

OUR SOLDIERS.

Company and Personnel of Co. F—A Record to be Proud of.

On Wednesday of this week Co. F, 1st regiment O. N. G. completed six years as a military organization, the company, having been organized and born in on June 26, 1894. Lieutenant Wells, of Co. K, Portland, administered oath and forty-seven answered the roll-call as they assembled in the county court room in the court house where they were mustered into the state's service.

The newly formed company immediately perfected its organization by electing Jas. P. Shaw, captain, E. S. Warren, 1st lieutenant, and T. P. Randall 2d lieutenant. The following were appointed as the non-commissioned officers:

- J. W. Ganong, 1st sergeant.
 - W. T. Whitlock, quartermaster sergt.
 - J. W. O'Connell, 2d sergeant.
 - F. S. Kelly, 3d sergeant.
 - E. M. Rands, 4th sergeant.
 - S. R. Green, 5th sergeant.
 - M. F. McCown, 1st corporal.
 - C. E. Murray, 2d corporal.
 - H. E. Stevens, 3d corporal.
 - D. E. Shepard, 4th corporal.
 - Sam Harrelson 1st lance corporal.
 - John A. Moore, 2d lance corporal.
 - Chas. Athey, 3d lance corporal.
 - A. H. Schram 4th lance corporal.
- The privates were as follows:
- W. T. Davidson, John W. Stewart,
 - B. F. Bureh, Frank Cross,
 - A. T. Olsen, Geo. Fox,
 - Horace Williams, T. J. Painter,
 - W. H. Stackpole, W. H. H. Samson,
 - Chas. Babcock, A. W. Graham,
 - G. C. Fields, John Thomas,
 - John Trembath jr., Chas. Peterson,
 - Henry Salisbury, Ernest Rands,
 - J. E. Rhoades, H. H. Johnson,
 - Joseph Green, J. W. Nobel,
 - J. K. Morris, J. W. Draper,
 - M. H. Flannagan, F. C. Miller,
 - Geo. Warner, W. H. Howell,
 - J. C. Hickman, A. B. Graham.

During that summer and fall the company used Pope's hall for a drill hall and such satisfactory progress was made in the manual of arms that the boys were soon able to present quite a soldierly appearance when on parade. Pope's hall being too small for their purpose the company in October of that year made a contract with Theo. Clarke for the erection of an armory building. A building was immediately erected 40x100 feet on Main street near Third by Mr. Clark and leased to the company. The armory having become too small, the company in June 1893 had an addition of 30 feet made to the length of the building. A commodious company room, dressing room and store room were partitioned off, leaving a fine drill floor of 40x100 feet. Around the company room lockers were placed for the use of the men in which to keep their uniforms, etc. A handsome carpet was placed on the floor and tables and easy chairs provided. A fine piano was installed and the tables furnished with papers and magazines, making the room a pleasant resort where the men could spend their leisure time.

A gymnasium has been fitted up that is quite complete in its appointments. It has proved of great value in stimulating legitimate athletics among the young men of Oregon City as well as a place of amusement for the boys of the company. Outside of Portland there are few companies in the state that have a better, if so good a drill hall and armory as Co. F. The expense of fitting it up and maintaining it has been largely in excess of what is allowed the company by the state and county and the liberal manner in which the boys have contributed toward maintaining their armory is a credit to their enterprise and patriotism.

Co. F now numbers fifty-eight men, the company roster being as follows:

- F. S. Kelly, captain.
- L. L. Pickens, 1st lieutenant.
- W. A. Huntley, 2d lieutenant.
- A. Matheson, 1st sergeant.
- W. T. Whitlock, quartermaster sergt.
- Fred A. Metzner, 2d sergeant.
- E. A. Smith, 3d sergeant.
- E. W. Scott, 4th sergeant.
- C. E. Hickman, 5th sergeant.
- Geo. B. Fancher, 1st corporal.
- H. K. Jones, 2d corporal.
- Geo. L. Casson, 3d corporal.
- George Pierter, 4th corporal.

- PRIVATE.
- Clarence A. Pardom, Jacob Polans,
 - C. G. Huntley, H. L. Kelly, jr.
 - John C. Keller, W. E. Lewthwaite.
 - S. Lankins, C. U. Murphy,
 - Lafayette Marrs, W. G. Muir,
 - Geo. M. McBride, Ralph D. Miller,
 - E. C. Neuman, Jas. W. O'Connell,
 - J. M. Russell, W. E. Roake,
 - Peter Raber, Isaac Turney,
 - Jacob Arstin, Thos. E. Carrico,
 - Ed. S. Califf, David Fancher,
 - Fred H. Fuller, Harmon Green,
 - William Gatlke, E. S. Hickman,
 - Arthur C. Warner, Wm. B. Wiggins,
 - Geo. S. Wood, W. A. White,
 - Coas. L. Gray, J. W. Sullivan,
 - Max Kennelring, H. E. McCausland,
 - E. W. McCausland, August Zimmerman,
 - J. W. Moffatt, C. U. Wilson,
 - Max Telford, Frank McCausland,
 - J. U. Campbell, E. A. Leighton,
 - J. H. Black, Chas. Hutli,
 - C. G. Norbez.

The company's honorary members embrace several of Oregon City's best known citizens. The following is the list:

- H. E. Smith, Judge J. W. Meldrum,
- P. F. Morey, Dr. W. E. Carll,
- J. P. Lovett, Capt. A. B. Graham,
- Capt. J. W. Ganong.

As yet a veteran corps has not been organized within the company, but it is the intention to do so at an early date, there being a number of members entitled to such honor.

Of the changes that have taken place in the personnel of the company the ESTERNAISE can only give that of the commissioned officers owing to the limited space. The first change in the commissioned officers took place in December, 1890, when Capt. Jas. P. Shaw tendered his resignation. It was accepted and in the following April First Lieutenant E. S. Warren was elected captain and J. W. Ganong made 1st lieutenant and T. P. Randall 2d lieutenant. The next resignation was that of Capt. E. S. Warren and in March 1892 First Lieutenant Ganong was promoted to the command of the company and T. P. Randall was made 1st lieutenant and F. S. Kelly 2d lieutenant. Lieutenant Randall resigned his commission in May 1892 and by promotion F. S. Kelly was raised from 2d to 1st lieutenant and L. L. Pickens made 2d lieutenant. Capt. J. W. Ganong gave up command of the company in April 1895 and Lieutenant Kelly was given command of the company and L. L. Pickens made 1st lieutenant and W. A. Huntley 2d lieutenant.

Of Co. F's ex-commanding officers Capt. Shaw and Ganong now reside in Portland and Capt. Warren resides in Brownsville.

Of the two encampments that have been held by the 1st regiment since Co. F was organized, both have been participated in by the company. At Camp Gibbon, St. Helens, held in July, 1891 the company was in camp six days and at Camp Compton, Gladstone, in August 1893, ten days were spent in camp. In each of the encampments Co. F took part in all the regimental drills and maneuvers and always acquitted itself with credit and proved itself to be the peer of the Portland companies in the number of men in line and in the efficiency and spirit with which it discharged all duties assigned to it.

Co. F has always without the least reluctance or hesitancy participated in all public parades and gatherings held in Oregon City when so requested and always with full ranks. Of the spirit that pervades the members of the company it may be mentioned that in the late parade held in this city in honor of the state encampment of the G. A. R. Co. F had forty-six men in line out of forty-seven who were in Oregon City the week of the encampment. The forty-seventh man would have been in the ranks had he been free to do so, but holding an important position in one of the paper mills was unable to get off on that day. The other men who were not in the ranks were all out of the city or they too would have been in their places in the company.

The company has applications in for membership to more than fill it up to the limit (sixty) now allowed by law. Should the state board raise the limit to one hundred as provided by law Co. F would experience no difficulty in securing recruits to bring it up to this new limit. To be a member of Co. F has always been an honor much sought after by the young men of Oregon City for in the selection of recruits the greatest care has been exercised and no one admitted who would in any manner bring reproach to the upon company or lower its standard of manhood.

Co. F is no body of "tin soldiers" as some derisively call the members of the militia, but on the contrary are loyal, patriotic young men who would fall in as readily to march to the defense of their country as they do for a parade. Its members are all orderly, sober, industrious young men, with nothing of the rowdy or ruffian in their makeup and anarchism and disobedience to the laws of the country finds little encouragement among them.

Co. F is an organization that Oregon City may well be proud of and its maintenance is a duty that all loyal citizens owe to their country, for the time may come sooner than we dream of when the command to "shoulder arms," will mean more than that of going on a pleasure parade.

On Monday evening of next week will occur the annual inspection of Co. F. The inspection will be conducted by Gen. Beebe, commander of the Oregon National Guard. He will have with him his full staff and will be accompanied by Col. Jackson of the regular army, with his staff. Capt. Kelly expects to have the full strength of his company out on that evening and to make it a military event worthy of the distinguished officers that will be present. The armory will be open to visitors on that evening and the boys of Co. F will be pleased to welcome their friends, both ladies and gentlemen.

Chautauqua and the Grange.

At the annual convention of the State Grange at Oregon City, May 27th, 28th and 29th, Col. Miller in his manner gave an outline the Chautauqua course of study, and general aim and purpose, and invited the grange to co-operate with us in the future, and hereafter a day will be set apart to be known as Grange Day at all future assemblies. In response, the State Grange passed the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, The Chautauqua assembly is an organization originated and conducted for the purpose of educating the people and,

WHEREAS, The Patrons of Husbandry in their declaration of purposes declares for higher education. Therefore be it

Resolved, That this State Grange is in favor of joining hands with the Chautauqua organization, and request the Willamette Valley association to set apart at their annual gathering a day to be called Grange Day. And be it further

Resolved, That the subordinate granges be requested to form circles and take advantage of this mode of education.

Resolved, That the Master appoint a standing committee, known as the Chautauqua committee, to take charge of this part of the work.

The Master appointed as such committee F. A. Miller, of Sellwood; Mrs. Zella S. Fletcher, of Salem; Mrs. Rosa J. Wilson, of Corvallis; Mrs. E. M. Howard, of Mulino, and Mrs. Emma D. Spores, of Mohawk.

Lodge Notes.

At the regular meeting of the Eastern Star held Tuesday night, degree work was presented, and a most enjoyable social time was had. Mrs. F. A. Helm, of Corvallis, associate grand matron, and Mrs. Miller, of Portland, past grand organist, visited the chapter.

Monday night Rev. Dr. Block of Portland delivered a very interesting and scholarly address to the members of Multnomah lodge No. 1, A. F. and A. M. Those who heard the address speak of it in the highest terms of praise.

The Rebecca Degree lodge will elect officers for the ensuing six months at their meeting Friday night.

To Spread the Eagle.

Oregon City talent is well represented at the various celebrations to be held in the county on the Fourth. Mr. W. W. Austin and Hon. George O. Rinearson speak at Wright's Springs; A. S. Dresser will address the people at Viola and Prof. H. S. Strange will deliver the oration at Logan. At Deep Creek Supt. H. S. Gibson will speak and at at Porter's Cave in the forenoon and at Eagle Creek Falls in the afternoon State Senator Geo. C. Brownell will deliver addresses. Each are talented speakers and will both please and interest their hearers.

A quiet, but eventual wedding ceremony took place in Canemah Wednesday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Bingham. The contracting parties were Charles E. Midlam and Miss Sylvia Stevens, both deservedly popular young people. Rev. A. J. Montgomery performed the ceremony in the presence of a few invited friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Midlam now occupy their own cottage at Canemah, which was recently completed.

F. M. Manning, of Clarkes, was in Oregon City Thursday. Mr. Manning in addition to carrying on his farm, operates a tanning and glove factory. His gloves are all made from backskin and are tanned by a process that gives them great strength and wearing qualities. He finds ready sale for all he can make as those who use them find them much superior to the Eastern made gloves. Mr. Manning is a notary public and attends to all business in that line for his neighbors.

William Scandlin, a prominent and well-to-do farmer of Beaver Creek, was married in Portland Tuesday to Mrs. Londegan. Wednesday evening a reception was tendered the happy couple at the residence of George Trailer at Beaver Creek, which was a grand affair. The congratulations of many friends are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Scandlin.

Mrs. E. E. Williams received the sad intelligence Wednesday of the death on that day, of her mother, Mrs. W. T. Raglan at her home in Dennison, Texas. Owing to the long distance and impossibility of reaching Dennison in time for the funeral, Mrs. Williams is unable to attend and will not make a trip to her old home for the present.

After many changes the Oregon City laundry has at last got into the hands of a first-class laundryman, one who is honest and understands his business. Geo. P. Bradford is now in sole charge and he proposes by good work, reasonable prices and promptness, to merit and to secure the laundry work of Oregon City.

G. W. Kidder presented this office with a box of Jucunda strawberries grown on his place at Mt. Pleasant that were fine specimens of that excellent variety. When it comes to strawberries Oregon leads in size and flavor.

J. W. Mills, one of the lucky teachers in the Portland schools who was re-elected as a teacher, is attending the Baptist convention, and kindly furnished the list of delegates in attendance to the ENTERPRISE.
