COUNTY JAIL OCCUPANTS.—The quarters in the county jail are fairly crowded just at this time. Eight boarders now partake of Sheriff Maddock's palatable bill of fare. They are J. A. Louisgnot, who was brought back from Chehalis last Friday night by Sheriff Maddock, as he is accused of stealing wood from William Beeman, of Parkplace. There is also another charge against Mr. Lou-ington continued from the last term of court. He, however, claims that there is considerable shrinkage in wood after it has been ricked up. Will Moore, the cloth suit man, has been awaiting trial for the past three months, and has made two or three attempts to break jail.
 Mort Edwards escaped from the jail last December, and was recently brought back from Pullman, Washington. Jas.
 French was arrested last week for assaulting the hotel boy in a room at the Electric Hotel at half past three o'clock in the morning. Night Officer E. L.
 Shaw was notified and kept an eye on French, and when he attempted to escape out the back way, promptly arrested him. He had a hearing before Recorder Fouts, and was bound over in the sum of $500. David Fields is serving out a fifteen days sentence in the county jail for stealing a saddle at Canby, and Leslie Brooks is boarding out a twenty days sentence for stealing a revolver from Charles Nöblitt. Monday evening Charles Olds and Alvin Russell were committed to the county jail. Several weeks ago they had a hearing before Justice Dixon on a charge of slaughtering elk near the upper Clackamas during the close season, and were fined $50 each. Pending an appeal to the circuit court, they were released on bonds, but one of the bondsmen declined to be responsible any longer, hence the arrest. Since the above was in type the grand jury has returned "not a true bill" against James French, and he is now at liberty.

NAMES OF COUNTESS.—Col. E. A. Miller in his address before the Native Sons and Daughters at the state fair has the following to say about local Indian names: It should be the duty of this association to see to naming the points of interest. Special care should be taken to give the local Indian names where appropriate. To anyone consulting the new postoffice directory, containing the recent offices established in Oregon, it would easily be imagined one was in Michigan or in a foreign land.
 The years will never be long enough to separate Washington state from Washington capital in every day speech. * * It is about time to call a halt to the indiscriminate use of inappropriate and much duplicated names for localities in Oregon. The male and his long-eared sire are quite sufficiently honored in the nomenclature of this state. The names of our counties, Clackamas, Clatsop, Klamath, Malheur, Multnomah, Umatilla, Wasco, Tillamook, Wallowa, and not forgetting Yamhill, are distinctive and are not duplicated at every crossroad in all Christendom. It would be well if we could say as much for the rest of the counties.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.—Another change has taken place in the Herald force. P. D. Hull retires as foreman and Charles A. Fitch, late publisher of the Leader in Portland, will fill the position of foreman and business manager.
 Mr. Hankins will remain in editorial charge of the paper. Mr. Fitch is said to be a rustler, and he and Brother Hankins expect to revive the standing of the Herald and the spirits of the populists in this county. Mr. Hull has worked hard for the Herald, and had it not been for his self-denial and industry it would probably have been a corpse before this.

A STORMY SCENE.—The scene of Lincoln J. Carter's new play "The Tornado" is laid in a Wisconsin village, on the Fourth of July. An approaching storm soon becomes manifest, it turns out to be a veritable tornado, houses are torn asunder and blown away, great trees are taken up roots and all, and wafted into space, lightning flashes and thunder peals. The scene is one of awful intensity and truthfulness. Then follows the deck of a great ocean steamer, the grand rigging scene with six sailors on the yardarm of a mast, furling sail; a collision of two steamships scene showing the open sea tossing a lone man about on the waves which run as high as the stage will permit. Chicago harbor at night, a desecrating room in a medical college, and a beautiful autumn scene in the Wisconsin woods. "The Tornado" was unanimously pronounced the most elaborate stage melo-drama ever seen in Chicago by the entire press of that city.

STREET WORK.—Street Commissioner Babcock has been, as far as his limited funds would permit, putting the streets in passable condition for winter travel.
 He has the Seventh street hill road in fairly good condition. The tops of the largest rocks have been broken off and a coating of gravel spread over them so that it is possible to get from Main street to the hill without endangering one's life or vehicle. Drains have been placed so that the filling will not wash out at once. On Seventh street he has replaced the tile drain with wooden drains, the tile being nearly all crushed in Sam Godfrey and Wheeler Church under contract with the city delivered 300 yards of gravel on this street and it was used to good advantage by Mr.
 Babcock in restoring the street to its former grade. The cave-in at the Broughton cut on Fifth street has been removed and that street placed in condition. Limited repairs to other streets have been made where imperative though but little could be done as the funds were very short.

COUNTY BRIDGE WORK.—A fine bridge of 63 foot span was completed last week over Rock creek, a mile and a half north of Needy, to replace one that had become unsafe. The bridge was planned by Road Engineer Kinnaird, and the construction work was in charge of J. M.
 Hayden of Viola. It is said by those who have seen it to be a very substantial and well built bridge. This week Mr. Hayden, with his bridge gang, will make some needed repairs to the piers and bulkheads of the Shipley bridge across the Tualatin river, on the Oswego and Wilsonville road. These repairs are made necessary by the danger the bridge is liable to from freshets in the Tualatin.
 Next week Mr. Hayden will commence work on a bridge of 40-foot span across Little Clear creek, near Viola, that is needed upon that stream. Mr. Hayden was for years a foreman in bridge work for the O. R. & N. Co., and is an expert in his line, and an industrious, reliable man. The county has found him to be the right man to supervise and carry on the bridge work needed.

VIOLA HILL GRADE.—One of the best and most substantial and at the same time one of the most difficult pieces of road work that has been done in the county this season is the new road way up the hill from Viola to Redland. This road, which for the last thirty years, or ever since it was opened has been rendered almost impassable to loaded teams by reason of the steep grade and rough condition. The route is one half a mile long and up a wild canyon and in former surveys the best grade attained was ten per cent., but Road Engineer Kinnaird was able to get a grade of seven per cent with no variations in the grade from the bottom to the top. The road is graded to a width of forty feet and is provided with drains and a ditch on the upper side to carry off the water from the rains.
 The work was under the supervision of W. C. Ward, foreman for the Viola road district, and is a flattering compliment to his skill as a road builder.

THEATRIAN CLUB.—A dramatic society has completed its organization in this city, and has adopted as its title, the Theatrian Club. The club will make a study of the works of dramatic authors and the dissemination of histrionic matters. At stated intervals they will present standard plays to the public, after careful preparation and study. The officers of the stage management are as follows: Stage manager, C. E. Bailey; assistant stage manager, Prof. C. W.
 Durette; prompter, James Rintoul; property man, Grafton Cheney; musical director, Dr. J. W. Welch; scenic artist, William Wright. The business officers of the club are Prof. H. S.
 Strange, president; Joseph Rice, vice-president; Miss Sula Chase, secretary; Herman K. Jones, treasurer. The membership of this club possesses excellent talent, and something very good may be expected of them.

TO PROTECT FLOWERS.—The following plans are suggestive to the owners of flower gardens in Oregon City, to protect them from feathered depredaters: A woman pestered by other folks' chickens says an exchange, tied a lot of small cards with strong thread to big kernels of corn, and wrote on the cards, "Please keep your chickens at home." A dozen folks took the message to the owner, who is said to have acted on the delicate hint. A South Carolina ducky baited a fish-hook with corn and caught several chickens from a neighbor whose stock strayed to the river side, where the colored man was fishing.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.—A number of the young friends of Miss Lizzie Vigelius tendered her a very pleasant surprise party last Thursday evening. Social games and other amusements were on the program, and refreshments were served in abundant quantity. Those present were: Misses Orpha Cooper, Blanche Bain, Mabry McCown, Nena Caples, Mabel Hellenbrook, Grace Torvers, Emma Vigelius, Bertha Scraggan, Katie Marks, Bertha Scott, Veda Williams, Maud Noble; Masters Sewall Toepelman, Winnie Hill, Robert Cau-field, Carl Caulfield, Johnnie Vigelius, Willie Vigelius, Roy Case, Harvey Barrett, Harry Meaur, Herbert Shaw, Emury Noble and Roy Clinia.

HALLOWEEN ON THE WEST SIDE.—Was observed by the young people in the old fashioned manner, innocent jokes, moving gates, etc. No property was destroyed or damaged. The boys, in addition to having fun, did that which entitles them to praise. There is an old lady who is very poor and at present confined to her home by sickness. Her wood pile had not been cut or prepared for use, so Willie Silvers, Eddie Jordan and others took axes and saws and subdued that woodpile, and that free of charge to the lady. This is the same crowd of boys who a few weeks before carried water, hay, etc., to a poor old helpless horse that some older person had turned out to starve after it was too weak to make a living for itself or owner.
 That is what the West Side boys find pleasure in doing.
