FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1895.

A BOY KILLED.—Such will be the heading of a news item in the ENTERPRISE one of these days if the boys of Oregon City do not desist from their reckless habit of catching on behind vehicles that are being driven along the street.
 Two boys within the past week have barely escaped being crushed by wagons they were trying to jump into from behind. One in climbing into the end of a rapidly driven delivery wagon, slipped and fell into the wheel and was thrown to the ground with such force as to knock the breath out of him for a minute and it was only by rare good luck that he escaped getting his neck, or at least, his limbs broken. The other boy in attempting to climb on a wagon just as the driver was backing it up, fell and came near having the heavy wheel pass over his body. In such a narrow street as Main street, crowded with teams and electric cars, teamsters are kept busy watching in front of them and have no time to keep looking behind to see if a small boy is hanging on and liable at any moment to fall and be run over. The drivers do all they can to keep the boys off their wagons and if some hopeful should be carried, one of these days, home to his dotting parents all crushed and mangled, it will be a stern and sad reminder that hanging on behind a wagon is no place for a boy to ride.

NOTED LECTURER DEAD.—The death took place at John Day, Grant county on Wednesday September 18, of Mrs.
 Katie Kehn Smith, the well known lecturer. Mrs. Smith left her home near this city the last of June for an extended lecturing trip through Eastern Oregon and when at John Day she was taken with typhoid fever and after a lingering illness of over six weeks death came to her relief. Her remains were interred at Wagner, in Grant county and the funeral services were conducted in accordance with the secular belief. Her husband, Mr. D. W. Smith was summoned so soon as her illness assumed a serious nature and was constantly with her to the end. He arrived home Tuesday and is greatly crushed by his wife's death. Mrs. Smith was but a few months past 27 years of age and was a bright, educated woman. Previous to her marriage she was one of the most successful teachers of Clackamas county.
 For the last three years she has been in the lecture field and was noted as a ready speaker and one who could interest and hold her audiences. She leaves a large number of friends in this county and in the state who sincerely mourn her loss.

A GOOD CONTRACT.—Smith & Perham, the well-known contractors of this city, have received word that their bid has been accepted for the construction of a school house at Marshfield, on Coos bay, at the price of $10,985. It to be an eight-room building with stone foundation and half of the first story stone, balance to be of wood. It will be one of the finest school buildings in Oregon and getting the contract for its construction is a worthy recognition of the ability and push of Mr. Sidney Smyth and his partner, Mr. Perham.

A SUCCESSFUL FAIR.—The Oregon state fair opened Wednesday and will continue for 10 days. The attendance so far this year has been above the average and it promises to exceed that of any fair for many years past. The exhibits are better and cover the industries of the state nearer than formerly and are a credit to the fair. The race track has gathered an unusual number of fast horses, and lovers of this sport will be highly entertained with the exhibitions of speed that will be made. There are many other attractions that are proving of interest and add much to the fair.

 The railroad and boats have given special rates to Salem for the fair, so that the expense of a trip is but nominal.

THE FISHWAY COMPLETED.

Means for Salmon to Go Through the Cross Dam.

The fishway in the Cross mill dam in the Clackamas river over which there has been so much controversy during the past two years, is now declared to be in working order, and has been formally turned over to Fish Protector McGuire, as custodian. It is an opening in the dam, from crown to base, about five feet wide, through which the water rushes like a mill race, and it cost about $1600. The money for construction was furnished by the Columbia River Salmon Propagating Company, and the fishway was built under the supervision of a committee of three experienced packers, appointed by the Portland Chamber of Commerce.
 In formally turning over the new fishway to Protector McGuire, as custodian, Mr.
 J. W. Cook, chairman of the committee, addressed the following communication to that state official:
 "H. D. McGuire, Esq., State Fish and Game Commissioner, Portland: This is to notify you that on the 23d of last May J. W. Cook, Sylvester Farrel and F. M. Warren were appointed a committee by the Chamber of Commerce to settle any controversy and practically carry out Mr. Cross' agreement according to the tenor of his letter published in the Oregonian of May 12, 1895. We have fulfilled the trust (through the generosity of the Columbia River Salmon Propagating Company, who furnished the funds) by building a new section in Mr. Cross' dam on the Clackamas, with an open fishway in the center.
 "We now place this fishway in your hands as the proper guardian as state fish commissioner. J. W. Cook, "Chairman"

Before Protector McGuire accepts the trust thus imposed, he will pay an official visit to the fishway and inspect it carefully to see that it meets with the requirements of law. As it is described it is strictly in accordance with his original ideas in the matter, and he has no doubt that it will answer the purpose intended.
 When he visits the fishway, Mr. Mc-Guire will appoint a resident deputy fish warden, whose duty it will be to see that the fishway is kept free from all obstructions, and that fishermen keep their distance. He will place warnings at a distance of 600 feet below the dam, and 250 feet above, within which limit it is unlawful to take fish.

Exhibits Wanted.

The following circular is sent out for publication by E. S. Pague, chairman of committee on state and county exhibits for the Oregon Industrial Exposition.
 As will be seen the time is limited in which to send in articles for exhibit.
 If any one is unavoidably delayed it is probable that exhibits sent next Monday or Tuesday can be placed in position.
 "The Exposition will open October 5.
 It is necessary to have everything in place on the opening day. Many people throughout Oregon have promised to send us articles and produce for exhibit, and we are very anxious to have them at once.

A large space has been set off for the exhibit of agriculture, horticulture, mineral, fish and forestry specimens, and to fill this space every person who promised to send something and everyone who has anything to exhibit should forward the same not later than the 28th inst., and earlier if possible. Many counties will have county exhibits; to them must be added many individual exhibits from other sections to make the state exhibit complete. We want grain of all kinds in sack and in the straw and we want grasses of all kinds; we would like to make a good corn exhibit. We want a large quantity of dried fruit in boxes for exhibit, and loose dried fruit that we can use for decorative purposes.
 We want fresh fruit for table exhibit; this will be a specialty, so send us wrapped in paper and carefully packed, fresh fruit not quite ripe. We want hops in large and small bales and loose hops. We want all kinds of manufactured articles, brick, tiles, brooms, wash-tubs, step-ladders, brushes, buckets, wagons, chairs and all articles made from Oregon wood, clay etc. We want minerals, our mineral exhibit will be especially attractive. We want the greatest variety of vegetables that can be obtained; and briefly, we want everything to show the progress and advancement of Oregon in all lines.
 All specimens should be addressed as follows: For Chas. H. Hunt, Superintendent Oregon Industrial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, and when so addressed will be carried by the railroad companies, as freight, free of charge.
 Please put your name and address on your exhibit, in order that you may have credit for it. Such articles as may be desired will be returned at the close of the Exposition. Hops in bales and salmon in cases will be turned over to such warehouses or commission house as the exhibitor directs. Where an individual desires to make a personal exhibit of his produce or manufacture, the railroad will charge full freight rate to this city, and return same free of charge; except if the exhibit is perishable and it is unfit to be returned, then the railroad will refund the money paid for freight charges.

Everything is promising for a large, successful and interesting exposition.
 Special railroad excursions will be run at intervals, when the fare will be for the round trip less than the present fare for a single way.

Please to forward your exhibit or specimen for exhibit at once."

SAVE YOUR PENNIES.—"A penny saved is a penny earned." We do not have to pay high salaries for clerk hire or any exorbitant rents. This is why we can save your money when you are in need of pure drugs, chemicals, drug sundries etc. We do business on a cash basis and give you the benefit. E. C. BAILEY,

A Catchy Story.

Army life at the frontier posts in the United States has found a very clever biographer in Miss Gwendolen Overton, who is something of a literary "discovery" for the Argonaut. This gifted young lady seems to know all the ins and outs of garrison life, and has a very happy faculty of creating a complete picture with a few telling phrases, as the very clever little comedies she has sent the Argonaut show. The latest of these, "A Howling Success," is printed in the issue of September 17th, and has for its hero a young lieutenant fresh from "the Point," who attempts to promote sociability among the warring families of the warriors and gets himself in a pretty mess for his trouble.

It Saves Children.

Last summer, we had a child suffering from bloody flux, when we came into possession of a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I gave some of it to the child according to directions. It afforded almost instant relief and effected a permanent cure. I can cheerfully recommend it.—GEO. JENKINS, Cedar creek,

Chronic Diarrhoea in South Africa.

For over six years I was a constant sufferer from chronic diarrhoea. I tried a great many remedies yet found no relief. By chance, I noticed an advertisement in the newspaper calling attention to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I sent for a bottle, and before half of it had been taken I was completely cured. E. C. KRIEL,
