WILHOIT STAGE HOLD UP.—Noblett's Oregon City and Wilhoit stage was held up Monday morning at Howard's hill, about nine miles east of this place. Hank Mattoon, the driver, started out in the morning with one passenger, Mr. Levy, a clothing merchant of Portland, who was on his way for a few days outing at Wilhoit Springs. Nothing unusual occurred on the trip until they reached Howard's hill, when two men stepped out of the brush in front of the stage armed with guns and commanded them to throw up their hands, then demanded their money. Mattoon told them he had no money, but Levy threw out his purse and what loose change he had in his pocket. His purse contained besides money a pair of cameo cuff buttons with diamond settings, some gold shirt studs, and a gold collar button, and the highwayman got away with $35 in coin besides the other articles mentioned. No sooner was the purse and coin in the hands of the brigands, when they told the driver to go on. Both of the robbers wore white caps over their faces, and evidently wore false whiskers, so that it would be difficult to identify them. The robbers were evidently in a hurry for when Mattoon told them he had no money, they did not molest him, and made quick work of securing Levy's possessions.

THE CIRCUUS SMELL GAME.—The circus has been here and gone, and the sockers still live. The shell game was worked with more than usual success, notwithstanding, humanity has bit at its tempting bait, with the expectation of getting something for nothing, for these many years. Gus Dalke, who lives near Ely came down to see the circus, and dropped all the money he had in his pocket on the shell game, $19. He was told that he had won $50, but to secure it he must show $100. He went to the bank and drew out $100, in the meantime telling several friends, among them Sheriff Maddock, that he had won $50, and related the circumstances connected therewith, and was advised to have nothing more to do with the game. Contrary to expectations, he went up and lost his $100, but the officers were unable to locate the men, who made themselves scarce. Charles Klobe, of Canby is said to have dropped $75 on the delusive game, and his neighbor, W. Klachtsch, is supposed to have lost a similar sum. Several others are reported to have lost, but prefer to hide their disgrace by keeping still.

WILL MOORE IN THE TOLLS.—Sheriff Maddock returned from Baker City Monday, where he had gone to bring home

Mort Green, who broke jail here last December. Mort had made good his escape from the Baker county jail the night before the sheriff arrived and the officers there thought they would recover him in a short time, so Maddock remained over a day, but as the officials did not succeed in finding Mort, he concluded to go to Pendleton and spend Sunday. While sitting on the sidewalk conversing with a friend, Sheriff Maddock observed Will Moore, the erstwhile suit club man of Oregon City, passing down the other side. The sheriff followed and overtook Moore in the post-office, who readily consented to return to Oregon City. The enterprising tailor had gone into business in Pendleton, and with a lot of samples was soliciting orders for clothing to be made up in Chicago. Moore had a hearing before Justice Dixon Tuesday. He waived examination, and was bound over in the sum of $5000 to appear before the grand jury at the next term of court. There will be more than one charge of fraud brought against him, and he also gave a check for $2.50 in favor of John Morris and drew on the Commercial bank, when he had no money on deposit. If Mort Green had not escaped from the Baker county jail, it is hardly probable that Sheriff Maddock would have accidentally run across Moore at Pendleton, who is likely wanted by more people than the former.

TO BE TESTED.—At the trial of Rev. J. C. Read, for the attempted robbery of the First National bank of East Portland, a large number of witnesses were summoned from Oregon City, who went down to Portland at their own expense and gave in their testimony. Five of the witnesses disposed of their prospective fees to a warrant scalper, and the county clerk of Multnomah county certified that they were the first five who were summoned. The county court of that county has declined to pay more than five witnesses in a number of criminal cases recently brought before the courts of that city, where the witnesses came over a distance of two miles. As a consequence, a large number of witnesses in the Read case who went from Oregon City at their own expense and time, are left out. These unpaid claims in Oregon City amount to $140 and have been assigned to Postmaster S. R. Green, who went to Portland Tuesday and through his attorneys U. S. District Attorney Murphy and John M. Goarin, brought suit to recover the witness fees. This suit will test the constitutionality of the law enacted at the last legislature as to the payment of witness fees.

IN A PERILOUS POSITION.—Two boys, sons of Caleb and Mitt Cross were driving down Main street in a spring wagon last Saturday evening. When they reached the Congregational church the electric car was following close behind, and the horses became scared from this or some other cause and started off in a dead run, throwing one of the boys off to the ground while the other fell between one of the front wheels and the bed of the wagon. He held on to the bed with his hands and his body wedged between the wheel and wagon box kept the former solidly locked until they reached Green's Point, where a team drove in front of the running horses and brought them to a sudden stop. The boy was rescued from his perilous position, and strange to say, was able to walk about, having suffered no serious damage except a few bruises. The boy that was thrown to the ground, received some bruises, but not seriously hurt.

"Eli Lee's" Big Day.—Last Saturday was a gala day for one Clackamas county boy. M. J. (Eli) Lee of Canby was the hero of the day at the Road Club cycle meeting held at Portland, and done a competition mile in 2:22.15. After making an excellent showing in all class B events, he rode the final of the mile open in the time above mentioned; which clips 4-1-5 seconds from the record, and won by an inch from Brown, the Spokane crack, in the greatest race ever seen in this part of the country. The crack riders of the B class were present from all sections of the Northwest, and Lee carried off the honors of the day. This makes him the acknowledged champion of the Northwest, and his numerous friends extend congratulations. It was a great day for the victor, and his Oregon friends tossed him in the air, amid the enthusiasm of the spectators.

WHO CAPTAIN PAUL WEBB IS.—Says the Telephone-Register: "Owing to the many untrue stories circulated in the press of Washington and Oregon regarding John Stewart, alias Captain Paul Webb, his father, James H. Stewart, of this city, wishes it to be known that he is not related to Senator Stewart, that he is 27 years of age and was born in York, Neb., and is a photographer by trade. He has been a resident of McMinnville for the past five years, or until he entered the business of going over falls in a barrel. His father is an ex-captain of the army and served through the civil war and is a respected citizen of this city."

AN UNFORTUNATE ERROR.—By a typographical error in last week's ENTERPRISE a serious injury was done to the people of Sandy in the communication from that place by stating that several parties were down with the small pox. The copy sent by the ENTERPRISE correspondent at that place plainly said chicken pox, but in a moment of absent-mindedness the compositor set it up small pox, and in the hurry of proof-reading the error was overlooked and not discovered until after the forms were off the press. Several protests and inquiries have been received in regard to the matter, and from the correspondent him-elf. To all the editor of this paper has to say that the correspondent was not to blame for the statement, but that the ENTERPRISE was alone responsible for the unfortunate statement.

TO MEET ENCAMPMENT EXPENSES.—The ladies of the relief corps will give a lawn social at the home of Mrs. M. A. Stuart on Wednesday evening, July 24, the proceeds to go to assist the G. A. R. in paying the debts incurred during the encampment here. Admission free. Ice cream and cake served from 6 o'clock at 10 cents per dish. The committee having in charge the entertaining of the late encampment failed in raising money enough to meet all their expenses and they call upon all public spirited citizens of Oregon City to attend their social and spend a pleasant evening and at the same time help out a necessary public duty.

Barlow-Pusey Nuptials.

For some weeks it has been whispered in certain circles that Cassius U. Barlow, the well known merchant of Barlow, intended committing matrimony and the following from the Stockton Evening Mail of July 10th, indicates that such rumors were not without foundation: "Miss Addie J. Pusey, one of Stockton's favorite daughters, will be married tomorrow at St. John's Episcopal church to Cassius U. Barlow," a wealthy young Oregonian, who hails from Barlow. The wedding will be an unassuming affair. The happy couple will go to San Francisco and then make a wedding tour through the southern part of the state. On their return they will go to Mr. Barlow's home in Oregon.

TESTIMONIALS.

Hillsdale, Or., April 25, 1895.
DEAR SIR:—Replying to your favor of 23d Inst., I beg to say that the Prune Grader I bought from you last year, has given perfect satisfaction. Never so good of order, is easy to operate and grades the prunes as even as can be desired; and affords me great pleasure to speak a word in its praise. A good many fruit growers valued my part during prune drying time and were surprised at the excellent work it does.
Yours Truly,
HARRY E. DOWD.

VANCOUVER, Wash., April 15, 1895.
DEAR SIR:—I used one of your fruit graders last year and will say I am very much pleased with its working. I think your grader is the cheapest and best I have ever seen used. I wouldn't exchange my $25 grader for any $50 grader in use around here.
Yours Truly,
C. H. RICKER.
