The dwelling house belonging to T. S. Lawrence on Eighth and J. Q. Adams streets was discovered to be on fire Sunday night at about 1 a. m. and an alarm was promptly turned in for Hose Company No. 3, which responded promptly and soon had the fire under control, though when they arrived it seemed hardly possible that they could save the house. The dwelling was vacant, Mr. Lawrence having moved a couple of days previous to his new residence near by, though some of their household effects were yet in the building, Mr. Lawrence was there clearing up and burned a lot of old rubbish in a kitchen stove, yet he was very careful and was sure that the fire was out before he left in the evening. It is thought that boys may have spent the evening in the house or tramps broke in and built up a fire and were careless in caring for it thus setting the building on fire. The loss as estimated by F. F. White for the insurance company amounted to $329.

A Clean Game Between the Eastham and Bareiny High School Boys.

The long anticipated football match Callf between the respective teams of the Barclay and Eastham schools took place last Saturday afternoon at Gladstone Park and was witnessed by a larger crowd than has ever appeared at any previous athletic contest here, it being estimated that about 1500 or 2000 were on the grounds. The blue and white of the Eastham school and the red and white of the Barclay school were everywhere in evidence and the enthusiasm of the small boys with horns was shared by both young and old alike. Three warm admirers of the Eastham school expressed their enthusiasm by an improvised fife and drum corps, making the circuit of the ground several times followed by children from both schools, cheering or booting, according to the colors they wore. It was a scene which gave some slight idea of the excitement and abandon at the big games at Springfield and New Haven.

Sympathy seemed to be evenly divided between the teams, the Barclay being the tavorite perhaps, because that echool had been the alma mater of many of the spectators and also because the Barclay team was handi-If you want a sewing machine for $25 capped by the loss of their captain, Ralph Cross, who was too sick to play.

Energy and Progress.

The Willamette Land Company is alive to the situation, and for some time has been preparing to take advantage of the opportunities offering. So far arrangements have been made to place its large holdings in real estate, all of which is in Clackamas county and in the vicinity of Oregon City, in the best possible condition so as to afford every inducement to purchasers whether homesteaders, investors or speculators. One of the most recent moves has been to employ Mr. J. K. Groom, who has been well and favorably known as a gentlman of industry and intelligence, to make an extended trip East in its interests as well as for the welfare of this county and the state generally. He left here on Monday evening last destined for Chicago over the Union Pacific system to Omaha; thence to Chicago via the Chicago, Milwaukie & St. Paul Railway, and he went thoroughly equipped with advertising matter pertaining to the vast resources of the state, the county of Clackamas and of the company he represents.

That the Willamette Land Company will profit by their display of foresight and timely effort and energy, we have the utmost confidence and we bespeak for the people he may interest a hearty
