The way to build up Oregon City is to give Oregon City people your patronage.

GENERAL GOMEZ, commander-in-chief of the patriot army in Cuba, is slender in build, weighing but 140 pounds, and standing five feet seven inches in height.

There is no town in Oregon other than Portland, that is favored by the press with so many notices as is Oregon City.

After a bitter fight in their convention last week, the Lane county populists decided to keep in the middle of the road and declined a fusion with the democrats.

That a low tariff brings disaster to the sheep men, has of late become too apparent to be further doubted.

England does not believe in a policy of reciprocity. After selling us upward of $60,000,000 more of her goods last year, over and above the quantity sold in 1894, she bought less of our wheat and flour to the extent of $1,300,000.

MEXICO has of late become one of the most prosperous nations of the world, and is building up at a rate not equalled by any other of the Latin-American countries.

Since a board of pardons was established in Ohio, the number of pardons granted has been reduced two-thirds. Need of a board of pardons for Oregon is not so great now as it was when we had the erratic Penney for governor, yet even with so level-headed a governor as Lord is, a board could better handle this important business.

The Farmers' Institute for this county to be conducted in this city on Friday and Saturday of next week by the professors of the State agricultural college, promises to be well worthy of attendance of every farmer in this section.

The Oregon City Young Men's Republican club should begin to do some work for this campaign. All the other republican clubs in the county are holding regular meetings and their work cannot but have a strong influence with the voters.

The democratic antipathy to internal improvements, together with the opposition of the trans-continental railroads, appear to have hung up the Nicaragua canal project for the time being and this much needed great waterway will have to wait for a more auspicious time.

It would appear that Americans are becoming less roving than their fathers were, as is shown by Professor Wilcox of Cornell, who has compiled a series of statistics showing that in 1870 more than one-fourth of our native population had removed from the states where they were born, but in 1890 only one-fifth had emigrated.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

The Newberg Independent speaks of the social evil in the following truthful language: There is one evil in this world that apparently cannot be remedied by statutory law, and that is the evil of unlawful intercourse between the sexes.

The following sensible advice is from the Detroit Electrical Student, and the admonition should be heeded by the venture-some car riders of Oregon City before some one gets an arm or leg cut off or possible their head gullitoned for their recklessness.

The practice of jumping off the electric cars while they are in motion should be stopped. People should be informed and made to know that the electric cars are not drawn with the power of horses and consequently cannot be stopped when the accident occurs.

formed the habit of stepping on and off the car while in motion. The confidence thus gained is apt to be a source of danger.

The London Spectator has an article on the prevailing restlessness of nations, in which it speaks of a probability that some sort of disastrous explosion among them is near at hand.

The following is the list of letters remaining in the post office at Oregon City, Oregon, on February 19, 1896:

Your Boy Went Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had lung trouble, following typhoid malarial, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month."

For the Lungs.

Elder Alson W. Steers writes from Portland, Or., "There is no medicine for the throat and lungs that I can recommend to ministers, public speakers and singers, with the confidence that I can the S. R. Cough cure."
