For a box of high grade French creams and chocolates (put up right) go to the Novelty Candy Store. Temporary headquarters one door south of Albright's Meat market.

Albright has just received another lot of choice cattle from the mountain ranges, which for quality cannot be excelled.

The heavy Eastern mail usually comes Sunday evening on the south bound overland for Oregon City, and Postmaster Green has been going to the train and carrying the mail bag himself to the office, and with the aid of his assistants, distributed the mail that night in order that the public could get their mail at an early hour in the morning. An arrangement has now been perfected whereby the messenger delivers the mail at the postoffice from the train, which very much facilitates matters. Postmaster Green does not allow any mail to accumulate in the office on account of it not being distributed.

The attendance from Oregon City at the merchant's picnic was not so large as was expected, on account of the discrimination in favor of Portland people in the matter of rates, although it estimated that about 3,000 people were in attendance. The Oregon City baseball team bested the Portlanders in a score of five to one. The members of the Oregon City team were: George Fennimore, J. McMannans, Clarence Fields, J. E. Hedges, Charles Pope, J. E. Rice, William Rhoades, R. L. Holman and H. K. Jones.

Immense quantities of wheat are being received at the Portland Flouring Company's mills in this city. About 15 car-loads daily are being received at the mills, by the Southern Pacific, coming from points on the main line and on the Woodburn-Springfield branch. Aside from this considerable quantities are arriving by boat from up-river points. An average of seven car-loads of flour are shipped daily to Portland, besides that sent by boat. Considerable wheat too, is being hauled in from the adjacent country. Wheat has fallen a little and the price now paid is 45 cents per bushel. Flour is now sold at a considerable advance on former prices, and is now quoted at $3.10 and $3.25 per barrel net. Bran $12 and shorts $13 per ton.

A three-year old son of William Eby, who lives out on the Clackamas road, about three miles from town, was playing by a burning brush pile Tuesday afternoon, when his clothing caught on fire. The child's clothing was soon enveloped in flames, and Mr. Marsten, an Eagle creek farmer, who chanced to be passing that way caught the child and plunged it into a barrel of water nearby, thus saving its life. Mr. Maston's hands were severely burned. Dr. Powell was called to the Eby residence Wednesday, and states that the child is severely burned about the loins and hips. The boy ran about 100 yards after his clothing caught on fire.

Sheriff Maddock offers a reward of $20 for the arrest of R. V. Jackson, a former school teacher of Springwater precinct. He is wanted for forgery. He is alleged to be guilty of forging the name of Mr. Harrington, a school clerk in that precinct to an instrument to the amount of $55 and hypothecating the same. After cashing his order a few weeks ago, he stole a horse from M. B. Blackman, the man who was lately killed on the S. P. railroad crossing in this city. An deserting his family, has not been heard from since. Jackson is about 27 years old, weighs 150 pounds, has dark eyes and hair, is five feet and 10 inches high and is stoop-shouldered.

According to the Oregonian's guest at Willhoit Springs arranged a bogus hold-up a few days since, in order to have a photograph to remind them of the genuine hold-up some of them were involved in. They got up a party of robbers in masks and armed, and went out to meet the stage. Selecting a favorable location, the stage was loaded with passengers, the robbers came on the scene in all the paraphernalia of their office; the driver reigned up his team, and the passengers began shelling out, and then the photographer got in his work and immortalized the scene.

The Roseburg Review gives an account of the new baseball team recently organized at Marshfield. Among the members of this team are Ed Reckner and J. Paustian, formerly of Oregon City. This club goes first to Grant's Pass to attend the baseball tournament, and expect to play for purses in Medford, Jacksonville, Ashland and Roseburg.

Remember the Webber Sisters entertainment at Shively's opera house tonight under the auspices of St. Paul's guild. This Friday evening is the time, and it will be a rare occasion to spend a delightful evening with world-renowned singers and musicians.

Charles Dudley Warner, in the "Editor's Study," of the September Harper's, describes an earthquake as he experienced one last May in Florence. Literary men and earthquakes have not often met under similar circumstances, and the record is entertaining.

The pastor of the Baptist church, Rev. M. L. Rogg, will give next Sunday evening the first of a series of sermons on questions relating to good citizenship, subject, "Foreign Immigration—Its Dangers and Duties." A general invitation is extended to these services.

H. A. Waldron, of Central Point, left a basket of seedling peaches raised on his place, at this office Wednesday. They are freestone and contain an unusual amount of saccharine matter. They are very palatable, and are called Waldron's Seedling.

Buy home grown peaches, and keep your money at home. Leave orders at H. E. Cross's office, or with H. T. Sladen.

That 20 acre tract, level road, 2 1/2 miles out, plenty of running water, only $650. C. O. T. Williams.
