True Success." He told in a brief and comprehensive way how true success could be accomplished, and gave numerous examples wherein many prominent individuals had attained merited honor. He gave the actual meaning of true success, explained how this all desired attainment could be secured.

HULDA HOLDEN, was the class prophet, and her forecast of events, that may have occurred thirty years hence, was ingenious, and afforded considerable amusement. It was pointed and well written.

IMOGENE HARDING, was the last on the program with her Essay and Valedictory Commencement, but she was not least by any means, and her well written address was timely and read with good effect. Lack of space prevents mention of the good things her essay contained, but it was listened to with marked attention throughout. It was appropriate and interesting.

During the ten and a half years Miss Harding has attended the Oregon City public schools, she has never been tardy, and for the last nine months she has not missed a single day.

After his class had concluded their exercises, Superintendent H. S. Holmes introduced County Superintendent H. S. Gibson, who presented the diplomas to the members of the class, after a most appropriate address replete with words of advice and cheer that were well received.

Numerous bouquets were showered on the individual members of the class by their many friends, which made an elegant floral display on the stage.

H. Hansen of Beaver Creek, was arrested and brought before Justice Dixon Monday, on a charge of destroying personal property. He made a note of $550 payable to C. Krohn, and after a period of time paid $50 on the principal, and Mr. Krohn brought him a new note in place of the old one, and Hansen after getting possession of the old note threw it into the fire, and refused to sign the new note which Mr. Krohn had already drawn up. Hansen was bound over in the sum of $100 to appear before the next grand jury, which amount was furnished. It is reported that Krohn will bring a civil suit for the recovery of the $300 alleged to be due him from Hansen.

Among the Oregon City people who attended the Commencement exercises of the Pacific university at Forest Grove last week, were H. L. Andrews, Mrs. D. C. Latourette and Miss Jean White. Ernest Rands and H. A. Andrews were members of the '95 graduating class from Oregon City, and acquitted themselves very creditably. The title of Ernest Rands' oration, was the "Green Mountain Boys," and that of H. A. Andrews, "The Future of Electricity." All of the above-named persons returned home Friday. Hal Rands, however, who has been attending the university, remains at Forest Grove.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Geo. A. Harding, druggist.

Do You Travel? The O. R. & N. Co., always alert to the welfare of their patrons, have placed on sale at principal stations, a 1000 mile ticket at the rate of three cents per mile, good one year from date of sale and good for passage over the rail and water lines of their system.

The hearing in a land contest case before the U. S. land office was completed Wednesday evening after six days sittings. The contestants were Mark S. Warren and Robert Gibson of Seaside, Clatsop county, and the dispute is over a homestead right to a valuable piece of land in that county, on which a townsite was formerly laid out, called Brighton Beach. A. S. Dresser represented the interests of Gibson in the case, and a decision will be anxiously awaited by the contestants.

The Park Place Sunday school will give a picnic at Capt Smith's grove, Friday afternoon and evening of this week. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, raspberries and lemonade will be served. Foot races and other games for amusement. At 7:30 p. m. a band concert and literary entertainment will be held at which a fine musical and literary program will be carried out. Ice cream 5 cents for children, 10 cents for adults. Will occur Saturday if it rains Friday.

The forty-second session of the annual conference of the United Brethren church was held at Philomath this week. Rev. W. H. McLean, formerly of pastor of the church in this city was given the Roseburg charge, and Rev. J. W. Eldridge was changed from Portland to Oregon City. Rev. H. L. Barkley, D. D. was assigned to the Marley charge in Marion county. Rev. Samuel Matthew of Canby, from the M. E. church joined the conference.

Chas. Califf has bought two lots in Green Point of Jas. Wilkinson and is at work building a small cottage on it. Mr. Califf is not a man to let his reverses discourage and he proposes to again have a home of his own. For his new home he pays in month's instalments the amount he otherwise would pay out for rent.

The rendition of the cantata of Queen Esther has been postponed until sometime in September, when it will be presented with every possible effort for its success. Mrs. N. Heath and the ladies who had charge of the cantata, desire to express their thanks to those who so kindly assisted in the rehearsals.

The Ladies Relief Corps of George Wright Post, Portland, and the Meade Relief Corps of this city will hold a joint picnic at Broderick's park next Tuesday, and the occasion will no doubt be a most enjoyable one. In the evening the Portland corps will make Meade Corps a fraternal visit.

The Red Front Trading Company, of Oregon City, have filed articles of incorporation, with a capital stock of $6000, divided into 120 shares of 50 each. The incorporators are W. H. Smith, Eli Criswell and Thomas Allen, and will engage in a general mercantile business in this city.

A number of our citizens attended the meeting in Portland Monday evening to consider plans of securing the international Y. P. S. C. E. for 1897. A half-fare rate on the railroads has already been guaranteed. This convention will bring 15,000 young people to Portland and Oregon.

During the past week there has been a new addition to the Courier staff. It is a boy weighing ten and a half pounds, and he appeared last Sunday. The proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cheney, are receiving the congratulations of friends.

The school at Maple Lane will close on Friday of this week, with appropriate literary exercises in the afternoon. The term has been one of unusually success and Mr. E. M. Ward, the teacher, is deserving of praise for the care and labor, he has given his school.

The new wood pulp mill of the Crown Paper Company, is now running night and day, giving employment to a full force of men. It is expected to have the sulphite mill completed within another month.

County Clerk Horton has granted permits to marry to Grace D. Little and Jacob McComb, and Charles E. Midlam and Sylvia F. Stevens.

Lost, Sunday evening on Main street a gold glove buttoner with "J. S." on bangle. Finder will please leave at Harding's drug store and receive reward.

Teachers Elected.

The board of directors of Oregon City school district No. 62, met at the office of T. F. Ryan, district clerk, Wednesday evening. All the members of the board were present, consisting of T. S. Lawrence, chairman, J. W. Noble and Dr. J. W. Norris. After passing on some bills and attending to routine business, the board adjourned to the office of Dr. J. W. Norris, where they remained in secret session until near midnight, and elected teachers for the ensuing year as follows: City superintendent, Prof. W. S. Holmes; principal of the Eastham school, Prof. L. W. McAdams.

Barclay school—Miss May Kelly, 1st. Miss Hattie Cochran, 2d, Mrs. L. W. McAdams, 3d, Miss Laura Beattie, 4th, Miss Hattie Monroe, 5th, Miss Gertrude Finley 6th, P. M. Weddell, 7th, W. S. Holmes, principal.

Eastham school—Miss Mollie Hankins, 1st, Miss Hattie Wetherell, 2d, Miss Ora Spangler, 3 and 4th, Miss Anna Baird, 5th, Miss Erma Lawrence 6th, Prof. W. L. McAdams, principal.

Out of the fourteen teachers only two changes were made, and Mrs. McAdams and Miss Beattie will fill the positions occupied by Miss Nellie Younker and Mrs. Glass last year.

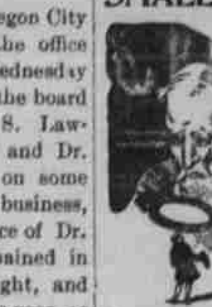

There were fifteen applications for the positions of city superintendent and principal of the Eastham school, some of them hailing from Eastern states. For the twelve places as grade teachers, there were thirty-two applications.

Prof. McAdams' salary was raised to $100 per month.

I give a personal guarantee for the strength and purity of Golden West baking powder. Sold at the same price of other high grade powders and is made in Oregon. Try a can.

E. E. Williams, the grocer.

SMALLER THAN USUAL

—illiptian, in fact, are Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Dr. J. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., was the first to introduce a Little Pill to the American people. For all laxative and cathartic purposes these sugar-coated "Pellets" are superior in a great many ways to all mineral waters, sedlitz powders, salts, castor oil, fruit syrups, laxative teas, and other purgative compounds. Made of concentrated vegetable ingredients, they act in a mild, natural way. Their secondary effect is to keep the liver active and the bowels regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. They don't interfere in the least with the diet, habits or occupation, and produce no pain, griping or shock to the system.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. These "Pellets" are easily dissolved in the stomach and absorbed into the blood, stimulating a flow of bile from the liver, and arousing to activity all the glandular secretions. Thus they act in nature's own way. In proof of their superior excellence, it can be truthfully said, that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mildly cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve distress from over-eating, they are unequalled.

They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them. Once used, always in favor.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.
