The Presidential Campaign.

The presidential campaign in Oregon, on the part of the republicans, will commence early in September, possibly in Portland on the night of the 12th of that month.

Several days ago Mr. Sol Hirsch, chairman of the state central committee, had a conference with J. F. Caples, E. L. Smith, S. M. Yoran and T. T. Geer, republican nominees for presidential electors, at which time it was concluded not to devise any plan of campaign for the present. During the hot spell another meeting will be held, when the state will be divided into districts, and early in the spring a vigorous campaign will be inaugurated. It was also definitely determined at the recent conference that particular attention should be given to the rural districts of the state; in fact, that a campaign be carried on similar to the school house campaigns, that have been productive of such good in other states. Had such a plan been adopted during the campaign recently closed, far better results would probably have followed, and more republicans would have been elected in place of populists, and Yamhill county would not have been so badly handicapped.

The republican candidates for electors all express themselves as hopeful of success in Oregon and on their part the greatest effort will be made to place the vote of the state where it has been for so many years—in the republican column.
