SERMON ON PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—Rev. M. L. Rugg delivered a sermon at the Baptist church last Sunday evening on the public schools of the country. While he eulogized the public schools as the bulwark of our American institutions, he deprecated the establishment of parochial schools of whatever denomination; that they were inimical to our free institutions. He told of the little red school houses and the progress made in public school education. While he did not favor parochial schools, he thought the principles of morality should be inculcated in the minds of the pupils of the common schools. He pointed out examples of many great men, who had received their education at no other place except the public schools. Ninety-five per cent of the population were educated in the public schools, and it was not right that this proportion of the population should be taxed to educate the five per cent at the colleges and universities under the patronage of the state. Pastor Rugg censured the practice of state legislatures for prodigally appropriating money for the support of these state schools. That while a cultured college education was to be desired, it was not practicable for over five per cent of the people to take advantage of the opportunities for a finished college education, and they should be willing to pay for it. If a boy desired a college education, and had the right stuff in him, he would find a way of working his way through the institution.

LADIES AT THE PORTLAND EXPOSITION.—The ladies are determined to make the Portland exposition, a success by adding interesting features to exhibit. The ladies auxiliary have arranged their plans and organized for a fine display of women's handiwork. It has also been decided to prepare five separate kinds of entertainment, including a baby carnival, an "arabesque," a musicale, a chrysanthemum show, and a series of illustrated lectures on cooking. In addition to this an art collection will be made. Mrs. C. H. Dye has received a communication from Mrs. W. J. Lehigh, secretary of the ladies' auxiliary of the Portland exposition, inviting the Oregon City ladies to make an exhibit for this department. The ladies of Oregon City could make a splendid display in these lines. Mrs. T. A. Pope has a splendid collection of painted china, Mrs. H. J. Young has a number of fine paintings and Mrs. J. K. Groom has a good assortment of freshly canned fruits, and a number other ladies could add much to the display in the way of home production. Ladies of Oregon City or Clackamas county, who have anything in the line of woman's handiwork that would to the display are requested to notify Mrs. C. H. Dye. The chrysanthemum show will receive the special attention of Mrs. Card and Mrs. Lehigh, respectively president and secretary of the committee and the flower association. This will be held the last three days of the fair.

S. P. DEPOT ROBBER.—Monday evening a tramp telegraph operator came into the Southern Pacific depot, and exhibited a card from the telegrapher's union, certifying that he was a member in good standing. He asked to write a letter, and Agent Moore extended the courtesy of the office and invited him inside. After finishing his letter he picked up a book and apparently became greatly absorbed in its contents. When the night operator, W. H. Speer, came on duty, Agent Moore counted up his cash and checked the same, but the night operator failed to verify the cash account as in his usual custom. Mr. Speer followed the usual routine of his duties, and left the room for a moment to look after some baggage, leaving the safe unlocked. When he returned his telegraph friend still held his book apparently reading. About eight o'clock he laid down the book with a word of approval that the subject matter suited his ideas, took his departure. At 12 o'clock Mr. Speer made his remittance report and discovered that there was $100.50 short. He then suspected that the innocent looking operator must have taken the money, and departed. The tramp operator said that he had been working at Helena, Montana, and was on his way to Sacramento, to seek another position. He carried a gold watch with a peculiar figure-faced dial, and a ladies gold chain. From the description of the chain, Chief of Police Burns thought it possible that it might have some connection with the watch and chain stolen from a room in the Perkins hotel at Portland a night or two previous. There was in the neighborhood of $400 in the safe, but the robber was evidently afraid of getting caught and hurried away. No trace has yet been heard of the sick operator. The occurrence is an unfortunate one for Agent Moore and Mr. Speer, as one or the other of them will have to make the shortage good. They are both faithful employees, and Mr. Moore has a family to provide for, while Mr. Speer assists in the support of his mother. Several years ago when H. C. Stevens officiated as agent at the depot, there was no night operator and the office was burglarized on several occasions, but the robbers never got much for their pains. Once the safe was blown open with powder between 11 and 12 o'clock in the evening, but the loud noise attracted a number of people, who had not yet retired, but the burglars disappeared leaving their booty behind, which consisted of a small collection of copper cents.

PROPERTY CHANGED HANDS.—The Oriental Hotel property has probably changed hands, at least some money has changed ownership and a bargain agreement reached. The property belongs to H. C. Stevens and he has bargained the same to the Gambrinus Brewing Company for the consideration of $5,000. The building will be refitted by the Gambrinus Company, and it is intended to erect a brick structure on the corner in the future. This is one of the historic buildings of Oregon City and was erected in 1850. The territorial legislature once promulgated laws in the walls of this building, and after the old court house on the hill was burned down the second story of the building was used as a court room for some time. The lumber used in the construction of the building was brought around Cape Horn in 1849. During the forty-five years that this building has withstood conflagrations on either side, a variety of enterprises have been carried on within its walls.

THE NEW SCHOOL BOOKS.—This is the "introductory year" for school books and they will be sold from 15 to 20 per cent lower than regular prices. We act as publishers agents only, are not permitted to buy the books, and are compelled to accept their terms and conditions. One of the conditions is, that no books shall be sold except for cash. We make this statement now that no one may be disappointed in being refused credit for school books. It is not possible—the books are not ours. Huntley's Book Store, Oregon City.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder Awarded Gold Medal Winter Fair, San Francisco.

THE HARVEST SOCIAL.—The harvest social at the Congregational church was well attended, and altogether was a very interesting occasion. There was a splendid display of fruits, vegetables and flowers, artistically arranged, and a pumpkin flower designed and arranged by Mrs. E. B. Andrews and Mrs. W. A. White attracted considerable attention. Among the features of the evening was a musical and literary program that was well received. C. E. Bailey sang a solo, and was enthusiastically encored by the audience, but declined to respond on account of a severe cold. Mr. Bailey received many compliments on his vocal talent. Miss Gladys Jones, of Oswego, an accomplished musician, who has completed a three years' course at Forest Grove, and is now taking lessons from a well known Portland instructor, favored the hearers with a couple of selections, and was heartily encored. Mrs. C. H. Dye read an appropriate selection in her usual pleasing style, that was duly appreciated. Prof. C. W. Durette, the new principal of the West Side schools, very cleverly recited "Roger and I," that interested the audience in that standard literary production. After the program the fruits were served, and the remainder of the evening was spent in a social way.

CONGREGATIONAL STATE ASSOCIATION.—Oregon City is to have another state gathering this year. The forty-seventh annual meeting of the State Association of Congregational churches will convene in Oregon City Tuesday, September 24th, and continue in session three days. A splendid program has been prepared, and among those who will participate are Rev. George R. Wallace, D. D., of Portland; Dr. W. C. Kantner, of Salem; Rev. W. C. Curtis, Rev. C. F. Clapp, Rev. Daniel Staver, President McClelland, Prof. H. L. Bates, Rev. D. V. Poling, Rev. R. A. Rowley, W. H. Morrow, F. R. Cook, Mrs. H. W. Young, Mrs. F. Eggert, Mrs. S. F. Gibbs, Mrs. L. A. Parker, Mrs. E. M. Wilson, Rev. Dora R. Barber, Mrs. T. McClelland, Rev. H. H. Wikoff, Rev. J. K. McLean, Rev. J. B. Clark, Rev. A. Rogers, Rev. E. P. Hughes, Rev. H. W. Young, Rev. D. B. Gray, George H. Himes, John T. Whalley and others. Special rates have been arranged with the Southern Pacific, and preparations are being made to entertain a large delegation. All state conventions of different organizations held in this place during the present year, have been great successes, and this one will probably not prove any exception to the rule.

Dear Sir:—Replying to your favor of 23rd Inst., I beg to say that the Prune Grader I bought from you last year, has given perfect satisfaction. Never saw a grader of its kind, it is easy to operate and grades the prunes as even as can be desired; and affords me great pleasure to speak a word in its praise. A good many fruit growers in our county have seen it, and were surprised at the excellent work it does. Your Truly, HENRY E. DOSCH, VANDERBILT, Wash., April 15, 1895. C. W. Boost, Esq., Portland, Ore. Dear Sir:—I used one of your fruit graders last year and will say I am very much pleased with its working. It being your grader the cheapest one I have ever seen used, I wouldn't exchange my $28 grader for any $65 grader in use around here. Yours Truly, C. H. RICKER, Yonkers, N. Y.
