SPRAY OF THE FALLS.

Baskets, Baskets, Baskets, at The Fair.
Pearl and white metal belt pins at the Racket store.
The utility knife set—bread, cake and paving knives for 49 cts. at "The Fair."
Stop and try Uncle John's soda. Finest in the city.
Money to loan on good real estate security by A. S. Dresser.
Fresh vegetables from Maplewood farm delivered to all parts of the city.
That 10 acre tract on West Side can be now for $500. Owner wants money. C. O. T. Williams.
Mr. Freytag supplies his customers three times a week with all varieties of fine vegetables. His prices are very reasonable.
For a quiet place to hitch your horses away from the motor line and a place to get a first class job of repairing or horse shoeing call on S. F. Scripture's shop on Fifth street.
100 acres of land near Clackamas station for $2100. Some improvements. Think of it. See or write E. C. Hackett, Oregon City, Or.
Ladies and boys Eton caps, just the thing for outing wear, at the Racket store.
Antifermentine ten cents a package. Preserves fruits without cooking. E. E. Williams, the grocer.
Why descend those tiresome steps when you wish pure drugs, chemicals and drug sundries? "Time is money" Save both by getting your prescriptions filled at the Seventh St. Pharmacy.
Lunch baskets all sizes, cheap at Staub's grocery. Fresh stock of canned meats and fruits. Prepared lemon syrup just the thing for a cool drink.
New supply of ladies shirt waists, white and colored, at the Racket Store.
Meat from cheap second grade beef cannot be otherwise than tough and tasteless. Albright buys only the best of stock—three and five-year-old stalled steers furnish his stakes and roasts—juicy and tender enough for a king.
Just received a new supply of those tea ball strainers and fruit jar fillers at "The Fair."
If you enjoy a good cup of coffee try our Red Seal Blend Java and Mocha. E. E. Williams, the grocer.
Diseases unfriendly to women are positively cured by Dr. Sawyer's Pastilles. Ask your druggist for a free sample package. It heals and cures. Sold by Geo. A. Harding.
A well made lemonade will both quench your thirst and tone up your stomach. It is the most healthful summer drink to be had. Try a glass of Uncle John's ice cold lemonade.
For a box of high grade French creams and chocolates (put up right) go to the Novelty Candy Store. Temporary headquarters one door south of Albright's Meat market.
The Women's Relief Corps, of this city desire to announce that they have adjourned their meeting until the third Tuesday in September, on account of hot weather and absence of members.
Mrs. Joseph Hedges and family desire to express their appreciation of the considerate acts and kind offices exercised by many friends during the illness and funeral services of the late Jos. Hedges.
J. W. Roots, the leading fruitgrower of Clackamas, was in town Friday, getting some piping and other apparatus for his fruit drier. He contemplates extensive improvements in order to handle his immense fruit crop this season. He has over 30 acres in orchard.
Bound threshing account books for sale at this office. The book contains date lines with indexed spaces for the different varieties of grain with price printed on a stub. The part to be detached is a complete statement of grain threshed, and can be used as a receipt.
Attorneys J. E. Rice and J. U. Campbell were at Oswego Monday looking after the interests of the state and defendants, respectively, in a larceny case. The defendants were accused of stealing honey, but as there was no evidence against them they were acquitted.
The Willhoit stage was again robbed Monday, making the second time that the stage has been held up within the last month. This time it occurred near Wright's bridge, and the highwaymen only secured $6.75 from the passengers. B. C. Towne, C. W. Alisky and Miss Richards, all of Portland. They threatened dice vengeance on the heads of the driver, Hank Mattson, and the passengers, if they were not better provided with money next time. No clue to the robbers has yet been discovered.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Mrs. N. M. Moody is visiting her parents at Molalla.
C. E. Bailey, the Seventh street druggist, spent Sunday at Eugene.
Thos. F. Ryan leaves today for Willhot Springs for a short outing.
D. C. Latonrette and family left Tuesday for a short stay at Clatsop beach.
Mrs. M. L. Moore and daughter are spending the summer at Little Nestucca.
W. V. Ward, a well known citizen of Newberg, was in Oregon City Tuesday.
D. A. Osburn, the popular sheriff of Benton County, was in Oregon City Monday.
Lloyd Wilson is back from the Cascade locks and is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. G. Burnett.
Mrs. J. A. Moore left for Brownsville Wednesday where she will make a short visit with relatives.
Mrs. S. E. Huntley left Saturday for Sea View, where she will join her son, W. A. Huntley and family.
Balfe Johnson came down Wednesday from the Dalles and left for Sea View to join his mother for short visit.
Miss Minnie Joehne returned home Monday after spending a couple of weeks visiting friends in Portland.
Miss Essie Casto, who has been visiting relatives at Portland, returned to her home at Alpine farm Friday.
Miss Lista Wharton, of Portland, spent Saturday and Sunday in the city, the guest of Miss Hattie Moore.
Mrs. J. H. Walker and family and Miss Mary Charman left for Newport where they will remain for several weeks.
Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cheney of the Courier, and Mrs. A. Doolittle, returned Tuesday from a visit to Clatsop beach.
Bert Greenman left on the Roseburg local Monday for an outing at Newport. He will probably be away for a couple of weeks.
George DeVore, who has been sojourning at the Johnson cottage at Sea View for the past month, returned Wednesday.
Miss Nora Conyers returned Tuesday from Gearheart and left Thursday for Clatskanie, where she will remain for some time.
Hon. F. X. Matthieu, of Butteville, the pioneer statesman, was in Oregon City Friday, enjoying a social time with his old friends.
Miss Clara Potter left Wednesday for Bandon, where she will visit friends for a couple of months. She goes by way of Yaquina bay.
W. T. Llewellyn, deputy sheriff of Butte county, Montana, is spending a portion of his vacation in this county. He owns a farm on Beaver creek.
Prof. Rigler, formerly principal of the Oregon City schools, and C. C. Fay, an insurance adjuster, were among the Portland visitors in the city Monday.
James Rintoul has accepted a position as stenographer with H. E. Noble, a Portland broker. He will remove to Portland in a week or two to remain permanently.
County Recorder Ramsby, who spent Sunday at Molalla, reports that hundreds of Portland people are camped along the cool, shady banks of the Molalla river, recreating and fishing.
Miss Lillian Hamilton and Miss Roberts have closed their millinery store on Main street, and Wednesday Miss Hamilton left for old home at Tacoma, where she will reside in the future.
Col. W. L. White left for Seattle Thursday, where he will spend a month visiting at Seattle. He is accompanied by his son, A. G. White, who will look after his mining interests in King county.
A. F. Parker, M. W. Randall, Capt. J. P. Shaw and a couple of Portland parties went to the mountains Friday, and expect to be absent for a week. They went in the direction of the Cascade mountains.
S. A. D. Gurley, formerly a well known teacher of this county, but now a practicing attorney of Arlington, has become a bold soldier boy and has been elected first lieutenant of the newly formed militia company in that place.
Maurice Binford, one of the editors of Young America, and representing the Northwest Pacific Farmer, called at the Enterprise office Monday. He is on his way to Ashland on his bicycle, and will look after the interests of both journals.
Mrs. Charles Meserve left Thursday for Hood River, Wasco county, to try a change of climate and high altitude at the base of Mount Hood for throat trouble. She was accompanied by Mr. Meserve, who will return in two or three days.
Gilbert Hedges arrived Tuesday evening from Rhode Island, with a view of seeing his father during his last illness. Unfortunately he did not arrive until after the funeral ceremonies were over. All the other members of the family were in attendance.
Isaac Ackerman was up from Portland Sunday and spent the day with his folks. His many friends here are always pleased to see his genial countenance, but his position as overseer of the departments in the Farmers and Mechanics store at Portland, takes up his time; and it is only occasionally that he has leisure to visit his old home.

Betrayed and Deserted.

Fred Green is the name of a dashing young drug clerk, who recently arrived from Manistee, Michigan, and after a brief stay in Portland, secured a position in Harding's drug store a week or two ago. He talked a great deal for a stranger, but attended to his duties in a competent way. He boasted of having been engaged to some extent in smuggling a valuable drug in the east, to evade paying custom duties. He informed some of his acquaintances here, that he intended to leave soon for Honolulu, but he will not leave for that place for a few weeks yet. A Michigan sheriff telegraphed to the sheriff of Multnomah county for his arrest, and as soon as his whereabouts were discovered, he notified Deputy Sheriff Moody to make his arrest. He now lays in the Multnomah county jail, awaiting the arrival of the Michigan sheriff, as he is wanted on a charge of seducing Lillie Sweetman. Green is only twenty years of age, but he has made a bad start in life for a young man. The picture of a young man ruining and deserting a helpless girl, is not a pleasing one to contemplate, and he can only make amends by restoring her good name.

Patrick L. Broderick, a former resident of Oregon City, and well known to the older residents, died at Astoria last Sunday, aged 40 years. He was employed on the steamer Telephones, and received fatal injuries while making a landing at Stella, Washington. The line had been mate fast to the dock, and the sudden heaving of the boat caused the cable to break loose striking him in the stomach. He was taken to the Sister's hospital at Astoria, and only lived three days. His remains were buried in this city Wednesday, Rev. Father Hillebrand, officiating. The deceased was a brother of Morris Broderick, and was very popular in steamboat circles, and his many friends in this city were pained to learn of his demise in the prime of life.

As J. B. Jackson, of Molalla with his family, were driving down the big hill at Willhoit last Saturday afternoon, the neck-yoke broke, and the horses ran away, throwing the occupants out and smashing things up generally. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were not seriously injured, but his three little children were hurt very badly. The baby's shoulder was broken; the oldest child's right arm was broken and its face was badly bruised, while the other one's back was crippled. The children were carried to the hotel at Willhoit and cared for by Dr. Giessy, of Aurora. Mr. Jackson was going to the springs for an outing.

August Koch was brought in from Cherryville last Saturday by Constable Jonsrud, and given over to the custody of Sheriff Maddock. He had been arraigned on the previous day before Justice Jonsrud, and bound over in the sum of $250 to keep the peace on a charge of threatening to kill his wife in a fit of jealousy, and was unable to secure bondsmen. Tuesday he was examined before County Judge Hayes on a charge of insanity, and was ordered sent to the State insane asylum for treatment.

"Throw up your hands" was the command of the Willhoit stage robbers as the driver brought the team to a sudden halt and found himself confronted by two desperate highwaymen. After the frightened passengers were relieved of their valuables, the robbers asked if there was a watermelon on board? On being informed in the affirmative, they then wanted to know if the melon was from the Novelty Candy Store, and on being assured that it was they quickly caused it to be handed out. Even the robbers in their haste recognize the superiority of the Novelty's melons.

A four-year old son of Charles Huiras was drowned on Milk creek last Friday evening four miles east of Canby at Wheeler's mill. The boy and Charles Jesse's little girl were playing along the tail-race below the sawmill. It was about 5 o'clock in the afternoon and the flood gates of the reservoir were thrown open and the boy fell into the swift current and was carried about 400 yards below. The little girl came to the house, and when asked where her playmate was, said that "He had swummed away." The search resulted in finding the lifeless body of the boy on a sand bar where it had lodged.

Dr. J. W. Cowan writes from Springfield under date of August 9th, and the following is an extract from his letter: "Couldn't get transportation suitable for us to go to Mount Hood. We have a fine camping place, a nice open, airy grove, splendid spring at hand, good air, milk, butter, eggs, etc., cheap and good, and everything to ourselves—although there is room for all Gladstone assembly." They are camped at Cornett's picnic grounds.

Henry Meldrum left Monday to begin the contract for his government survey in Klamath county. He took along as crew, Jack Blunt, John Holland, W. B. Murray, Malcolm McCown and William Helis. They expect to be absent a couple of months.

Charles Walker, who had a large piece cut out of the fleshy part of his arm at Herman's mill at Molalla, about ten days ago, is in the Oregon City hospital, and getting along finely. For awhile the physicians were afraid his arm would have to be amputated.

Robbins & Lawrence's Mechanic Mill and door and sash factory were burned last Saturday afternoon about three o'clock. The fire started in the upper story from some unknown cause, and the building burned rapidly. The books were saved from the office, but the building and machinery was a total loss. The building valued at $1200 was the property of Mrs. P. E. Morey, and was insured in T. L. Charman's agency for $800. The engine and machinery was the property of Robbins & Lawrence, and an insurance policy of $1,000 is held in C. O. T. Williams' agency. Their loss is about $2500. It was with difficulty that the fire was prevented from spreading to adjoining buildings. Messrs. Lawrence & Robbins were just getting a good business established and their loss is deplored.

There was a grand occasion at camp Alderlea on Clear creek Tuesday evening. It was the 52d birthday of G. A. Harding and about 50 invited guests participated in the festivities. The eighteen Portland people at Good Luck camp presented Mr. Harding a large piece of fungus with their names inscribed thereon, and appropriate inscriptions; also a large cake which was filled with salt and hairpins, and resisted the recipient's efforts to cut open with a knife.

Sheriff Maddock, J. W. Cooke, Constable Meldrum McCown and T. P. Randall spent Sunday at Willhoit. Among those who are enjoying an outing at that popular resort are John Hill and family, David Canfield and family, C. W. Ganong and family, W. W. Aldridge and family, J. W. Cooke's family, Mrs. C. C. Cooke, of Portland, and Miss Bessie Midam, of Canemah. Miss Midam fell into the creek the other day but was rescued by the campers.

There was a very good attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the board of trade Monday evening. A plan was discussed at some length for distribution of the newly printed board of trade pamphlets. Dr. L. Pickens, Prof. J. W. Gray and F. T. Griffith were elected members. Road matters were discussed, and a $10 space ordered in the monthly Oregonian for another month.

H. H. Johnson and Ernest Rands leave today to begin their contract of veying two townships of land included in the Willamette Valley & Coast Range Wagon Road Co. grant, on the headwaters of the Santiam. Their crew consists of George Ward, Bert Nash, David Henderson, Ben Hackley, A. E. Worswick, I. L. Hoffman, Wagner, Mitchell and Frazer. They expect to be absent a couple of months.

The Oregon City board of trade has just issued a neat, nicely illustrated little pamphlet, published by the Express press, giving a brief history of the city and good illustrations and descriptions of both city and surrounding country. It is a credit alike to its authors and publisher, and if properly distributed, must result in desirable additions to both city and rural communities.—Industrial Herald.

W. J. Evans, the shingle manufacturer of Beaver Creek, is down with malarial trouble and over work, and Mrs. Evans has been very sick for about a week. Their daughter Annie is also down with rheumatic fever and the youngest son, Llewellyn, has been sick for nearly three months.

County Surveyor D. W. Kinnaird has received a new solar transit from St. Louis, of the Saegmiller make. It is a great improvement in the line of solar compasses and cost him $275 in St. Louis. Its aluminum parts make it both light and durable.

Adam Tricoler, who died last week and was buried by the county, leaves four children in destitute circumstances. He was formerly employed in the woolen mills.

W. E. Johnson, formerly from Mount Pleasant, writes from Myrtle, California, that his wife is much improved in health and the family are well pleased with the climate and their new home.

Dr. A. P. Sawyer—Sir: After suffering for four years with female weakness I was persuaded by a friend to try your Pastilles, and after using them one year, I can say I am entirely well. I can not recommend them too highly.

Mrs. M. S. Brook, Bronson, Bethel Branch Co. Mich.
Sold by Geo. A. Harding.

That 20 acre tract, level road, 2½ miles out, plenty of running water, only $650. C. O. T. Williams.
