FRIDAY, JULY 3, 1906.

THE NEW WATER WORKS RESERVOIR.
 Smyth & Howard, who had the contract of doing the excavating on the new reservoir, now being erected by the water commission, have completed their part of the work, and have their teams at work grading the improvement on Molalla avenue. Mess. Wetzel & Aubrey, who have the contract of erecting the reservoir, have about 25 men at work and are pushing operations on the concrete lining on the reservoir. As near as can be ascertained all the men employed on the works are residents of Oregon City and vicinity, except one finisher, whom it was necessary to secure from Portland, as not enough skilled workman could be obtained here. Jean Kennedy, of this city, is one of the finishers. Five hundred barrels of cement and 600 yards of rock and gravel will be used in the work. The sand came from the Columbia, and the rock is crushed on the ground. Of course, the sand and cement was hauled from the boat landing by Portland teams, but Mr. Wetzel offered Mr. Greenman 10 cents a yard more for the sand, and two cents more per barrel for hauling the cement, than was paid to the Portland teams, but Mr. Greenman declined the offer. They are doing an excellent job on the cement work, with which Mr. Case, the superintendent, expresses himself as well pleased. The cement work will be completed by next Tuesday. This lays for ten days to harden, and will be covered with two coats of asphalt, and it is expected the reservoir will receive its finishing touches by July 20th. Each square of cement is covered when completed, with canvass to protect it from the rays of the sun. Around the top of the reservoir will be placed a six-inch cement curbing, that will encircle the basin 150 feet square, and 12 feet in depth. Mr. Howell, the water superintendent, has removed the stand pipe from the old watering trough to a point near the reservoir, and the gateway and discharge pipe are being placed in position. The reservoir occupies a beautiful site near Molalla avenue, and affords a splendid view of the surrounding country.

FROM THE OGLE CREEK MINES.
 Prof. J. W. Gray, F. F. White and F. A. Parker returned from the Ogle creek mines last Saturday. Mr. Parker has been in the mines for several weeks, and has located a placer claim with a well developed pay streak and a good water privilege. He has done considerable prospecting and development work with good results on his claim, and there is no doubt of the plentiful existence of gold in the mine. Messrs. Gray and White located some promising quartz claims on the divide between Henry and Ogle creeks, and have great faith in their find. E. E. Charman, Sidney Smyth, and Ernest Cooper, a mining expert from Butte, Montana, J. H. Pomeroy and J. H. Wilson, of Oswego, returned from a several days stay in the Ogle creek mines Wednesday. They are well pleased with the outlook, and believe that this section will become a great mining camp, when mills are erected and the mines developed.

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES AT THE M. E. CHURCH.
 Great preparations had been made for the program of Children's Day exercises at the M. E. church, and the affair proved a most interesting entertainment for the large number of listeners, who filled the auditorium. Following was the program: Invocation, Rev. S. W. Stryker; song, school; recitation, Mae Case; instrumental solo, Tommy Winesett; recitation, "Barrel of Whiskey," Edna Tabor; duet, Millie Kruse and Minnie Phillips; recitation, Ellen Shaw; recitation, Lena Miller; recitation, Ethel Hickman; duet, Ellen Shaw and Mae Case; recitation, Nettie Kruse; Miss Holenbeck; song, class of girls and boys; recitation, five boys; recitation, Etta Bruner. The decorations were tastefully arranged, and presented a pretty effect.

THE STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
 Capt. J. T. Apperson, president of the board of regents of the State Agricultural college at Corvallis, spent last week attending the commencement exercises of that institution, and presided at a meeting of the board of regents. He reports the college in an exceedingly flourishing condition. There were nearly 400 students in attendance during the past year, and the work in every department shows material improvement. In fact, the captain is well pleased with the way matters are progressing at that institution. President Bloss has resigned his position, which Captain Apperson very much regrets, realizing as he does, the possible danger of temporarily impairing the efficiency of the institution, by a change in the presidency.

Ex-Superintendent E. B. McElroy and Hon. H. B. Miller are mentioned among the possibilities for the position vacated by President Bloss. It may be a puzzle to some people to know where Mr. Miller obtained his experience to fit himself for a college president, but he evidently has some strong supporters for that position. General Killeather, who had the contract of building the basement of the Willamette block last fall, was the originator of the following: "After an Irishman comes to this country and reads the Oregonian for a few years, he becomes so well acquainted that he applies for a professorship in a college."

HIGH BRIDGE JUMPING.
 There were an unusual number of Portland visitors in Oregon City last Sunday, and small picnic parties were gathered in Broderick's park, in the shady groves along the banks of the Willamette and on the Clackamas. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon a crowd was attracted on the suspension bridge by the appearance of some Portland sports in bathing suits, who were making preparations to jump off the bridge. After dropping some pieces of wood in order to diagnose the effect of the wind, William Fisher prepared for the first jump. The first 50 feet was a gentle dross, but for the remainder of the distance he used his arms to balance himself. He struck squarely on his feet, and swam to the shore without aid or assistance. The next exploit was a back somersault from the bridge by Dana C. Thompson, the champion swimmer and diver. He turned a complete revolution in the air, and lit squarely on his feet, keeping his balance perfect all the way through, with his hands on his hips. Seth C. Maker jumped from a point two feet higher on the bridge, and shot down with great rapidity his body rolled up like a ball. He struck with a heavy splash that was heard for some distance. All three of the swimmers escaped without injury from the result of the leaps.

PROPOSALS FOR LAND SURVEYS.
 John C. Arnold, surveyor-general of Oregon, has sent out notices that sealed proposals will be received at his office in Portland up to and including July 14th, 1896, for running, measuring and marking, according to law and instructions, 6,627 linear miles in Western Oregon. Among the descriptive surveys is 72 miles on the headwaters of the Molalla in Clackamas county, township 7 south, range 4 East. The other surveys for which bids will be received are situated in the various counties of Western Oregon. There are about 140 tracts of government land in Western Oregon to be let to the lowest bidder, who are responsible surveyors. Only responsible, reliable and competent surveyors will be employed, who must execute their surveys in person, and will be required to give bond in double the estimated amount of contract work in each instance, and it is required that the surveys be completed and returns made to the surveyor-general's office on or before December 31st, 1896. Complete information can be obtained with numbers of land, etc., by applying or writing to the surveyor general at Portland, Oregon.

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES AT THE M. E. CHURCH.
 Great preparations had been made for the program of Children's Day exercises at the M. E. church, and the affair proved a most interesting entertainment for the large number of listeners, who filled the auditorium. Following was the program: Invocation, Rev. S. W. Stryker; song, school; recitation, Mae Case; instrumental solo, Tommy Winesett; recitation, "Barrel of Whiskey," Edna Tabor; duet, Millie Kruse and Minnie Phillips; recitation, Ellen Shaw; recitation, Lena Miller; recitation, Ethel Hickman; duet, Ellen Shaw and Mae Case; recitation, Nettie Kruse; Miss Holenbeck; song, class of girls and boys; recitation, five boys; recitation, Etta Bruner. The decorations were tastefully arranged, and presented a pretty effect.

EXTRA GOOD NEWS.
 Over the above heading the Dallas Itemizer has the following: The Dallas woolen mill is to run this time without any doubt. James Shaw, of Oregon City, a practical woolen mill man with abundant means, has bought the property and now has a force of men putting it in running order. He brought six men with him and has several Dallas workmen employed. The mill has a capacity of sixty hands or double that if run day and night. To begin with he will not have over half that, increasing the number as business improves. Sixty hands would make a payroll of about $1,500 per month. He has a wife and six children, who will come to make this their home. A gladder welcome was never extended and the benefits will flow all over town and for miles around.

RED AND GOLD.
 The Y. M. C. A. Membership Contest Closes—Both Teams Honored.
 On last Friday the Y. M. C. A. membership contest attracted almost as much attention as the late populist election, that deluged the republicans of Clackamas county. Groups of contestants watched the blackboard all day long as the paid up applications came in and the points each side made were registered on the blackboard. The results were watched with intense interest as the detachments of applications poured in, and the "reds" and "yellows" were alternately checked up ahead. The contest closed at 8 p. m., and while the committee were deliberating over the final result, a large audience gathered in the auditorium of the Baptist church, where the interesting exercises were held.

The program began with singing by the choir, followed with the invocation by Rev. M. L. Rugg. Miss Hannigan favored the audience with a well delivered recitation. President L. C. Caples presided at this meeting, and introduced General Secretary H. E. Stone, of the Portland Y. M. C. A., who made one of his inimitable addresses on "How to Make the Contest Pay." His pointed remarks and witticisms kept the audience in occasional outbursts of applause and laughter. Among other things, he said that the Y. M. C. A. did not fight the saloons, but tried to win men away from them, and to create a higher standard of clean manhood. G. W. Swope, by request of Captain Martin, delivered the address on behalf of the "reds." He was greeted with round after round of applause, and spoke of the success attending the efforts to increase the membership of the Association. He paid a tribute to the women who had set on foot the move of organizing the movement in Oregon City, to the business men, and to Secretary Johnson for his untiring efforts that had been crowned with success. He stated that no animosity had been engendered by the contest, and that they would join together in the good cause. He said he knew that the "reds" had won, because his captain had told him so.

The next speaker was Erastus A. Smith, who represented Captain Bellomy of the "yellows." The applause was so vociferous, that it was several seconds before he could be heard. He likened the gold colors to the gold standard, and had unlimited faith in the success of his favorite color. He eulogized the association and its work, and that the gold colors were stimulating them to better work.

C. H. Dye, chairman of the committee of judges of the contest, was introduced, and was greeted with applause loud and long, and mixed with expectancy. The audience expected to hear some results, but they were disappointed. After keeping them in suspense for a few minutes, both teams and the public were invited to the basement, where the two teams were seated at separate tables decorated with the team colors. When they were all seated at the tables, Mr. Dye announced the result. The "reds" had scored 149 points, and the "yellows" 147 points. The former were the ablest financiers, and secured the most money with applications, but the latter brought in the largest number of new members, 132. The "reds," who scored the largest number of points, only brought in 108 new members.

E. E. Martin was captain of the "reds," and his lieutenants were Chas. Drew, G. H. Bestow, G. W. Swope, G. T. Howard, H. J. Scott and John Humphreys. B. S. Bellomy, captain of the "yellows," had the following lieutenants: Robert Warner, Martin Boyles, Erastus Smith, William Beach, Joseph McComb, Dr. E. A. Sommer. Erastus Smith scored 45 points, the highest individual score made.

Two hundred and forty new members were added during the contest, making a total of 375, the largest in point of membership of any Young Men's Christian Association in the northwest.
