The way to build up Oregon City is to give Oregon City people your patronage.

OUR FISHERIES.

The recent conflict of authority between Oregon and Washington over the control of the fisheries of the Columbia river, and the inability of either state to properly protect and build up the fishing industry within its own borders, indicate stronger than ever that the control and management of the fish business should be put into the hands of the general government...

The streams of the United States being largely inter-state in their flow, there would be less clashing of local interests if the general government had control of the fishing as it now has of the improvements to navigation...

There should a state law governing the sale of stray stock taken up in incorporated towns. Under the present methods of procedure by most towns in Oregon great injustice is often done owners of stock that have fallen into the hands of the poundmaster...

OREGON CITY is surely and steadily increasing in population and area, and the difficulty of locating new residents, even by one intimately acquainted with every section of the city, is daily becoming more apparent...

houses numbered. Under present conditions it would be a matter of economy to have the streets labeled and the houses numbered, as the saving in the loss of time and vexation of spirit would more than compensate for the outlay.

Here is a little record of the first fiscal year under the new tariff, prepared by the Toledo Blade. It is worth putting in your pocket-book for reference:

McKinley law, two months, surplus, $9,026,461. Wilson law, ten months, deficiency, $30,320,644. Deficiency for fiscal year, $44,404,183. Deficiency for sinking fund for year, $48,000,000.

The bicycle having about ruined the lively stable business and badly crippled the street car lines, has now invaded the race track with fair prospects of driving its four-wheeled competitor off the track, or at least of securing from the race horse the lion's share of attention paid by the public to speed events.

The Harmony correspondent for the Enterprise reports that the potato bug has made its appearance in that locality, and has commenced its work of destruction. If it is the Colorado potato bug we are to Oregon farmers, for it will add $10 per acre to the cost of growing potatoes, and it will be possible that in this mild climate it will multiply in such prodigious numbers as to ruin the potato industry.

It appears from a calculation made by the chief of the bureau of statistics that the consumption of sugar during 1894 was 65 1/2 pounds for each man, woman and child in the country, which is estimated to be in excess of the weight of the bread consumed in the same time.

The extent to which the use of the bicycle has grown may be judged by the fact that $3,000,000 were spent last year in the United States for this speedy little machine. The amount expended for wheels this year promises to be very much larger than that of last year.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

The colored man question assumes less disturbing influences as the years go by, and eventually will cease to be a cause of friction. The Globe Democrat says: The general idea that the negro population of the South increases as fast as the whites, or even faster, is erroneous, if the figures given by Dr. De Saussure, of Charleston, are to be credited.

Of the prospect of there being but few racing horses at the state fair the Northwest Pacific Farmer has the following to say: The horsemen are backward about filling up the entrances to the races in the state fair this fall. They say that the fair is to be held so late that the rain will overtake it, and that they do not intend to spend money training horses and then not get to run them.

The Bicycling World corrects a very general misapprehension by stating that it is he who tries to sit up straight on a bicycle, and not the one who bends forward, who "humps himself." The back of the stooped fellow, it insists, is straight, the bend being at the hips, the shoulders being pushed back square by the weight resting on the rider's hands, which rests on top of the bar. The other fellow reaches under the grips and by pulling draws his shoulders together and cramps his chest.

The preservation of the old historic vessels of our navy prompts the San Francisco

Call to make the following protest against their destruction, or else when repaired to preserve them in their original type: There is reported to be much regret among the officers of the navy that the Hartford, now being repaired at Mare Island, is not to be restored a perfect model of her original type—fitted, finished and furnished with historical accuracy. This regret will not be confined to the navy. It is a sentiment which will be shared by loyal hearts all over the land...

The carelessness and incompetency of the average legislative clerk, as well as the worthlessness of many of our legislators, is handled without gloves by The Dalles Chronicle in the following plain words: It is now pretty well settled that the honest exemption act of 1893, is invalid by reason of a change made in the act in one house which was never acquiesced in by the other.

Logan Looks. LOGAN, July 29.—The grain fields are assuming the golden color which means harvest, and many are busy cutting and some are preparing to thresh.

The United States government has built a new barn at the hatchery on the Clackamas and is making several other general improvements. F. Gerber is doing the work. We understand that several of the Logan people "saw the elephant" at the syndicate show to the extent of several dollars.

Chas. Situmway was kicked in the face by a horse but not seriously hurt. H. Cromer had an accident last week while cutting grain for Mr. Newkirk. A bee stung one of the horses causing them to run away with the binder, but did no serious damage as they did not run far.

A. M. Kirchem left on Saturday for Ilwaco where he intends to work. There was an A. P. A. lecture at Tracy's hall on Saturday last. It looks as if times were getting better as the Logan people are all making improvements. Another barn has gone up; this time at Casper Moore's.

There seems to be a long-fingered tramp around the neighborhood this summer. A lot of cherries were taken from Clem Clark's orchard at night a few weeks ago. Clem says he will build a high barbed wire fence around the cherries next year. Last week Sam Gerber lost some meat from his cellar. Some way the thief dropped a ham at the door. He may have been in a hurry. (He might be in a bigger one next time.) This may be a warning to others to keep their cellars locked unless they have more than they need.

Rudolph Zerbuchen is much better. It was a mistake saying he was taken to the hospital, as we had been informed. He was at home all the time. For the ailments in the kidneys and bladder incident to declining years, there is no remedy that produces such immediate and satisfactory results as Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm. Its genial and invigorating effect on the liver and kidneys is remarkable. Price $1. For sale by C. G. Huntley, druggist.
