

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT AFTERMATH.

Matters and Incidents With Newspaper Excerpts.

Many interesting items and incidents connected with the G. A. R. encampment were crowded out last week, and some of them are given here, as well as several newspaper comments thereon.

Excellent music was furnished for the parades and assemblies by the Park Place band, Meade Post Fifa and Drum Corps, and the First Regiment band of Portland.

It was very much regretted by the committees having the management of the encampment, that many people who contributed to the expense of decoration and proper entertainment, were unable to see or hear the interesting indoor exercises, as the crowds were so large, that all could not be admitted.

Heretofore, many people expressed doubts as to the ability of Oregon City to properly handle and entertain a large crowd of people attending a convention. But this question has been virtually settled, as the G. A. R. veterans assert that they were never better entertained anywhere than here.

The Oregon City Transportation Company with their wonted liberality, made special low rates to the public between Portland this city, a fact that was appreciated by the many visitors to the city.

Capt. Rockwell, of the United States Geodetic survey, was one of the prominent people who attended the encampment. He had the honor of being a member of General Grant's staff and was a member of the engineer corps during the rebellion.

The East Side Railway deserve special mention for their liberality in giving the veterans special rates, and for free transportation to Gladstone Park, where they were delighted with the surroundings.

Company F made a good showing in the parade, and all of Captain Kelly's men in the city were in line except one. Out of the fifty-three members of the Company, forty-seven were in town and of this number forty-six were in line. The one not in attendance was William Sheehan whose presence at the paper mills was almost imperative, but he assisted the other boys employed there, who were members of the militia, to get off and take part in the parade.

Roseburg Review: The G. A. R. post of Roseburg offered the S. P. Company $500 for one passenger coach to Oregon City and return, but the management of the road demanded $396. The post refused to pay that amount and afterward the company sent a representative to try and get them to accept the car at their own terms, but the members were so disgusted with the company's grasping game that they refused to take it at all.

McMinnville Yamhill Reporter: About fifty representatives of Custer Post and auxiliary relief corps returned Wednesday evening from a most delightful state encampment at Gladstone Park, Oregon City, at which Lawyer, the national commander, was present.

The Albany Herald in speaking of the opening day said: Monday was a gala day in the beautiful city by the falls of the Willamette, with its magnificent water power and growing manufactories. At least 10,000 people were assembled to greet the 1100 or 1200 veterans of the war who were in the line of march.

RATES OF TRANSPORTATION. The East Side electric cars from Portland run directly into the grounds every few minutes—fare 25 cents for the round trip. The Southern Pacific will also run daily trains to and from Portland, as noted in their time table in another column—25 cents the round trip.

The Dalles Times-Mountaineer: Immediately after the installation ceremonies, Mrs. Myers, the department president of the Women's Relief Corps, announced the list of appointive officers for the ensuing year. The closing hours of the session were marked by many pleasant words, the same spirit of harmony and earnestness prevailing that characterized the entire session. Two very handsome bouquets were presented by Meade Corps No. 18, one to Mrs. Ungerman, the retiring department president, and the other to the newly elected president, Mrs. Myers.

The Dalles Chronicle: The meeting of the Grand Army of the state at Oregon City is one of the occasions which a few years hence will be memorable. Thirty years have passed since those men were organized as a military power, and each year from now on will make a deep inroad upon the numbers who marched fought to save the nation.

The plan of having a great reunion of old soldiers and their families at Gladstone Park next summer is meeting with hearty approval from the old veterans. O. Eaton, a prominent G. A. R. man of Oswego called at this office last Saturday to express his approval of the work of the ENTERPRISE in agitating and stirring up an interest in the proposed reunion.

Mr. Eaton thinks that the last week in August would be the best time for holding it as at that time of year the farmers are least busy and the weather is almost sure to be dry and pleasant. He says the boys are getting old and they will not be able to meet together many more times and this reunion would give them an opportunity of fighting their battles over again and of renewing their army acquaintances. Among the war relics possessed by Mr. Eaton is a cane presented to him by Mrs. C. A. Lacey that was made by her father, the late L. M. Cankins, from the sprout of an apple tree that had been up-rooted by a shell from one of Porter's gunboats at the siege of Vicksburg where Mr. Cankins was stationed with Grant's army.

Mr. Eaton comes of soldier stock, his father served in the war of 1812 and his grandfather did battle for his country's rights in the war of the revolution while his great-grandfather endured all the hardships and dangers that the Colonial army were exposed to in the French and Indian war. Should the country again be in danger the Eaton family would be ready as of days gone by, to furnish a representation in the army for its defense.

An Ideal Location. Why is Oregon City the natural home of the Chautauqua Assembly? Because its means of transportation are unexcelled; because it lies under the shadow of a great city; because it is in the heart of a populous valley; because it is famed for its scenery, its bluffs and falls; because excursion parties are constantly choosing it for outing picnics; because no visitor from the East feels that he has seen Oregon until he views the Falls of the Willamette, the only spot in the world where the seatide comes up to the foot of a mighty cataract; because Oregon City has a large body of thoughtful, studious people, and because she has enterprising and sagacious men who are willing to work in its interest and give the Assembly a home.

days in advance. Excursion rates can also be obtained by consulting in advance the pursers of the regular boats of the O. R. & N. and the Oregon City Transportation Company.

The Willamette Assembly.

The Willamette Assembly is organized on high moral grounds. In every community able to support it there is need and demand for an institution offering, in a popular manner, secular and religious education; providing a meeting ground for the great reformatory movements of the day; securing the best speakers on topics new and important to the body of the people; with all this, giving in some beautiful situation of nature rest and recreation, and an abundance of wholesome entertainment and fun. It is not a rival of the church or the schools, but an adjunct to both.

It ought to be supported on these grounds by all who believe in a better public sentiment and practice. We believe it will be supported on the ground that it gives a full return for all the money and interests it solicits. Here in one of the most beautiful parks in the state the assembly has its home. Under the trees, scattered thickly about the grounds, can be found ample shade, the green grass makes a velvety carpet, and everywhere walks wind among the trees. The great auditorium where the public entertainments are held, is a model of architectural skill, and will comfortably seat 3,000 people.
