FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1896.

THE LATE SOL ACKERMAN.—Sol Ackerman, one of the prominent residents, and a former merchant of Oregon City, died at his residence on the corner of Seventh and Water streets on Thursday evening, May 7th. He had been troubled with heart disease for some time, and was much worse for a few days previous to his death. Mr. Ackerman was 63 years old at the time of his demise, and was born in Weintenthal, Bavaria, but came to Oregon City 40 years ago, and engaged in the general merchandise business under the firm name of Ackerman & Dassenbaum, which was afterward changed to Mayer & Ackerman. This was the name under which the firm continued business until they retired about three years ago. In November, 1863, Mr. Ackerman was married to Miss Rosa Bachman, who survives him. He leaves five children, Isaac, Lorena, Will, Minnie, Albert and Lester. Mr. Ackerman was a charter member of Falls City Lodge, No. 59, A. O. U. W., and about 130 members of the order attended the funeral services. Rabbi Bloch, of Portland, conducted the services at his late residence in this city last Sunday morning. A car-load of the members of Falls City Lodge, escorted the remains to the Jewish cemetery in Portland, accompanied by the family and relatives of the deceased and other friends. Here, further services were held by Rabbi Bloch and the A. O. U. W. Mr. Ackerman was one of the pioneer business men of Oregon City, whose life has been a part of its progressive history. His good deeds will live long after his memory is forgotten.

A WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.—A very enjoyable surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Taylor last Friday evening in honor of their 43rd wedding anniversary, it also being Mrs. Taylor's 59th birthday. The parlors had been prettily decorated by their daughter, Mrs. Broughton, assisted by some friends during their absence in Portland where they had been invited to spend the day with their son, O. W. Taylor. Upon returning in the evening they were indeed surprised to find a number of merry friends and neighbors awaiting them. The evening was pleasantly passed in card playing and conversation until a late hour when a delicious lunch was served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Putrow, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Greenman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lazelle, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Bestow, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Pillsbury, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Broughton, Mrs. M. E. FOR MINERS.—The necessary blanks for filing on a mining claim can be had at the Enterprise office, as well as blanks for all other needs. Portland prices duplicated.

STORY-TAYLOR.—A very pleasant wedding party gathered at the residence of Mr. Story on Ninth and Taylor streets, last Sunday afternoon, to witness the marriage ceremony of William F. Story and Miss Helen M. Taylor. Rev. A. J. Montgomery performed the wedding ceremony in a very impressive way in the presence of about 40 invited guests. After the ceremony the bridal couple received the congratulations of their friends, and a wedding dinner was served. The groom is a member of the well known blacksmith firm of Story Bros., and stands high among his acquaintances as a reliable and industrious young man. The bride, a most estimable young lady, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Taylor, of this city, and is a well known Clackamas county teacher. During the wedding ceremony she was attired in lovely dress of gray silk, trimmed with costly lace. Mr. and Mrs. Story are at home in their new residence on the corner of Ninth and Taylor, where the wedding festivities occurred. Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Taylor, Mrs. Jane Story, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Story, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. F. Welch, Mr. and Mrs. E. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright, Mr. Mrs. W. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. E. Patton, Mrs. Emma Harrington, Mrs. Maggie Batdorf, Misses Anna Story, Myrtle Taylor, Minnie, Ivy, Pearl and Wava Harrington, Ethel Martin, Ethel Wright; Messrs. B. C. Patton, George L. Story, George W. Harrington; Masters Archie and Vernon Story, Virgil, Oral and Ray Welch, Waldo Brown.

THE FREE READING ROOM.—The free reading room opposite the Electric hotel, is undergoing a complete overhauling. The woodwork has been repainted, and the walls have been papered with a tasty design, a new door has been hung at the entrance of the library, and other improvements have been made, that make it one of the most attractive places in the city. In addition to this, new flooring has been laid in a portion of the room, the electric lights have been lowered over the long reading table, and Messrs. Pope & Co., have kindly offered to re-line the stove free of charge. All the leading papers and magazines are received at the reading room, and a number of new books have recently been added. Mrs. H. W. Duff and J. E. Finley have recently contributed a number of Chautauqua volumes, and Mrs. M. Bollack, has donated a number of the "Once a Week" stories. The free reading room is doing a good work, and growing in its sphere of usefulness. Rev. H. Wall, the librarian, takes especial pride in his work, and carefully looks after the interests of the association. There is abundant room for two reading rooms in Oregon City, and there is plenty of work for both to accomplish, and they will no doubt receive substantial encouragement from the people of Oregon City.

A PIONEER LITERARY SOCIETY.—The Whiskey Hill Literary and Debating Society, of Elliott Prairie, one of the oldest societies in Clackamas county, adjourned Saturday evening until the 3rd Saturday in September. There was a good attendance, and an excellent program was presented on this occasion. G. B. Smith delivered the opening address, followed with a song by the Glee Club. There was a recitation by Albert Erb, instrumental music by T. Campan, declamations by George and John Walshman, a select reading by Miss Elva Mills, a declamation by T. Campan, a darkey song by Calvin Reasoner, a Negro sermon by Ralph Dimick, another song by the Glee Club, a select reading by Fred Mills, a song by J. R. Dimick, and a closing selection by the Glee Club. At the close of this splendid program, the question, "Resolved that the United States should adopt the free and unlimited coinage of American silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, was debated. The speakers for the affirmative were Frank Campan, G. B. Smith, G. W. Owings and T. Campan; for the negative, were John Volkman, William Years, J. R. Dimick. The majority of the judges decided that the affirmative made the best argument.

Y. M. C. A. BOARD MEETING.—The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. held a meeting last Monday evening. The general secretary's report showed a healthy condition of the affairs of the association. One hundred and six members have paid up their dues, and there are nine new applications in for membership. The average attendance at the Sunday afternoon services is 67, and the reception committee reported 100 visitors to the rooms last Saturday evening. Thirty-five baths were given during the evening. The committee reported favorably on the ladies' auxiliary, and the general secretary was given permission to proceed with the organization of the same. A committee was appointed to confer with the association in Portland in reference to headquarters at Gladstone during the Chautauqua Assembly. Arrangements are being made to organize a gymnasium of boys under 16 years of age, who are not eligible to membership. These boys by paying $1 per quarter, will receive all the benefits of the gymnasium. The treasurer's report shows that $403.77, received from all sources, and $393.40 expended.
