Refrigerators

are about the only effective home protection against the weather. Butter, meat and other supplies won't keep without ice when the mercury sizzles in the nineties, and the refrigerator is the perfection of the icebox. The loss from spoiled meats and other supplies in a single season will considerably exceed the cost of one of these household necessities. With a refrigerator everything is easily kept fresh and wholesome, which without one would be quickly tainted and unfit for use. We show them in five different sizes at from $9 to $23.70 each. Save money by getting one immediately.

DEFIES BURGLARS.

GREAT SAFE THAT IS A MECHANICAL CURIOSITY.

The Bank of Oregon City Installs a Receptacle for Cash, Claimed to be Proof Against any Attacks from Thieves, Mobs or Dynamite.

There was a curious sight on Main streets last week, and it can be stated positively that not the oldest resident of Oregon City ever saw one similar in all its details. A large crowd gathered that day on the sidewalk in front of the Bank of Oregon City and watched with apparently absorbing interest the arrival of a truck drawn by four powerful horses. The mysterious article, which was evidently of great weight was carefully wrapped in bagging and surrounded by a queer looking harness that added to its mysterious appearance. "What is it?" was on everybody's lips, but no one could answer. Speculation ranged all the way from a "gigantic cannon ball" to a "monument of unique design."

When the great wagon with its ponderous and mysterious load was driven in front of the Bank of Oregon City and stopped there, we learned that the curiosity was an immense burglar and mob-proof safe of original design made by William Corliss of Providence, R. I., one of the brothers of steam-engine fame. Upon making inquiry we learn that this particular safe is over four feet in diameter, weighs seven and one-half tons, and is built upon lines that make it as impregnable to attacks by burglars and mobs, as the Spanish once found Gibraltar to be when they attempted to wrest that fortress from the British.

Having thus had our attention called to this subject we have taken some trouble to inform ourselves and find that the Corliss safe is a wonderful production, and, like many other radical departures from usual methods, its conception and perfection is the result of a trivial circumstance that entirely changed the life work of its designer and gave to the world a unique and very valuable invention.

Some 20 years ago Mr. William Corliss, then the treasurer and manager of the famous Corliss Steam Engine Company of Providence, R. I. (of which his brother, the late George H. Corliss, was the founder), while acting upon a committee of the Merchants' National bank of that city, was called upon to purchase a burglar-proof safe. Upon investigating the system of construction practiced by the leading safe and vault manufacturers, Mr. Corliss pronounced it radically wrong and inherently defective.

Realizing the importance of the subject and comprehending the mechanical defects of the prevailing system of construction, Mr. Corliss' mind dwelt upon it so much that in the course of a few years he conceived what is now the Corliss safe, and finally embarked in the business of manufacturing it.

During the past few months a startling report has been issued by the government upon this subject. We refer to the report of the treasury commission upon safe and vault construction; this commission having been appointed by act of congress.

This report confirms the position taken by Mr. Corliss when the subject was first brought to his attention, for it practically condemns as worthless the standard and usual method of safe and vault construction. The report is profusely illustrated with photographic views of safes (made by all the prominent builders) that have been cut through, torn apart or opened with explosives. The Corliss safe was the only one that withstood all attacks made upon it, and its adoption by the treasury department was recommended.

In speaking of the Corliss safe, the commission says: "The whole is a well contrived, ingenious and novel system, as essentially a type by itself as is the Corliss steam engine in its class of invention."

The Bank of Oregon City people are more than pleased with their new purchase and take great delight in showing it to their customers. One of the officials, when asked about the safe, said in substance: "This safe solves the burglar-proof question. This, to my mind, is the only strictly burglar-proof safe manufactured and I defy any one to get into it by means of explosives. Why it would take—" The sentence was not finished nor was it necessary. The construction of the safe precluded all questioning.

We congratulate our neighbors upon the possession of such a safe for their securities. It is only another evidence of their enterprise and prudence. We prophesy that their example will be followed by many.

Highland News.

HIGHLAND, June 20.—The weather is beautiful. We ask for no better.

Mrs. Emily Burk of Oregon City, is visiting relatives here.

Miss Lena Seibold of Oregon City, was home visiting her parents last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Story and two children of Oregon City, are visiting relatives of this place. They expect to remain for a week.

Mr. D. A. Miller will close a very successful term of school in three weeks.

Geo. Kirk and Geo. Wallace, who took the contract for cutting 20 cords of wood for the school, have the contract completed.

The road supervisor of this district has been working a force of men on the roads for the past two weeks. Many improvements have been made under his wise directions.

Miss Minnie Harrington, who has been teaching a nine months school at the Cascade Locks, is now at home to spend her vacation.

Many of the people of this place are looking forward with great pleasure to the Chautauqua. It surely is a place where all should go to broaden their views and enlarge their intellectual faculties, as well as come in contact with the best educators of the state and county.

Help Home Industry.

The true foundation upon which to build up the prosperity of Oregon City is to patronize home industry and thus keep our money at home. In laundry work every dollar paid to Chinamen or to Portland laundries is practically lost to Oregon City especially when just as good work at the same price can be had at the Willamette Steam Laundry. This is a new home institution, employing only white help and is supplied with all the latest improved machinery, and using the purest spring water is able to guarantee first-class work. A trial of our work and prices is asked. Delivery wagon to all parts of the city. Down town office at Wilehart's barber shop.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Plain Enunciation of Sound Principles—No Straddle on Any Subject.

The full text of the platform by the national republican convention at St. Louis is as follows:

"The republicans of the United States assembled by their representatives in national convention, appealing for the popular and historic justification of their claims to the matchless achievements of 30 years of republican rule, earnestly and confidently address themselves to the awakened intelligence, experience and conscience of their countrymen, in the following declaration of facts and principles:

"For the first time since the Civil war, the American people have witnessed the calamitous consequences of full and unrestricted democratic control of the government. It has been a record of unparalleled incapacity, dishonor and disaster. "In administrative management, it has ruthlessly sacrificed indispensable revenue, entailed an unceasing deficit, eked out ordinary current expenses with borrowed money, piled up the public debt by $262,000,000 in time of peace, forced an adverse balance of trade, kept a perpetual menace hanging over the redemption fund, pawned American credit to alien syndicates, and reversed all the measures and results of successful republican rule.

"In the broad effect of its policy, it has precipitated panic, blighted industry and trade with prolonged depression, closed factories, reduced work and wages, halted enterprise and crippled American production while stimulating foreign production for the American market. Every consideration of public safety and individual interest demands that the government shall be rescued from the hands of those who have shown themselves incapable to conduct it without disaster at home and dishonor abroad, and shall be restored to the party which for 30 years administered it with unequalled success and prosperity, and in this connection we heartily endorse the wisdom, patriotism and success of the administration of President Harrison.

THE TARIFF.

"We renew and emphasize our allegiance to the policy of protection as the bulwark of American industrial independence and the foundation of American development and prosperity. This true American policy taxes foreign products, encourages home industry and puts the burden of revenue on foreign goods; it secures the American market for the American producer; it upholds the American standard of wages for the American workingman; it puts the factory by the side of the farm and makes the American farmer less dependent on foreign demand and price; it diffuses general thrift and founds the strength of all on the strength of each. In its reasonable application it is just, fair and impartial; equally opposed to foreign control and domestic monopoly; to sectional discrimination and individual favoritism.

"We denounce the present democratic tariff as sectional, injurious to the public credit and destructive to business enterprise. We demand such an equitable tariff on such foreign imports as come into competition with American products as will not only furnish adequate revenue for the necessary expenses of the government, but protect American labor from degradation to the wage level of other lands.

"We are not pledged to any particular schedules. The question of rates is a practical question, to be governed by the condition of the time and of production; the ruling and uncompromising principle is the protection and development of American labor and industry. The country demands a right settlement and then it wants rest.

RECIPROCITY.

"We believe the repeal of the reciprocity arrangements negotiated by the last republican administration was a national disgrace, and we demand their renewal and extension on such terms as will equalize our trade with other nations, remove the restriction which now obstruct the sale of American products in the ports of other countries, and secure enlarged markets for the products of our farms, forests and factories.

"Protection and reciprocity are the twin measures of the republican policy, and go hand in hand. Democratic rule has recklessly struck down both, and both must be re-established. Protection for what we produce; free admissions for the necessities of life which we do not produce; reciprocal agreements of mutual interests which gain open markets in return for our open markets to others. Protection builds up domestic industry and trade and secures our own markets for ourselves; reciprocity builds up foreign trade and finds an outlet for our surplus.

SUGAR.

"We condemn the present administration for not keeping faith with the sugar
