Mr. C. G. Strong, principal of the public schools at Anderson, Cal., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have found it an excellent remedy for lameness and slight wounds."

It doesn't matter much whether sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and constipation are caused by neglect or unavoidable circumstances; De Witt's Little Early Risers will speedily cure them all. C. G. Huntley, Druggist.

DeWitt's Sarsaparilla is prepared for cleansing the blood from impurity and disease. It does this and more. It builds up and strengthens constitutions impaired by disease. It recommends itself. C. G. Huntley Druggist.

"It is the best patent medicine in the world" is what Mr. E. M. Hartman, of Marquam, Oregon, says of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. "What leads me to make this assertion is from the fact that dysentery in its worst form was prevalent around here last summer and it never took over two or three doses of that remedy to affect a complete cure." For sale by G. A. Harding Druggist.

Z. M. Young of Portland, and Miss Pearl E. Gleason of Hubbard were married last Sunday, August 16th at the Presbyterian parsonage by Rev. A. J. Montgomery. Mr. E. E. Gleason and Miss M. E. Gleason the brother and sister of the bride and Miss Zera Young sister of the groom witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Young is a printer in Portland and he and Mrs. Young will reside in that city hereafter.

While in Stockton, Cal., some time ago, Thos. F. Langan, of Los Banos, that state, was taken very severely with cramps and diarrhoea. He chanced to meet Mr. C. M. Carter, who was similarly afflicted. He says: "I told him of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and we went to the Holden Drug store and procured a bottle of it. It gave Mr. Carter prompt relief and I can vouch for its having cured me." For sale by G. A. Harding, druggist.

Fred Bower, a farmer near Marquam, was driving home on Monday evening having spent the day in Silverton. When on a hillside his wagon upset throwing him out on the road. His team became frightened and ran away demolishing the wagon. One of the horses was so badly injured in the smashup as to be unfit for anything and will have to be shot. Mr. Bowers was fortunate in escaping any serious physical consequences, but the loss of a horse and the wagon fall heavy upon him.

Ed. Herren, the popular Salem hop buyer, called Monday. He was in the city on business. Mr. H. has been over the hop growing section of a portion of the valley and says that hop yards, where they have been carefully worked are in fine condition and promise a good yield; he also adds that growers will be more careful about having their hops thoroughly dried before leaving the kilns; that the effect of bad drying makes a difference of two cents per pound, when it takes but little more labor to dry them properly.—Woodburn Independent.

Henry J. Scott, who for something over a year past, was the popular manager of Huntley's postoffice book store, has gone into business for himself. He and his brother, Lura J. Scott, a machine tender in the Crown Paper Mills, have purchased A. R. Doolittle's grocery store in West Oregon City, and will continue the business at the old stand. Henry will have immediate charge of the store, while his brother will retain his position in the Paper Mills. Mr. Scott has a host of friends who wish him every success in his new location.

The body of Mrs. Lenz, who on Tuesday of last week went out for her daily walk, from the Oregon City hospital and failed to return was found by a fisherman in the water near the bank of the Clackamas river above the electric line bridge on Saturday morning. Coroner Godfrey empaneled a jury and held an inquest, and the verdict rendered was that the woman had drowned herself with suicidal intent. The remains of the unfortunate woman whose intense sufferings are ended, were taken in charge by relatives and interred at Wilsonville.

One night when Mr. Isaac Reese was stopping with me, says M. F. Hatch, a prominent merchant of Quartermaster, Washington, I heard him groaning. On going to his room I found him suffering from cramp colic. He was in such agony I feared he would die. I hastily gave him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He was soon relieved and the first words he uttered were, "what was that stuff you gave me?" I informed him. A few days ago we were talking about his attack and he said he was never without that remedy now. I have used it in my family for several years. I know its worth and do not hesitate to recommend it to my friends and customers. For sale by G. A. Harding, Druggist.

It was announced in last week's Enterprise that Judge McBride would hold an adjourned term of court in this city last Saturday. He is delayed however, with unfinished business from the late term of the Clatsop county court, which occupies most of his time during the day, and spends the nights with his family at Seaside. He will hold an adjourned term of court in Oregon City at a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. George Blackford of Chicago, Ill., and Miss Lillian Fuller of Portland, visited relatives and friends in this city several days this week. Mr. and Mrs. Blackford will have spent two months on their Western trip by the time of their arrival home, and seem pleased with both Oregon and California. They return via Yellowstone Park, where they will spend some time.

George A. Harding came in from Camp Alderlea Friday evening where he and Fred Charman are camping with their families. This is their annual summer resort, and they immensely enjoy the yearly reunion on Clear Creek. One of the most noted festal days at this camp is Mr. Harding's birthday, which occurs each year on the same day of the month in August, and on last Thursday this occasion was observed as usual, and about 35 people were present for dinner. Messrs. Harding and Charman are spending more time than usual at the camp, and are taking a well earned rest from business.
