Stafford Notes.

STAFFORD, Nov. 5.—We won't mention the weather this week, suffice it to say that it rained very hard last Friday and we have had two white frosts and an abundance of sunshine since.

We are pained to hear of the death of F. M. Kruse, a general mention of which will be found in another column of the paper.

F. P. Larson left while trucking potatoes in Oregon City Friday last and sustained injuries to his knee which has kept him confined to his bed since. The extent of his injury is not definitely known.

Philip Baker is having some wheat sown. Schartz's are plowing although the ground is dry. They can, by a good deal of horse power make a dirty streak across the field. John Gage has been taking a vacation for the past week nursing his pets descended from his ancient ancestor "Job."

WRECK.

CHERRY, Nov. 4.—Through farmers are wishing for more rain everybody joins in praise of the beautiful weather.

Andrew Fleming with his family and half brother, Johnie Stoker, have moved from this place to Wheatland. It is rumored that he is going to set up a blacksmith business. May success and prosperity attend him.

J. A. Jones has bought a piece of land or Mr. Yacht adjoining his mill property.

Close of the Exposition.

Tuesday night witnessed the close of the Oregon Industrial exposition which has been open since October 5th and from which time it is estimated that 100,000 people from over this state and the adjoining ones have visited Portland and the big fair.

The special nights drew large crowds to the fair and on Elks, Woodmen, Red Men and Military nights, transportation lines from Oregon City were taxed to accommodate the people.

Company F chartered a car on Military night and went down in great style. While there were few exhibits from Oregon City, the attendance was very large, and all agreed that had there been an exhibit from this county that there might be of considerable benefit derived from it.

Nearly two weeks ago Eury Howell obtained a leave of absence for three days from the woolen mills and took a trip up the valley. He kept his counsel, and evaded all questionings.

A good looking young lady returned with him, but Eury was always in a hurry while going to and returning from his work, and apparently had no time for talking on the way.

Shortly, it was observed that Mr. Howell was living in his own cottage at the corner of Ninth and Van Buren streets, and it was further observed that a lady presided at the mansion, and Eury was forced to acknowledge that he was married at Seio on October 25th to Miss Fannie Titus, a most estimable young lady of that place.

Bellomy & Busch have secured the upper floor of the building now occupied by them, and which has been used for a lodge room by the Knights of Pythias, Woodmen, Grand Army and Relief Corps and will use it for their carpet, rugs and upholstery business and for fine furniture.

Their trade has so increased within the past year that more room was imperative and in securing the entire building they are enabled to make a proper display and to handle their immense stock of furniture, carpets, upholstered goods hardware and notions.

Eight new members were received into the Congregational church last Sunday morning by letter. They were Prof. and Mrs. L. W. McAdams, Prof. and Mrs. C. W. Durrette, Rev. Henry Wall, Miss Marguerita Wall and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson. This makes 51 additions to the church since Dr. Cowan's pastorate began a little over a year ago.

Dr. A. P. Sawyer—Sir: After suffering for four years with female weakness I was persuaded by a friend to try your Pastilles, and after using them one year, I can say I am entirely well. I can not recommend them too highly.

Married.

Randall-Mathieu.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Mathieu, at Butteville, on Wednesday, November 6, 1895, Mr. Thomas P. Randall of Oregon City and Miss Violet Mathieu of Butteville.

At 10 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of a soft wedding march and took their places where they were joined by the officiating minister, Rev. M. L. Roggs of the Baptist church of Oregon City, who read the impressive marriage service, Mr. F. X. Mathieu, giving his daughter away.

The bridesmaids were Miss Mamie Mathieu and Miss Agnes Oulmote, sister and niece of the bride, and the groomsmen Mr. C. G. Huntley and F. S. Kelly of Oregon City. The bride wore a beautiful white crepe dress, en train trimmed with pearl ornaments and dainty lace and carried white chrysanthemums. The maids were also attired in pretty white gowns and carried bouquets of Ivory chrysanthemums.

After the ceremony was concluded and congratulations were offered the guests, who numbered about 50 of the immediate relatives and friends of the young couple, were served with an elaborate dinner and champagne and fine wines were drunk to the health and happiness of the bride and groom.

The house throughout was beautifully decorated with Ivory chrysanthemums and maiden hair ferns, the parlors and dining room being especially pretty with festoons of the graceful white flowers intertwined with ferns. The presents were very elegant and showed with what esteem the contracting parties are held by their friends. The groom's present to the bride was a gold watch and chain.

Mr. Randall is a stockholder and acts as purser for the Oregon City Transportation Co., one of whose boats, the Altona, made a special trip from Portland to Butteville to carry the guests. He is favorably known as one of the most popular young men of Oregon City. Miss Mathieu is the youngest daughter of the old pioneers Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Mathieu, who came to Oregon with the earliest settlers and have made French Prairie, or Butteville their home since.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall will spend about two weeks on the Sound after which they will occupy the Charman cottage on Seventh and Jefferson streets where they will be at home after November 18th.

It's Astonishing.

How Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription acts upon nervous women. It's a marvelous remedy for nervous and general debility, Chorea, or St. Vitus's Dance, insomnia, or inability to sleep, spasms, convulsions, or "fits," and every like disorder.

Even in cases of insanity resulting from functional derangements, the persistent use of the "Prescription" will, by restoring the natural functions, generally effect a cure.

For women suffering from any chronic "female complaint" or weakness; for women who are run-down or overworked; at the change from girlhood to womanhood; and, later, at the critical "change of life"—it is a medicine that safely and certainly builds up, strengthens, regulates and cures.

Leslie Brooks was arrested Sunday evening by Chief of Police Burns on a charge of drawing a revolver on William Kidd, the livery stable man. When arrested he claimed that he had not been in possession of any revolver, but it was afterward discovered that he had left the revolver in Miller's saloon. Monday afternoon Brooks had a hearing before Justice Dixon, where it transpired that he had stolen the revolver from Charles Noblitt, and as this was considered a more serious matter than the attempted assault, a charge of larceny was preferred against him and a fine of $40 was imposed or twenty days confinement in the county jail.

Wednesday evening was an important and pleasant occasion for Meade Post No. 2, G. A. R. Department Commander E. W. Allen with Assistant Adjutant General Morse and Quartermaster General Skinner, accompanied by H. DuBois, paid the Post an official visit.
