CLACKAMAS COUNTY GRAPES.—That grapes can be grown successfully in Clackamas county is doubted by many and the many failures seen in different parts of the county but adds proof to this belief. Yet it has been clearly proven by many growers that grapes of superior quality and excellent flavor can be grown in this section. While the industry is comparatively new in this county yet there are several vineyards of considerable size that have proven very successful. One of the most successful growers we have is A. T. Plowman, of Redland. Mr. Plowman now has some forty odd varieties of grapes growing on his place. Many of the varieties have proven to be well adapted to this climate while others are not doing so well as it appears to be too cold and damp for them. Many of them have just come into bearing and as yet have not shown how well they will do. He has fully demonstrated though that good grapes and plenty of them can be raised in Clackamas county. Recently Mr. Plowman presented the horticultural editor of the ENTERPRISE with samples of twenty-four varieties of his grapes. One half of them were found to compare very favorably with the Eastern and Southern Oregon grape, and were conclusive proof that our farmers can at least grow all the grapes they need for home use as well as to supply the local markets.

A NEW WEST SIDE ROAD.—County Road Engineer Kinnaird, with G. W. Prosser, J. S. Risley and Jack Monk for viewers, completed the re-location last Saturday of a new road from the west end of the suspension bridge to the Tualatin river at Willamette Falls. The new route goes direct west from the end of the bridge up the hill to the bench west of the W. P. & P. Co.'s residence building and turns south keeping on the west side of the Willamette Falls Electric railway running to a point a short distance south of the trestle near Willamette Falls, where it crosses the track and passes along the street through the town site to the lower Tualatin bridge where it forms a junction with the new Wilsonville road coming in there. At only one place of about 100 yards at the place where the road goes up the hill from the bridge is there a grade of seven per cent. The other grades being less than five per cent. It is the intention of the county court and electric company to have the road opened next season and placed in first class condition. By this route the people of the southwest part of the county will have an excellent road to Oregon City that they can travel at all seasons of the year, and it will be of great benefit to them as well as to the commercial prosperity of Oregon City.

MISS ABRAHAMS WILL SING.—We take great pleasure in stating to the people in and about Oregon City that the services of Miss Celia Abrahams, one of Portland's most charming and favorite sopranos, has been secured for the Guild entertainment on Friday and Saturday evenings. By securing the valuable services of Miss Abrahams it will be made possible to give the Grand Maerers and Tower song from Verdi's Il Trovatore. The beauty of the music in this celebrated scene is well known to all lovers of grand opera, and with such an artist as Miss Abrahams, ably assisted by Mr. W. A. Askin and a strong chorus, it will be a musical treat long to be remembered by those who have the good luck to hear it. This scene will be given under the direction of Sig. Crivelli, who with Miss Abrahams, have given their services on this occasion of the Guild's entertainment. See full program in another column.

HELP FOR THE NEEDY.—The ladies of Meads W. R. C. will meet this Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Font for the purpose of donating and making clothing for the children of destitute families in the vicinity. All members of the corps are urged to come prepared to sew. Cast off clothing capable of being remodeled for little people will be thankfully received. Word can be left with any member of the corps when a boy will call for the articles.

A Worthy Pioneer Gone.
DIED.—At her home 2 miles below Butteville, on the Willamette river, Saturday October 5, at 2 p. m. Minerva B. Graham at the advanced age of 85 years.

Grandma Graham, as she was more commonly known by a host of friends was a pioneer of '32 having crossed the plains with her husband and three children in that year.

Minerva B. Clark was born in the East in 1810 and became the wife of Robert Graham when a young lady in her teens. Six children were born to them in their Eastern home, three dying in childhood's early years. The husband, commonly known as "Uncle Robby" died in 1868 after sixteen years of pioneer life and striving to get a comfortable home in which to spend their old days. When just as he had completed his new house and had the farm in fair condition to make a good living the hand of time pointed to his hour.

The wife and three children still continued the unfinished work and now have one of the best farms on the Willamette. Mr. and Mrs. Graham named their home "Lone Pine," a very beautiful and appropriate name. Grandma leaves besides her three children, Louisa, Aaron, and Joseph one daughter-in-law, a number of grand children and great grand children and scores of warm friends to mourn the loss of one so esteemed by all.

The interment took place at the Butteville cemetery Monday the 7th at 2 p. m. and was conducted by Prof. Byland. A very large crowd assembled to pay their tribute of respect. The grave was very beautifully decorated. The entire community wish to extend their sympathy to the bereaved in their sad hours. A Friend.

Electric Power.
 This enterprising magazine seems to have made a particular effort in its October issue to appeal to the popular mind. Although an article by Mr. Weiner on "Technical Measuring Instruments," and one by Mr. Emmet on "The Origin of Alternating Currents," as well as Messrs. Freedman and Osterburg's serial on "Practical Testing," are very scientific, there are several others of interest to anybody at all versed in science.

Prof. W. M. Stine contributes a very able article on "The Aim of Laboratory Training," a subject widely discussed, and worthy of deep thought. The writer is a particularly able man for this subject, having a large laboratory in personal charge. Mr. E. P. Thompson, well known for his writing on "Invention," points out that the principal of reversal is one everybody should take to heart; He shows that by simply reversing the process some of the most important inventions have been made.

A field seldom thought of in connection with electricity, namely, that of astronomy occupies several pages in the present issue in which Mr. J. T. Monell, an electrical and civil engineer, who has had experience in observatories for several years, points out the application of electricity in the modern observatory. Mr. Chubb gives a bright review of "The Development of the Electric Railway," and his article is found to contain pleasant and important matter. Max Loewenthal praises the storage battery, and refers to its application in sport.

The "Synopsis of Technical Literature" is exceptionally long, showing the activity which is being developed all over the world in trying to further the science of electricity and its application.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for Circulars, free.

A temperance lecture will be given on Thursday evening of this week at the U. B. church by Rev. M. W. Pratt. His subject will be "From the Gutter to the Pulpit", and as he claims to be a reformed drunkard, gambler and fighting man the lecture will doubtless be embellished with many personal reminiscences. Sunday at 2:45 p. m. Rev. Pratt will speak at the M. E. church. Collections will be taken up.

A Readable Magazine.
 A Chicago lady, formerly of Cedar Rapids, is the Midland Monthly's October type of midland beauty. The inside workings of the Associated Press, illustrated by the famous artist, Carpenter; the Rhine Journey, by the editor with thirteen pictures; a strong paper by a brother of Edwin Coppoe (who was hung with John Brown), charging the poet, Richard Keatly, with the betrayal of Brown; "Lincoln as a Lawyer," with Robert T. Lincoln's favorite picture of his father; Col. Keatly, on the Canoe Life of the Alaska Indians, a vivid picture of the Battle of Allatoona, and four good stories, are announced as leading attractions in the October Midland Monthly, Des Moines, Iowa. This is a magazine to include in your list for '95.

Cholera Morbus is a dangerous complaint, and is often fatal in its results. To avoid this you should use De Witt's Colic & Cholera Cure, as soon as the first symptoms appear. C. G. Huntley, Druggist.
