BARLOW NEWS.

The Populists Have a Great Rally, Followed by a Greater One by the Republicans.

BARLOW, May 12.—Hello! We're again on deck, and this time to stay awhile, unless some unforeseen thing calls your correspondent away, as it always gives us pleasure when here to correspond for such a worthy and widely circulated paper as the ENTERPRISE. One dollar and a half, please.

POPULISTS TALK.—Last Thursday evening, Columbia hall was well filled with populists and others to listen to the various candidates on the populist ticket talk upon the issues of the day. The meeting was called to order by Mr. W. S. Tall, who introduced the speakers in order. Mr. May was the first speaker. He gave his standpoint and reason for becoming a populist after having been a democrat for so many years, and closed by stating that he was not a candidate for any office, though his interest in the party caused him to stump the county. He dwelt upon the silver question at a considerable length and explained that he was not only a silver man of 16 to 1, but as well for a high protection. Mr. Kruse was next to speak, and said he had fallen from republican ranks to that of a full-fledged populist. While he admitted his lack of eloquence as a speech-maker, he said, if elected, he would be in for retrenchment and the interest of the taxpayers. He believed in an extremely high protective tariff and a monetary value of 16 to 1. Mr. Sam Marks was introduced as a new comer in our midst, he having lived here only forty years. After gathering his ideas, he cited back to the administration of Col. W. L. White, of which he, as well as all taxpayers, were so proud, stating that during his reign he built the court house and suspension bridge which involved an expenditure of over $100,000, as also of other numerous bridges which were absolutely necessary, and after serving his term of office, the county was in debt only some forty odd thousand dollars, since which time the indebtedness has reached the enormous sum of about $160,000. He said he did not wish to accuse any of the later administrations of bad management, but figures will out. The few well-chosen remarks of Mr. Grace, were the most convincing and least tiresome of the evening. Mr. Hankins then followed with a neat little speech to the point. The last speaker was Mr. U'Ren, on the representative ticket, who spoke at considerable length, but whose every word was interesting. He clothed his language in a very creditable way, setting forth the views of the populist party, and favoring very strongly the initiative and referendum. His ideas upon protective tariff were, as he termed, "effective tariff," endeavoring to show the the Wilson bill was more for a high protective tariff, excepting a few articles, wool, etc., than the McKinley bill. He eulogized all the candidates and stated that he hoped to be again in Barlow before the election.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.—The McKinley republican club opened the campaign at Barlow last Friday and had as their speaker, Hon. George C. Brownell. The meeting was called to order by the president, Hon. Wm. Barlow, introducing the senator, who talked for a solid hour and one-half upon a republican standpoint. Mr. Brownell handled the protective tariff in a mastery way, showing the good effect that could be derived under the McKinley tariff and favored as a monetary standard, 16 to 1, giving figures and defining his position, calling attention to the republican administrations before silver was demonetized, and pointing with pride to the "good old days of yore." He defined his positions and actions in the last legislature, and stated that he had not betrayed a promise that was made by him upon the stump, and further had taken a clipping from the Industrial Herald, written by Mr. U'Ren, giving him credit for having been "true blue" to the republican party for all promises made. Mr. Brownell spoke of the different candidates on the republican ticket in the highest terms and predicted a grand republican victory in the state of Oregon, and a triumphal victory for the republican party, with McKinley at its head next November, with restored prosperity and the mighty power wheels all moving. Mr. Eli Maddock was the next gentleman to speak, and gave in a clear and comprehensive way the ins and outs of the sheriff's office, and asked the people for their suffrage. Mr. Maddock will no doubt receive a good support in this district as he is a well-met and whole-souled good fellow. Mr. Henry Meldrum was next called upon with hearty applause and responded with a few well-chosen words, thanking the people for their appreciation of him and assuring them that if elected he would conduct the clerk's office in a thoroughly business way. Mr. Carey Ramsby was then called upon and thanked the people in advance for their support in the coming election. Mr. William Barlow then took the floor and was loudly applauded for the able endorsement he made on the financial question, declaring for 16 to 1, as the money of our fore-fathers and the hope for the nomination and election of a republican president who would follow in their foot-steps and forever make for himself a name, as did Lincoln. The meeting then adjourned with three hearty cheers for Brownell and the republican ticket.
