

HOW TO GET RID OF RODENTS.

The Old Bell Trick Is Declared to Be the Most Effective.

A gentleman who has experimented and insists that he knows what he is talking about says that it is possible entirely to clear premises of rats by a simple device.

One must have a trap that will catch a live rat. It is a good plan to chloroform the creature, as then there is no danger of getting bitten, and the bite of a rat is sometimes a very troublesome thing.

Then a tiny, tinkling bell is fastened around the rat's neck by a fine, strong chain or a wire, with the ends securely twisted, so that the rat may neither slip the collar off nor be caught in any place that it may attempt to crawl through.

In a few minutes it will recover from the effects of the chloroform, when it should be turned loose in the cellar, or whatever building one chooses to clear of these troublesome tenants.

The noise of the bell frightens it, and it rushes instinctively toward its comrades, and they in turn become frightened, and a panic takes possession of the entire colony. This is certainly a good way to banish rats.

It is suggested that a similar experiment be tried on the ground mole. These creatures are said to be extremely sensitive to noise, and the tinkling of a little bell through underground ways might be the means of driving them out of the neighborhood.

How to Shoot "on the Wing."

It is not difficult to shoot a bird "on the wing" with a little sensible practice. Every human limb is subordinated to the eye. It therefore follows that if while looking at a bird you can mechanically bring the barrel of your gun up exactly in line with your eye, pulling the trigger the instant the firearm reaches that point, the bird will be hit.

Consequently the main essential in wing shooting is accuracy and rapidity in elevating your gun to your shoulder while you gaze at a certain object. This can be practiced just as well with an empty gun as with a loaded one, and a few weeks' exercise will make you more than a passable marksman.

How to Use Kerosene for Many Purposes

To clean windows and mirrors add a tablespoonful of headlight or kerosene oil to a gallon of tepid water. A polish will remain on the glass that no mere friction can give.

To remove fruit stains saturate the stains with kerosene, rub thoroughly with baking soda and leave in the sun.

To remove paint from any kind of cloth saturate the spot with kerosene and rub well. Repeat if necessary.

To clean brass stair rods, brass bedsteads and other brasses, rub with kerosene and rotten stone, put on with a soft cloth and polish with a dry cloth, soft paper or chamois.

To remove rust from kettles or other ironware rub with kerosene and let them stand. Keep a day and then wash with hot water and soap, repeating if necessary.

Tarnished lamp burners may be rendered almost as good as new by boiling them in water to which a teaspoonful of soda and a little kerosene have been added. Then scour with kerosene and scouring brick, and polish with chamois or soft leather.

To clean iron work rub with a cloth dampened with kerosene.

To renew woodwork and furniture rub with kerosene and then with linseed oil.

To renovate black walnut furniture varnished with black varnish plentifully diluted with kerosene.

How to Blue Steel.

In order to blue steel pieces evenly the following will give satisfactory results: First blue the object without any special regard to uniformity of color. If it proves to be imperfect, take a piece of dead wood that does not crumble too easily or of clean pith and whiten the surface with rosin without letting it be too dry. Small pieces thus prepared, if cleaned and blued with care, will assume a very uniform tint.

How to Estimate the Weight of Cattle.

The weight of cattle can be ascertained by measurement. The girth close behind the shoulder and the length from the fore part of the shoulder blade along the back to the bone at the tail, which is a vertical line with the buttock, should be measured in feet. Multiply the square of the girth, expressed in feet, by five times the length, and divide the product by 21. The quotient is nearly the weight of the fore quarters in imperial stones of 14 pounds avoirdupois. In very fat cattle the fore quarters will be about one-twentieth more and in very lean animals about the same proportion less than the weight obtained by the rule. The fore quarters are little more than half the weight of the living animal, the skin weighing about the eighteenth part and the tallow about the twelfth part of the whole.

Rev. Isaac Dawson, who for the past year has had charge of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city, will soon leave for Albany where he will conduct services in a church in that city. While here Rev. and Mrs. Dawson have made many friends who will be sorry to lose them from our midst.

How to Remove Mildew.

Mildew is removed by first brushing off any loose mildew. Then a little common salt should be rubbed in, afterward liberally sprinkling with powdered chalk and thoroughly moistening with clean cold water. After this the articles should be slowly dried in the open air and then rinsed, and if the marks are not removed the treatment should be repeated, possibly several times, but in the end the mildew will be removed.

How to Make Ice Cream Cake.

Big Log Drive.

On Saturday last H. E. Cross completed a big log drive in the Clackamas river, landing a million feet of fine fir logs in the boom at the Gladstone mill. The logs come from near Eagle Creek and owing to the low stage of water, were about a week on the way. Mr. Cross has over half a million feet of logs yet at his camp all banked ready to drive when wanted. This is the largest lot of logs Mr. Cross has ever had in his boom at one time and anticipates that he will have no difficulty in holding them even during the highest water. He has had several strong piers built out in the river to hold his boom logs and they are so placed as to shear off the current and drift, and are so heavy that the highest flood cannot move them. There will be no log famine hereafter at the Gladstone sawmill.

The United Artisans.

We shall close our charter in Oregon City this week. All wishing to be members of this desirable order apply early while the cost of joining is so light. Remember ladies you who join are entitled to direct membership on the insurance. Widows wishing to provide for their children now is your chance. Dr. Fernham, deputy from the supreme assembly is still at the Electric Hotel and would be happy to give all information and receive application for membership in the order.

Union Thanksgiving services were held at the Congregational church. Rev. A. J. Montgomery, of the Presbyterian church, delivered an impressive and appropriate sermon, and the song service participated in by the different church choirs of the city, was grand.

Rev. Isaac Dawson, who for the past year has had charge of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city, will soon leave for Albany where he will conduct services in a church in that city. While here Rev. and Mrs. Dawson have made many friends who will be sorry to lose them from our midst.

A Progressive Firm.

That Oregon City is a solid and the business men are expanding rather than contracting their stock of goods, is easily seen by the most casual observer. Of the various firms, none have shown a greater increase in business than that of Bellomy & Busch, furniture and general merchandise dealers. The ground floor of their building having become too small for their purpose, they secured the second floor and have had it refitted to suit their purpose. A broad stairway leading from the front part of their store room has been put in to connect with the upper floor, on which the stock of carpets, mats, upholstered goods and fine furniture will be carried. With this additional floor space they will have ample room to show off their goods, and with the new stock to be put in will almost double the stock now carried. They are after the home trade and are going to get it and to hold it. Their prices and quality of goods will do the work.

Resolutions of Respect.

OSWEGO, OREGON, Nov. 25th, 1895. Whereas, It has pleased the Supreme Architect of the universe to remove our dearly beloved brother workman, Chas. Morrell, therefore be it

Resolved, That Pig Iron Lodge, No. 133, A. O. U. W., tender to the family of the deceased brother, our heartfelt sympathy and condolence, commending them to the divine "Workman," who alone is able to bear our griefs and carry our sorrows.

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Morrell this lodge has lost a faithful member, his family a loving husband and father and the community an honest man and upright citizen.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this lodge, and a copy presented to the bereaved family, also a copy be furnished the county papers for publication.

ROBERT L. POLLOCK, P. H. JARROCH, GEO. H. LOONEY, Committee.

E. G. Farnsworth, agent for the Troy Laundry Co has his new delivery wagon out and is collecting and delivering laundry three times a week to all parts of the city. The rig is a beauty and attracts much attention. With the excellent work and efficient service of Mr. Farnsworth's company, it should receive a liberal patronage from the people of Oregon City.

Will Young has bought out Wm. Kidd's interest in the Cook livery stables and the firm now is Young & Davidson. Mr. Young is a rustler and the firm will do all they can to furnish a good livery service at reasonable prices. They also board horses and give special inducements to farmers to leave their teams with them.

Harry Draper has taken the position of messenger boy for C. G. Huntley's drug store and W. A. Huntley's book store. Harry is as active a boy as there is in town and should fill the position creditably.

There will be a social dance given by the entertainment committee of Willamette Rebekah Lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F., at Armory Hall, December 13. All Odd Fellows cordially invited.

E. G. Farnsworth has had his barber shop repainted and brushed up until it looks as tidy as a lady's parlor and is as comfortable as one would wish.

Special sale in millinery on Nov. 29 and 30 you can get a trimmed hat from 75 cents up at E. E. Martin's.
