

GLADSTONE PARK.

Large Crowds of People at the Chautauqua Assembly.

The Chautauqua Assembly is proving a grand success, as the people are becoming thoroughly imbued with the great Chautauqua idea.

There has been the greatest aggregation of talent that has ever assembled at any gathering in the northwest. The assembly has been a grand symposium of oratory, great lectures and sermons.

On last Friday, President W. C. Hawley, of the Willamette university, delivered his splendid lecture on the "Monroe Doctrine and the Nicaragua Canal."

On Saturday, Prof. G. W. Shaw, of the state agricultural college, delivered a very instructive lecture on "Chemistry Related to Agriculture."

On Sunday the day was occupied with religious gatherings and congregational singing. In the morning a Sunday school was conducted by Prof. H. L. Bates.

In the afternoon Dr. Selah Brown, delivered the baccalaureate sermon, and the topic was "Old Times and New Times, or the World Growing Better."

During the entire week the platform in the large auditorium has resounded with oratory, wit and song, and never before has there been such a large attendance at the Chautauqua assembly.

The musical talent of the assembly is excellent, and the Ladies' Corvallis Band and the Chemawa Indian Band, have both interested hundreds of people.

The Corvallis Ladies' Band, who were so popular last year, has four new members, and show marked improvement. Mr. Victor Moses is the leader, and he has shown himself to be a competent one.

of the people attending the assembly, considering the fact that they were only organized last March. The Chemawa Band consists of 18 members with Fred Freeman as leader.

Today, (Thursday), was a big occasion at the park, and Friday will be the last great day, that will end a most successful assembly.

Why She Patted Up the Carpet. That there are people in the world who haven't yet learned that there are safer places for depositing large sums of money than old stockings and boxes in the wall was demonstrated recently while the roof of a Fall River house was burning.

The Live Sponge. When the sponge is in the sea alive, the inside of the pores is covered with a soft substance like the white of an egg.

A Home-like Hotel. Farmers and the traveling public will find a comfortable home-like place to stop at when in Oregon City at the Oriental Hotel.

Wood Sawing. Get the steam wood saw to cut your wood—the cheapest and quickest. Don't wait until the rains set in and your wood gets soaked until it won't burn.

Worthy of Notice. The S. B. Medicine company is the only one out of nine proprietary medicine firms incorporated on this coast since 1887 that has not made an assignment.

Undertaker and Embalmer. R. L. Holman undertaker and embalmer. Graduate of Embalming college. Full stock of caskets and coffins at prices to suit.

Bull Taken Up. Taken up at my place one mile east of New Era, one red bull with white star on face; has been dehorned and weighs about 1600 pounds.

Wall Paper. Best stock of wall paper in Oregon City latest designs and prices to suit the times at R. L. Holman's in Winehard block opposite courthouse.

Wood Wanted. Fir split wood, limb wood or hard wood wanted at this office.

"We had an epidemic of dysentery in this vicinity last summer," says Samuel S. Pollock, of Briceland, Cal. "I was taken with it and suffered severely until some one called my attention to Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. I procured a bottle and felt better after the first dose.

YAWN IN A MAIDEN SPEECH.

An Incident Which Typifies the Sleepiness of the English Commons. The occasion of making one's maiden speech is hardly the time one would expect a legislator to select for giving vent to a yawn.

Mr. Gladstone used to be a frequent offender in the same direction. The Grand Old Man was often lost to all consciousness of what was going on around him, and yet, marvelous to relate, after quietly nodding away through a portion of a debate, he would wake up, deliver himself of a big, long yawn, and then make a speech which, for lucidity and power of argument, would seem to imply that he had heard every word that had been spoken throughout the debate.

The habit of tilting the hat well over the eyes and sitting with bowed head and legs crossed over the other is one which appears to find much favor with a large number of members in each succeeding house of commons, but it will always be a moot point whether they really go to sleep or merely "make believe to," as children say.

Putting all others out of the question, however, the champion sleeper of the house is Sir Richard Temple, who goes to sleep at all times and under all sorts of conditions. At times he appears to be anxious to ward off the feeling of somnolency which is obviously obtaining the mastery over him, but the effort is all in vain and his head will insist on falling upon his breast.

Can He Do Those Things? Your 18-year-old boy may have a good deal of Latin and cube root, says an exchange, but unless he can do the things enumerated below he is not even ordinarily well equipped as a business man or as a man of the world.

Write a good, legible hand. Write a good, sensible letter. Speak and write good English. Draw an ordinary bank check. Take it to the proper place in the bank to get it cashed.

Spell all the words he knows how to use. Write an advertisement for the local paper. Make neat and correct entries in day-book and ledger.

It is delightful to note the tameness of the birds of Egypt. They enter rooms and houses through windows and crevices left for ventilation, and once inside hop fearlessly about the floor picking up stray crumbs.

Cathode Rays Not as Bright as a Candle. Now, one of the first questions I have been asked in regard to these rays is this, "How did you obtain a light so intense that you could take photographs through a board an inch thick?"

All Soups the Same to Him. Guest (to waiter)—I can't eat this soup. Waiter takes it away and brings another kind of soup.

Guest—(to waiter)—I can't eat this soup. Waiter angrily but silently for the third time brings another kind.

Guest (again)—I can't eat this soup. Waiter, furious, calls the hotel proprietor.

Proprietor (to guest)—Why can't you eat this soup, sir?

Guest (quietly)—Because I have no spoon.—Texas Siftings.
