DAMASCUS DOINGS.

Vehicle Goes Down an Embankment—Woman Badly Hurt—Other Events.

Little Roy Briethaupt has been quite sick the past week but is now slowly improving.

Will Derby, of Gresham, commences threshing in Damascus today.

As your correspondent will be absent for some time, Damascus items will probably be conspicuous by their absence for a time.

Maple Lane Musings.

MAPLE LAKE, Aug. 11.—The steam thrasher is at work among us and probably will be for some time, as some of the grain is not hauled in yet.

Stafford Notes.

STAFFORD, Aug. 13.—Still smoky; no sign of rain; people prospering; grain most all cut and stacked; potatoes looking green and thrifty.

The German Congregational church held services in Wm. Schatz's grove Sunday. Nearly three hundred persons were present. A great many conveyances came from Portland and came loaded. Dinner was served on tables set in the shade of some giant firs. And such a dinner—pies, cakes, hot coffee, and all things that go to tickle the palate of the average run of humanity—has not been set down to for man a long day by your humble scribe.

B. F. Weddle grins now, but dares not laugh for fear of waking his namesake, arrived on the 10th inst.

OSWEGO NEWS.

Orange Children's Day—Pay Day Once More—Mt. Hood Party Return.

Oswego, Aug. 14.—Last Saturday was children's day at the grange. There was quite a large attendance and all seemed to enjoy the occasion.

Saturday was also pay day at the foundry. This event as usual made the boys feel good.

Joseph Bickner, our South Oswego merchant, and David Nelson are rusticated in the foot hills, looking for deer and land.

The Mount Hood party returned home safe and sound. They enjoyed their trip very much. Fifteen of them climbed to the summit and deposited their names in the iron box. Among the number was Chester Struble, of Mount Tabor, who is only twelve years of age. Has any one younger than he ever performed the feat?

Rev. A. S. Mulligan and wife, of Sellwood, were visiting in Oswego Saturday.

Charles Miller resumed his position in G. W. Prosser's store on Monday morning, his wrist, that was so severely cut with glass some two months ago, having got about well.

Arch. Headrick leaves tomorrow for his old home in Minnesota. He expects to remain there.

On Monday afternoon there was quite an interesting trial in the justice's court here. Two young fellows were tried for stealing a stand of bees from Charles Ward. The state was represented by Attorney Rice and the defendants by J. U. Campbell. The defendant demanded a jury. Verdict not guilty. A Scotch verdict, not proven, would have been better in this case.

J. C. Haines, jr., and Miss Jessie attended the Good Templars' district lodge in Portland, Monday.

L. A. Jackson, our new town druggist, is in Oregon City today on business. The average Webfoot here longs for rain, and that longing also is indulged in by AMERICA.

Fehlerville News.

FEHLERVILLE, Aug. 12.—Fire has been set out in this neighborhood. It has burned sixty cords of wood and a half mile of rail fence to Clarence Porter. Luckily there was no wind or Mr. Porter's house might have gone up in the flames. The fire is under control now. This should be a warning to others intending to set out fires to wait until the danger season is over.

B. W. King is undoubtedly the happiest man in this section, and it is all because a baby girl arrived at his home August 6th. Mother and child progressing nicely.

Mrs. J. G. Fehlner has received word from South Dakota that her sister who has been dangerously ill is on the way of recovery.

Frank Miller, who has been at work in a shingle mill near Hubbard, is at home resting for a few days and getting ready to go harvesting.

Your correspondent has received notice that the Portland Sun Publishing Co. has made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors. We are in mourning, for the indications are that the Sun is dying in its short clothes and its subscribers are in the soup.

We are glad to see such a large corps of correspondents in the ENTERPRISE. It is the leading paper.

Logan Mills.

LOGAN, Aug. 8.—The Logan flouring mills have been overhauled and refitted, and are now making a first class grade of flour. Will grind for one-eighth and guarantee satisfaction.

Geo. FISCHER.

Children Who Suffer.

from scrofulous, skin or scalp diseases, ought to be given Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery, for purifying the blood. For children who are puny, pale or weak, the "Discovery" is a tonic which builds up both flesh and strength, what is said of it for children applies equally to adults. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets to work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, rouses every organ into natural action, and brings back health and strength. In recovering from pneumonia, fevers, and other wasting diseases, it speedily and surely invigorates and builds up the whole system.

For all diseases caused by a torpid liver or impure blood, as Dyspepsia, Bilioueness, Blisters and Eruption, it gives most perfect satisfaction.

Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. I will answer any inquiries regarding it when stamp is enclosed. I refer to any county official as to my reliability. Wm. ROACH, J. P., Primroy, Campbell Co., Tenn. For sale by G. A. # THE DAIRY

TELLTALE CHARTS.

Difference That a Grain Ration Makes When Pastures Dry Up.

When the dry weather checks the growth of grass in pastures, the cows greatly decrease in milk flow. In such droughts the feeding of grain to stock maintains the growth in size or weight.

MILK WITH AND WITHOUT GRAIN.

To ascertain the effect of a grain ration on cows at pasture, L. P. Roberts and H. H. Wing, at the New York Cornell station (B. 36), have fed for three summers a mixture of two parts cornmeal, one part bran and one part cottonseed meal to Jerseys and Holsteins. Each cow was fed a gallon daily in two feeds, night and morning. In 1889, with good pasture through the summer, the grain fed cows produced less milk and as much butter.

BUTTER WITH AND WITHOUT GRAIN.

In 1890, with good pasture, grain feeding did not increase the butter. In 1891, with short pasture, the grain fed cows yielded enough more milk and butter to pay for the grain, but each grain fed cow gained 28 pounds more flesh.

Unhappy Cheese Standard!

We have on our statute books a law which we call a "double header," because it is doubly violated. This law requires that all cheese branded "standard" must contain at least 30 per cent pure fat, but cheese buyers who have handled and tested those standards find that they average not over 25 per cent fat. But, to cap the climax, the buyer, when he receives those misrepresented standards, willfully obliterates its brand and miraculously transforms them into a full cream cheese. Hence he is shrewd enough to see that large quantities of our cheese being in fact one-third skims are sold in all the principal markets of the world as full cream cheese.

Ask, Need be very shrewd to see that such a law, violated as it is every day in the year, must inevitably work great havoc upon Wisconsin full cream cheese? He also knows that we have swept the deck at every recent cheese exhibit and that only a few days since we laid Canada in the shade by several points, and he asks himself why then does Canada outsell us at every point? On investigation he finds that Canada prohibits the manufacture of everything but a full cream cheese, and when a consumer buys a Canadian cheese he knows what he is buying and will pay accordingly, while we by law have been making trash of our cheese, and the consumer when he buys a Wisconsin cheese doesn't know whether he is buying trash or cheese, and he says to himself, "I will not be deceived; I won't buy it unless I can buy it for trash," and pays accordingly.—Address at a Dairy Convention.

Summer Shortage of Milk.

During the hot, dry months, when flies are abundant, cows are almost sure to shrink in the milk flow. There are some points about this matter that are well to consider. A great many dairy farmers follow the practice of turning the cows into a small pasture at night for the sake of the convenience of finding them easily the next morning. During the day the cows are so bothered by flies that they will not eat what they should even if it is easily procured. If they cannot graze at night, the result will be they get too little food in the 24 hours and most of consequence shrink in their milk.

The wise dairyman will see to it that the cow has plenty to eat. If it requires a little extra study and effort on his part to get it for her, he will do it, for he knows this important fact—that if the cow shrinks in summer he can never get her back to as large a flow in the fall as he otherwise would. Good management of the cows is one of the foundations of success in milk production. Flies in the daytime and confinement at night will beat the best cow in the world.

Dairy and Creamery.

The ancestors of the Guernsey and Jersey cows were found in Normandy and Brittany more than a century ago. The Norman cow was a large red animal. The Brittany cow was a small black one. The two breeds became mingled in one and crossed to the channel islands. The modern tendency has been to differentiate the species again, developing from the mixed channel islands' breed one family of red or orange tinted cows, which are called in our time Guernseys, another family of spotted black or fawn colored cows with dark noses, somewhat smaller than the other branch, and these we call in our time Jerseys.

Next time a buttery tongued agent at a fair or elsewhere tries to delude you into believing oleomargarine is better than butter turn on him and ask him why his millionaire employer, who makes the stuff at his factory, does not use it instead of butter.

American butter today is far superior to what it was 30 years ago. This is partly owing to improved cows, partly to improved methods of making butter.
