FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1895.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY CENSUS.—Assessor Bradley has completed the census of the population, cereal production and live stock of Clackamas county. These figures were obtained by a careful canvass made by Mr. Bradley and his assistants, while engaged in the regular assessment work of the county. The enumeration is as follows: Legal voters, 5,961; males over 21 and upwards, 9,617; males under 21 and over 10, 2,571; males under 10, 2,606; total, 11,794. Females over 18 and upwards, 4,912; females under 18 and over 10, 1,922; females under ten years, 2,625; total, 9,459; total number of males and females, 21,253. Stock and wool—Wool, 69,685 pounds; sheep, 13,023; hogs, 4,739; horses, 4,946; mules, 180; cattle, 10,674. Products—Acres under cultivation, 63,527; wheat raised during preceding year, 203,805 bushels; oats raised, 483,040; barley and rye raised, 16,309 bushels; corn, 7,940; hay, 21,582 tons; flax seed, 25 bushels; tobacco, 1270 pounds; butter and cheese, 261,709; hops, 1,317,427. Roots—Potatoes, 407,884 bushels. Fruits—Apples, 133,575; prunes and plums, 33,334 bushels. Lumber—12,066,100. These statistics do not include the great manufacturing industries of Clackamas county, including woolen goods, wood pulp and paper and excelsior, all produced in immense quantities, besides teasels and other domestic products of more or less importance. The figures show a great increase in the production of oats, as compared with wheat, owing probably to the ruling low price for the latter during the past two or three years. The total population of 21,253 souls, shows a preponderance of 2,355 males over the female population, a fact that looks discouraging to bachelors.

ADJOURNED COUNCIL MEETING.—An adjourned meeting of the city council was held Monday evening. It was moved and carried that a warrant be drawn in favor of Miss Kate Barclay on account of the Main street assessment for $110 30, less costs, that might be due the city in the Main street suit. The mayor and recorder were directed to execute a deed to the General Electric Company to the cement mill property upon the payment of $578.42, in satisfaction of delinquent Main street assessment. Ordinance passed authorizing W. W. Thayer and L. L. Porter to prosecute the suit against the East Side Railway Company to recover the delinquent Main street assessment, for a contingent fee of 20 per cent of the amount collected. Councilman Porter was authorized to purchase a new model hose clamp. He was also authorized to take notes for assessments on 5th and 7th street improvements, for a period of not longer than six months and drawing seven per cent interest. A motion was carried that rebate warrants for property bid in by the city be cancelled.

THE BOYS Y. M. C. A. FAIR.—The boys of the Y. M. C. A. will give a fair and sociable at the old Methodist church next Monday and Tuesday evenings, December 23rd and 24th. All sorts of articles and trinkets will be sold for what they can get and any one who will make something for them to sell will confer a great favor on them. Any articles contributed and which is not sold will be returned to the owner. Come out and help the boys.

ENTERTAINMENT AND BAZAR.—The Junior Endeavor entertainment and Mother Goose bazar at the Congregational church Tuesday evening, proved a very successful affair. The program was as follows: March on the organ, by Miss Echo Samson; recitation, by Miss Reva Gray; recitation, Miss Clarice Zumwalt; duet, Misses June Charman and Queenie Roake; recitation, Master Norman White; song, "The Blacksmith," by Masters Earl McAdams and Trafton Dye; recitation, "The Sphinx," Miss Ada Broughton; recitation, "The Messenger Boy," Miss Hazel Butler; solo, "The Clock on the Wall," Miss Ivy Roake; recitation, "The Baby in Church," Miss Edna Caulfield; solo, by Miss June Charman; doll drill, by eight little girls, and a "Water Song," by several young ladies in costume. The little folks all acquitted themselves very creditably, and did justice to the painstaking training of the Junior superintendent, Mrs. W. A. White, to whom much credit is due for the excellent entertainment. The doll drill by eight little girls, some of them only three years old, was unique and novel, and fairly brought down the house. Mrs. M. L. White and Mrs. Bert Roake spent about a month in training the little tots, and they did their work well. Mrs. George C. Brownell, who is always successful in everything she undertakes, made the doll bazar a thing of beauty, and the display was a veritable doll show. Refreshments were served by the waiter girls.

HOMESTEADS IN THE BULL RUN RESERVE.—It is not generally known that the source of Portland's water supply lies within the boundaries of Clackamas county. Yet, the metropolis of Oregon gets her water, light and power, and a goodly portion of her manufactured goods in certain lines from Clackamas county. In June, 1892, President Harrison issued a proclamation creating the Bull Run reserve, which virtually withdrew all the within mentioned lands from settlement. About this time, or prior thereto, a number of settlers filed homestead claims on the lands now included within the reserve, but the water commission are very desirous that no inhabitants reside in that section to contaminate the source of their drinking water for the fastidious Portlanders, and an attorney has been employed by the commission to look after their interests in the matter. Notices of contest, have already been filed against 16 homesteaders, and it is alleged that a majority of them have not fulfilled the requirements of the law in reference to the cultivation, improvements and residence on homestead lands; that some of them have only built small shanties, and have only lived on the lands at occasional intervals. The contests promise to be unusually interesting, and the outcome will be watched with eagerness.

PRIZE COMPOSITIONS.—Here is an opportunity for some of the Clackamas county school children to distinguish themselves, and at the same time acquire a little pocket money. The Manufacturer's Association of the Northwest, through their secretary, E. C. Masten, has sent out the following circular: "That in order to instill in the minds of the rising generation a state pride that would result in patriotic support of state institutions, and to bring the objects of the association before the families of the Northwest, and that a due sense of the importance of patronizing home industries may be firmly planted in the minds of the boys and girls of the state, it was decided the association would offer three prizes. One of $15, one of $10, and one of $5, to the best three original compositions sent in by the school children of Oregon under 15 years of age, the subject being, 'The Benefits of Patronizing Home Manufacturers.' The compositions must be in the hands of E. C. Masten, Secretary, room 7, Chamber of Commerce Building, Portland, Oregon, on or before January 10th, 1896, and the prizes will be awarded by the executive committee of the association, and published with the names of the authors.

BATY IN THE TOLLS.—Alexander S. Baty, a native of Clackamas county, and formerly postmaster at Barlow, and deputy game warden under McGuire, is in the tangled meshes of the law. His friends thought at the time he was arrested for cashing a draft at Astoria, that it was only a case of misunderstanding between Baty and Tarrant & Co., of San Francisco, for whom he was carrying a side line. This firm now accuses Baty of pawing a lot of samples of gloves which he carried, and state that they had to redeem the same. Besides the note alleged to have been signed by E. and J. Harrington, of Highland, for $175, which was left with Mr. Goodnough, of Portland, as collateral security, he is accused of forging the names of six prominent citizens at Gresham to a $900 note, which he attempted to hypothecate. Baty will have a hearing before the grand jury on these charges, and the outlook begins to look dark for him, and he will probably learn that the way of the transgressor is hard. It is said that Mrs. Baty has great confidence in her husband, and is doing everything possible to save him from the entanglements of the law.

A PAPER FOR BOTH OLD AND YOUNG.—The Christmas number of the Youth's Companion comes to us this year in a beautiful cover of royal purple and a warm buff color and while the design is plain, it makes a very attractive appearance. The bright, original stories in this paper from year to year make bright many hours in otherwise cheerless homes and are looked forward to with the greatest pleasure. Of particular interest are the serial stories which are awaited with as much delight as some intimate friend whom you know is coming, but cannot be with you for a week. The publishers pay their noted writers, who can be counted by the score, an enormous sum and in return the readers get the benefit of the work of these literary lights for the very reasonable amount of $1.75 a year. Give some member of your family a Christmas present of the Youth's Companion and you will be remembered fifty-two weeks of the year.

"COSMEON" PRESENTS.
 If you will look in the December number of Munsey's Magazine, page 6, you will find a whole page devoted to these beautiful toilet articles.

Here is a part of what it says: "They are made of handsome, white, never-changing aluminum. They are actually and honestly better than silver goods at much higher prices; because they are lighter, because they never tarnish, and because they are made as no silver goods are—and they cost a great deal less. The brushes are made so that not a drop of water can penetrate them; wash them as hard as you want to; soak them as long as you like. The back and face of the brush are made of two solid plates of pure aluminum. The bristles are inserted through perforations into a solid waterproof cement. There is nothing to skrink, or swell, or dry up, or crack. "COSMEON" articles, single or in combination, make suitable presents for anybody. The military hair brushes, clothes brushes, hat brushes are peculiarly desirable as presents for men. A single article may be had for from $2.00 to $4.00."

Celluloid brushes from $1.00 to $4.00, and almost the same may be said of them as of the aluminum brushes.

OUR HOLIDAY PERFUMERY consists of a complete new line of handsome satin-lined cases, cut-glass bottles and filled with the finest perfume. It is impossible to write about them, but it will be a pleasure to show them to you. The prices are so much less than last year that for a dollar or two you can get something fine enough for the most fastidious.

PERFUME ATOMIZERS.
 Never before have we had such bargains. We bought them at 25 per cent. off, and they are marked so that you get the advantage.

We have part of them in the window now, and the prices are marked in plain figures.
