School to Close Soon With Literary Exercises—Big Catch of Fish—Items of Interest.

PARKPLACE, May 2.—There has been considerable sickness during the past week or two. Two of Cyrus Straight's children have been afflicted with scarletina, but we are glad to note that they are well again. One of John Straight's little girls has also been ill with the same complaint, but is now recovered.

Paul Prager has been confined to his home with the mumps. We are glad to say he is well again, as we could not get along with our band master sick.

James Moore, a citizen of Parkplace, has moved to Canemah, where he will make his future home. Mr. Moore is working in the woolen mills, and probably wishes to be closer to his work.

There has been considerable going out of citizens from this place lately, but there has been at the same time a coming in.

Mr. Wallace recently moved his family into the house belonging to J. K. Groom.

We are very glad to hear that Mr. John Smith of this place, who some two weeks ago started for Astoria in a small skiff, for the purpose of finding work, has safely arrived and procured work four miles this side of Astoria. He is fishing, and doing fairly well.

Our young student, Fred Smith, of Parkplace, who is attending college at Corvallis, was visiting his folks several days last week. Fred being a member of the college band came down with them on an excursion. He seems to enjoy the college life and is doing good work, the outcome of which, we predict, will be a rich intellectual harvest.

A friendly hop among the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Whetstone took place on the evening of Friday last at Mr. Whetstone's home.

Many of the young students of the Parkplace high school are very busily engaged preparing their orations for the closing exercises, which will take place in about three weeks, probably in the auditorium at Gladstone if the weather is favorable. There will be two graduates this term.

Mr. Hargreaves and son have commenced work on their new home at West Gladstone, and will rush the building ahead as soon as the weather will permit.

The continued rains have raised the Clackamas considerably, but not enough to do any damage.

Mr. Cross is getting along very well with driving piles. He will soon have them all driven, and then will come the great work of filling in with brush and stone.

William Eitus, who some time ago went to work in a logging camp on the Columbia river, is back home for a few days, as the work down there is stopped until the weather clears up.

Louie Himler and his partner claim to be the champion fishermen of the Clackamas. On a recent night they caught 148 salmon. This catch also shows the great number of fish that ascend the Clackamas river to their spawning beds.

Smyrna News.
SMYRNA, May 4.—It is not fashionable to make any remarks about the weather.

L. D. Yoder has been building an addition to his house. Mr. Olson, of Marquam, did the work.

Mrs. I. B. Hein and Mrs. A. J. Yoder attended the Willamette Association at Albany last week.

Last Thursday a volunteer force, under Supervisor Mitts, put in a day's work on what is known as the summit road, cutting out brush, roots and logs, straightening up the bridges, and filling up ditches and mud-holes, and thereby made passable a mile or more of road, which shortens the distance to the county seat from here some five miles. We are of the opinion that there are other neighborhoods where a day's work of the above kind would be a benefit to the traveling public. Gentlemen, it takes work to build roads. Sitting around the stove in the village grocery, chewing "long green" and swearing at the county court between chews, will never accomplish much that is useful. At least that is the way it seems to Josa.

Sunnyside News.

SUNNYSIDE, May 4.—The cold and rain still continue. It looks very discouraging for fruit and early crops of any kind, although some are making calculations for a large hay crop.

Mr. Conklin is building a large barn and Mr. Hunter is preparing to build another 30x50 feet.

Tony Sexton has brought home a wife whose name the writer has not learned. We wish them happiness and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cotty have taken their departure for Eastern Oregon where they intend to homestead.

Roy Johnson has completed a contract of cutting 100 cords of wood for Mr. Hunter.

Mr. Cotty had a slight stroke of paralysis last week.

A little bird whistles of a wedding here before long.

Mr. Sperry is to have ten acres of slushing done on his place. Mr. Reed has the contract.

Mrs. Reed was very much surprised Tuesday of last week to see a party of ladies and gentlemen coming to her home with baskets of lunch, when it occurred to her it was the fortieth anniversary of her birth. The party had an enjoyable time. It consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Della Johnson, Mrs. Hunter and daughter, Miss Nellie Davis, Mrs. Donnelly, Mr. and Mrs. Welch children.

A cow owned by Mr. Beslow presented him with a two-headed calf. It used both mouths to draw milk, and had four eyes. We hear Mr. Beslow has sold the calf for $25.

Miss Zolpha Davis is quite sick at this writing.

Rev. Mr. Bradley has moved away. His place is to be filled soon.

The school house is progressing. The frame is up.

DAMASCUS NOTES.

Grangers Building a Fine Hall—Sunday School Organized.

DAMASCUS, May 4.—Everybody is patiently waiting for dry weather so they can plant their potatoes and gardens. Most all of the grain has been sown.

F. A. Wiese has built a neat picket fence in front of his house, and has been doing some grubbing preparatory to building a nice and comfortable house nearer the road than the old house. Mr. Wiese is a rustler and knows how to manage.

E. A. Coe has recently grubbed up some old and worthless fruit trees, and intends to make use of the ground by sowing it to fall grain.

The Damascus people support an excellent Grange, and having no hall of their own, they have made arrangements to build a good and substantial, 24x44 feet, two stories high. The lower hall will be used for a public one, while the Grange will use the upper one. Work will commence immediately. The Grange initiated seven new members at its last meeting, one being a lady some 70 years old.

Mrs. Elliott has been dangerously ill but is now improving under the care of Dr. Sommer of Oregon City.

Miss Eula Strong closed a very successful term of school at this place a week ago last Friday.

Fred Buchmann has been blasting stamps and clearing a piece of land during the rainy weather, while on Will Buchman's possession can be seen the shingles for a new house to be erected this summer, and the earth excavated from a well, which would indicate that leap year is coming to an end.

Christian Heiser has also been clearing some land which makes his farm look much better.

Church services and Sunday school are held in the M. E. chapel on the first and third Sundays of each month, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m.

Sandy Sayings.

SANDY, May 3.—Farm work is considerably delayed on account of prevailing bad weather. Fruit trees are in full bloom. Grass and fall sown grain look well.

John Crise, who has rented the Sandy hotel, is building a stable for horses for the accommodation of his customers.

Last Saturday our mail carrier had the misfortune to break the axle and two springs on his rig, and had to leave it on the road at Pleasant Home.

George Vanderhoof has made a fine horse bridle out of horse hair, which it took him four months to make. It is a master piece of work, and is worth at least forty dollars. Last Saturday he raffled it off and made only eight dollars for his four months work.

Lot Parker has again started to run a butcher wagon.

Our school will have a vacation of two weeks.

Casper Arduser, of Portland, is out on the Sandy looking after his property.

Mr. and Mrs. Yenger, of Portland, were out on the Sandy visiting friends and relatives.

Prof. H. T. Tiffet, phrenologist, of Portland, delivered two lectures at Meinig's hall Tuesday and Wednesday evening.

George Vanderhoof has left for his home in Kansas by way of Montana.

Mrs. Wesley has been very ill the past week, but is better now.

The G. A. R. of Pleasant Home will observe decoration day at the church. Able speakers have promised to be present.

What's the matter with our stentorian populists? They used to be everywhere out here, but now there are none to be seen or heard. Were they wiped out two years ago, or are they secretly plotting a new scheme—one they think will work a little better than the one they tried two years ago!

Frog Pond Croakings.

FROG POND, May 4.—Don't rush the season, boys; it won't stand it this spring. Jas. Caldwell tried it Sunday by wearing a straw hat to Canby, and see what we got.

Butler Barstow, the poet, left for Wilhoit Springs the 21st of April to take a contract of making rails.

The "dads" of the district have purchased a new map of Oregon for the school. John Kruse made a trip to Portland last week. Mr. Kruse is afflicted with diabetes.

Clyde Evans was in Portland Thursday last. Clyde is the honored chairman of the populist club.

We were glad to behold the smiling countenance of Grandpa Peters in the Pond.

The politician has made his appearance amongst the "German fellow citizen," as he says. What will it be after election? Something must be done. The republicans must organize in this precinct or by June all will go populist. Can't afford to give up like this, boys.

Tualatin Grange met Saturday with a good attendance. As usual, the "goat" took a prominent part.

Wm. Fisher is convalescent. It may be "policy" to be sick at times. Who knows?

Road work is on a par with farming. The travelers seek the bottom of the roads when not too deep.

The North Western Shipping Co. met at the Meridian school house Saturday evening to discuss matters pertaining to their landing and warehouse, situated a mile below Boone's ferry. The incessant high water this spring is playing havoc with the foundation of the warehouse. To stop this they intend to have driven fifteen or twenty piles as soon as Mr. Geer, of steamer Toledo, arrives with the driver.

REDLAND NEWS.

School Closed With Interesting Exercises—Other Local Events.

REDLAND, May 4.—E. Richardson and A. Cutting left here last Tuesday, April 28th, for Eastern Oregon. They expect to shear sheep this season.

E. Richardson has had bad health the past year, and thinks change of climate would help him.

Miss H. Holcomb has been visiting friends in this place the past week.

The spring grain does not look very well on account of the cold rains and frosts; but we think as soon as the sun comes out it will be all right.

Fruit trees are in full bloom.

Services were held in the M. E. church last Sunday evening by the pastor, Rev. Quimby.

A ball will be given at Linn's mill by the Redland and Beaver Creek brass band, Saturday, May 23d. All are invited to attend.

It looks as though people would not get any potatoes planted or gardening done this spring on account of the wet weather.

A. E. Mosher and J. Baxter were visiting friends in this town one day last week.

Wm. Sprague was visiting friends and relatives at Logan, Sunday, April 26.

Mr. Emmons, who resides near Portland, is visiting with his son-in-law, F. E. Linn.

Charles Strauwacker died at his home in this place Monday morning, April 20. The funeral took place Tuesday at one o'clock.

We are glad to relate that Jacob Strauwacker, who is at the Gladstone hospital, is recovering, though slowly, from his wounds received from a blast.

Miss Helen Taylor closed a very successful term of school in district No. 75, with a very entertaining and well arranged program, as follows:

Oswego News.

OSWEGO, May 4.—On Monday evening of last week, I. O. O. F. No. 93 celebrated the 7th anniversary of the Order by a joint meeting of No. 93 and the Rebekah's. A fine lunch was served, which was no doubt greatly enjoyed by all present. Your correspondent not being an Odd Fellow can only speak from hearsay.

L. A. Jackson of Woodlawn, was in Oswego last Wednesday on business.

Supervisor Prosser has had a good job done on the hill from the Upper Sucker creek bridge to J. Bickner's store in South Oswego. The grade was lessened considerably, and Mr. Bickner can now get a load of goods to his store without such everlasting hard pulling.

J. J. Bullock has moved from Oswego and taken up his abode in West Oregon City. Our good wishes go with Mr. Bullock and his family to their new home.

The pipe foundry resumed operations upon Monday of last week.

Mr. A. B. Whiteware, grand lecturer and organizer for the United Artisans, organized an assembly in this place on Monday evening last. The following officers were elected: Dr. A. L. Saylor, master artisan; Edgar Davidson, superintendent; Miss Minnie Coon, inspector; Philo Zimmerman, secretary; Miss Etta Mack, treasurer; I. L. Anderson, master of ceremonies; Jas. Coon, senior conductor; John Bail, warden. The assembly was organized with 18 charter members, and with applications for membership since received, a successful organization is assured. The charter will remain open for a time in order to allow others to unite at reduced rates.

Salmon News.

SALMON, May 2.—School will begin in this district Monday with Miss Mary Leader as teacher. She taught the same school last summer.

A. J. O'dell will go to Oregon City next week on business connected with a law suit. F. J. Walkley and S. Welch will also go as witnesses in the case.

Mr. Morris Kline, who has been staying at Mr. Walkley's for a while, has returned to Portland.

J. T. McIntyre will go to Oregon City tomorrow on business. He will be gone the most of the week.

We are very anxious for nice weather. We have had a surfeit of rain lately.

H. B. Campbell has gone to Portland for a short time.

Robert Bigelow of Portland, is out to spend the summer. He will stay with H. B. Campbell at the Summit house.

Maple Lane Notes.

MAPLE LANE, May 5.—Notwithstanding the bad weather last Saturday afternoon, quite a crowd met at the school house to raise a pole for our flag. The pole, which is of cedar and presents a handsome appearance, stands about 96 feet above the ground. When the flag was hoisted to the top and was shaken out by the breeze, three cheers went up for "Old Glory." We then listened to the singing by the young people of the "Red, White and Blue," followed by an original poem by George Bishop, Jr. We then listened to an interesting address by our teacher, E. M. Ward. To close the program the ladies served an excellent lunch, as our ladies know how to do.

WILHOIT WHISPERINGS.

Mrs. Flora Jennings spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richards.

Miss Elsie Brayton, of this place, is weaving in the factory.

Miss Kate Mautz is home again after being in Oregon City two or three weeks.

Good Inducements for a Store—New County Road Needed—Off for the Mines.

WILHOIT, May 4.—Mr. A. Crossing, who had his leg broken some time ago, is now able to walk without a crutch.

Mrs. Mazingo, who has been very ill, is still in bed, but we are in hopes she will soon be up again.

B. F. Barstow is once more on his father's place in the mountains making rails and fencing some land that he slashed last summer. He has just finished up a job on the Willamette river near Boone's ferry. He says he cleared ten cents a day on the job, but it is doubtful. Just stay in the mountains, Ben, and you will be all right.

Henry Mazingo has a contract to cut 100 ricks of two-foot wood for the hotel at the springs.

H. Mazingo and A. Paquet have started to the Santiam country to look after their interests in a placer mine they located one year ago. The boys say it is good. I hope it is, and that when they get their pockets full of the shining metal they will not forget me.

The stock company that was formed at Monitor for the building of a new store-house, has the same nearly complete. The store room is 24x44, and will be well finished in the near future. It is for rent, and I think it is as good a point for a store as there is in the county. If some good business man will put in a good stock of goods he can do well.

The superintendent of roads has been up in the Marquam district looking at the roads, and we are in hopes that Supervisor Drake will soon get to work, weather permitting,—for the roads are in a bad shape and need lots of repairs.

The settlers on Butte and Coal creeks are talking of getting up a petition for a road from the Kirk place on Coal creek to intersect the road from Soda Springs on the hill above Scott's mills. This is a much needed road, and the sooner the petition is drawn up the better, for the settlers along the proposed route have no outlet except by private roads.
