The difference between pills and Simmons Liver Regulator, is just this: Pills don't go down very easy with most people, and you feel them afterwards. While Simmons Liver Regulator in liquid or powder is very pleasant to take, and the only feeling that you have afterwards is the great relief that it gives from constipation, biliousness, sick headache and dyspepsia. It is a mild laxative and a tonic. Miss Biles' Concert. The concert given at Shively's opera house on last Friday evening by Miss Elizabeth Biles assisted by some of Portland's best talent, was pronounced by all who attended to be a rare musical treat. Miss Biles possesses a rich soprano voice, showing careful training and years of study. In "For all Eternity" she won high praise, as her clear tones which filled the house were full of sweetness and pathos. The quartet, composed of Messrs. Little, Hogue, Randall and Idleman, were fine in each of their numbers and will always have a hearty welcome to Oregon City in the future. Mr. Ralph Lee, who is considered one of "Portland's best" sang "Down in the Depths of the Sea" in good style and responded to a hearty encore. Miss Mabel Akin gave two piano solos rendered in an artistic manner. Miss Akin was not a stranger to Oregon City as she has taken part in previous concerts and was greeted with applause. It is not often that our people have the opportunity of listening to such sweet strains as Mr. Emil Thielhorn discoursed from his violin, and in future he will need no introduction in our midst. Every number on the program was excellent and all who availed themselves of the opportunity of listening to it feel that it could not have been better, and will be remembered as one of Oregon City's best concerts.

For a Musical Education. Mrs. Cass U. Barlow has been prevailed upon to give Oregon City musical people a chance to receive instructions under her if they so desire. Mrs. Barlow will be at the Willamette hall Saturday Oct. 3rd from 10 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 4:30 p. m. where she will be pleased to meet all who are interested in the art of voice culture, and if enough interest be manifested she will rent the hall permanently, also procure the services of a fine accompanist and organize classes in voice training, sight-singing, solo and chorus work, and will prepare her pupils for an opera to be given this winter. Mrs. Barlow needs no introduction to our people in a musical way, as we all know full well that she is an accomplished vocalist and an experienced teacher and directress. So let us give her a warm reception in our midst, that the talent in Oregon City may be elevated by her presence. Notice to Episcopals. There will be services at the church next Sunday morning and evening at the usual time, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., conducted by Rev. S. A. Bailee, port chaplain of the British fleet of Hong Kong. Special music will be prepared and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend these services. Buy a Home. All persons are hereby warned not to trust my wife, Anna West on my account, as she has left my bed and board without just cause. C. M. WESS, Sep. 21st, 1896. Cupid's Work. County Clerk Dixon issued license to wed to Belle Worthington and C. S. Ross; Maggie Lowery and Peter Nortz; Mrs. Nellie F. Smith and C. A. Herman. Sixteen to One. That you can't get a better shave in the city or a neater hair cut than you can at Rogers'. 15 cents a shave, Sundays and the holidays included.

REPUBLICANS ENTHUSE.

Senator Mitchell Addresses Two of the Largest Rallies in This Campaign.

The republican gatherings in Oregon City Tuesday and Wrights Springs Wednesday afternoon were two of the greatest rallies ever held in Clackamas county, both in point of numbers present and in the enthusiasm displayed. It was a genuine expressing of the people in the cause of the principles of the republican party and showed to what extent the voters of this county favored protection, reciprocity, sound money and the upholding of the honor of the nation and its laws. At an early hour Tuesday evening Main street began to fill with a great crowd to take part in, or to witness the great parade that was to take place prior to the address of Senator John H. Mitchell. The procession was formed from the headquarters of the McKinley and Hobart league and was headed by the Oregon City band and the Union Veterans' McKinley League escorting the carriage containing Senator Mitchell, followed by the McKinley and Hobart league, the first voters and citizens. There were over 200 torches carried in the procession and as it passed up Main street and counter marched to Seventh and to Shively's opera house it presented a splendid appearance. Many transparencies were carried bearing inscriptions not altogether flattering to Bryan and his gang. A good imitation of the "G. O. P." elephant brought up the rear of the procession. On Senator Mitchell and his escort reaching the opera house it was found packed to overflowing and an immense crowd was on the street unable to gain admission. After the Senator had presided in the procession returned downtown where an overflow meeting was held in the League headquarters that was presided over by Capt. Apperson and which was addressed by Hon. J. W. Ivey of Portland. So great was the crowd that not one third of it was able to gain admittance to the League hall. Mr. Ivey's speech was a splendid effort and was heartily cheered by people present. At the opera house the meeting was called to order by President Dresser of the League after which a song rendered by a chorus under the leadership of Mrs. Strickler, it being received with hearty applause. Then followed an ode to McKinley by Ivan Strickler that was much to the point and so well rendered as to bring the house down in a strong applause. President Dresser in a brief speech alluded to the duties of American citizenship and the profound interest that the voters of the county were now taking in the questions now before them. He then introduced Senator Mitchell who on arising was greeted with the most hearty applause. The Senator in his opening remarks stated that he had been doing campaign work for each election since the time of Lincoln, but in no campaign since the war had he witnessed such enthusiasm and indorsement of the principles of the republican party as was shown at each place that he had spoken in his tour of the state. He took up the tariff question first and gave the history of protection from the Revolutionary times down to the present, showing how each period of protection had been one of prosperity while the periods of free trade had been characterized by depression and disaster. On the money question he stated that the republican party was the only true friend of silver and that by the laws enacted by republican congresses $600,000,000 in silver was now in circulation on a par with gold. He favored free coinage of silver as expressed in the republican national platform, but that it only could come through an international agreement and which would be brought about by a republican administration. For the republican party he claimed the honor of being the only party that had been able to bring a circulation of gold, silver and paper money at a parity so that a dollar of either was equal to that of the other and worth one hundred cents in any part of the country and he completely upset and demoralized the fallacies of the populists and free silver men by showing how impossible and inconsistent were their ideas. The points in his speech were frequently applauded and at its close three cheers were given with a will for McKinley followed by followed by three cheers for the senator. Tuesday afternoon a great rally was held in the grove at Wright's Springs. The meeting was enlivened by the music of the Oregon City band and the Multop quartet of Portland, who made many hits with their songs. There was an immense gathering of farmers from all sections of that part of the county and many persons were present from Oregon City and the other towns of the county. The address of Senator Mitchell was a splendid effort and it was apparent that it had a telling effect on the voters present and will cause many a ballot to change from Bryan to McKinley. Death of an Estimable Woman. On Thursday of last week, the death took place at the family home in Canemah of Mrs. Ellen J. Hedges, widow of the late Joseph Hedges, whose death took place last August. The funeral services were held Sunday at the residence, being conducted by Rev. M. L. Rugg, in the absence of an Episcopal minister, the singing being by the choir from the Episcopal church in this city. The interment took place in the Canemah cemetery, her remains being laid to rest beside those of her husband. Mrs. Hedges was a pioneer of 1850, having crossed the plains with the family of her father, Dr. Allen, in that year. She was 57 years old, having been born in 1839, and was married to her late husband at Barlow's Prairie, in 1863. Her entire life subsequent to her marriage was spent in the home in the little village in which she died. She was carried out over the threshold which she had crossed as a bride 43 years before, amid the tears of sorrowing relatives and friends. She was the mother of 11 children, of whom two daughters and five sons survive. All were beside her in her last hours, except one son, who is a student in Yale college. Mrs. Hedges was a woman whose friends were numbered by her acquaintances and whose life made the world better for her being in it. She was a devoted wife and a mother whose love and sympathy was ever manifested for her children. A very large number of friends, including many of the old pioneers of the state, attended her funeral and paid their last respects to a pioneer, whom all had learned to love and respect.

PERSONAL NOTES. Mrs. Alden B. Graham and children of Portland spent Sunday with friends in this place. The Right Rev. Bishop Morris of Portland conducted service at St. Paul's Episcopal church last Sunday evening. Miss Nellie Younger returned Monday from a three-days visit at the home of Mr. A. Koehler and other friends at Mark's Prairie, where she taught a term of school last winter. Miss M. E. Lübker, superintendent of the Oregon City hospital accompanied by Miss Aurora Dickey, returned Tuesday from a three weeks outing at the farm of J. R. Morton, near Damascus. Oscar Mahler a well known German farmer of Molalla, was in Oregon City Thursday. Mr. Mahler is one of the strong republicans of that precinct and is doing all he can for McKinley and the old party. Dr. J. W. Norris, who has been lying dangerously ill with pneumonia at his home in this city, is slowly recovering and while he will not be able to be around for some time yet, his recovery is only a question of time. Mrs. Geo. C. Brownell was in Portland, Tuesday and Wednesday attending the annual meeting of the Oregon Congregational Association. Mrs. Brownell was made vice-president of the East Side division of the Woman's Home Missionary Union. Dr. J. W. Cowan has been in Portland during the week attending the Oregon Congregational Association which convened Tuesday at the Haselo street church. The Doctor was honored with the chairmanship of one of the most important committees of the association. Miss Maggie Williams will leave Saturday for Eagle Creek where she will on the following Monday commence the winter term of school in that place. Miss Williams is one of the most successful teachers in the county, and this being her third term at Eagle Creek is a compliment to her skill and good judgment of the school board for that district. Jas. Dubois, republican central committeeman for Springwater precinct was a caller at the Enterprise office Wednesday. Mr. Dubois states that the republican sentiment is making perceptible gains in his precinct and that the vote for McKinley is sure to be much larger than was the republican vote last June. Jas. Dickey returned to his home at Molalla last Saturday from the Boundary Creek mining district, where he had spent the summer prospecting. Mr. Dickey located a claim that has every indication of being very rich and he intends to fully develop it next summer and find out whether he is to be a millionaire or a common miner. He returned by way of Spokane and Seattle, stopping a few days in each place. Spokane, he states is full of life and business but Seattle is very dull and no business going on.

Attention Woodmen. To the members of Camp No. 148 W. of W. At a special meeting Wednesday evening it was decided to go to the exposition in a body on Wednesday evening, the 7th. Special arrangements have been made whereby tickets can be purchased at the ticket office for 25c for the round trip. Badges will be found at E. G. Farnsworth's barber shop. It is desired that all who can to leave for Portland go on the 5:35 car.

New York Gallery. R. K. Claverling, the well known artist, has moved the New York gallery to the building on the corner of Water and Fifth streets, where the reputation of this popular establishment will be sustained. Low rent enables Mr. Claverling to do the very best work at the lowest possible prices. Cabinet pictures at $1 per dozen.

Dr. Vanderpool's. Physic, the S. B. Headache Liver and Kidney regulator, takes the lead with us. For sale by C. G. Huntley, druggist.

Pistols and Pestles. The duelling pistol now occupies its proper place, in the museum of the collector of relics of barbarism. The pistol ought to have beside it the pestle that turned out pills like bullets, to be shot like bullets at the target of the liver. But the pestle is still in evidence, and will be, probably, until everybody has tested the virtue of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. * This testimonial will be found in full in Ayer's "Curebook" with a hundred others. Free. Address J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Design suggested for the "free silver" dollar. The American eagle will not stay on a debased coin. The man in the moon likes it because it gets its shape from him, and the trombone suits its sliding value. No charge for design. Free coinage, free design. So the silver trusts are bound to get rich. A Free Silver Fraud.

The free coinage press has for several months past been publishing an article said to have been taken from the London Financial News of March 10, in which the prediction was made that if the United States adopted free silver Great Britain would lose all her trade with South America, India, China and Japan. The pretended quotation also declared that this trade which Great Britain would lose would all go to the United States. In its issue of Aug. 13 The Financial News pronounces the alleged extract to be a forgery and declares positively that nothing of the kind was ever printed in its columns. An examination of a file of the paper shows that its statement is true. Will the silverite newspapers which have been publishing this fake argument for free coinage please explain to their readers that they were misled by some unscrupulous forger?

What 16 to 1 Has Never Done. It has never kept gold and silver at a parity. It has never once given us, under free coinage, practical bimetalism—that is, the concurrent circulation of gold and silver. The ratio of 16 to 1 was adopted in 1834. It represented the then commercial ratio, the market values of the two metals. In the 40 years following the adoption of this ratio and up to 1874 there were coined less than 7,000,000 silver dollars, or not so many by 500,000 as were coined from Jan. 1 to July 1 in this year. And never during the whole period did gold and silver circulate freely together as equal money. What reason has Mr. Bryan for his "firm conviction" that they will do so now under free coinage, when the difference in the commercial ratio is far greater than at any time during the period from 1834 to 1873?

Webster's International Dictionary

The One Great Standard Authority. No writer, Hon. J. J. Brewer, Justice U. S. Supreme Court. Send a Postal for Specimen Pages, etc. Successor of the "Unabridged."

Standard of the U. S. Gov't Printing Office, the U. S. Supreme Court, all the State Supreme Courts, and of nearly all the Schoolbooks. Warmly Commended by State Superintendents of Schools, and other Educators almost without number.

THE BEST FOR EVERYBODY BECAUSE It is easy to find the word wanted. It is easy to ascertain the pronunciation. It is easy to trace the growth of a word. It is easy to learn what a word means. The Chicago Times-Herald says: "Webster's International Dictionary is the present best authority on every word in our language in the way of orthography, etymology, and definition. From it there is no appeal. It is perfect as known and should be in every man's library."—Dec. 11, 1895. G. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass., U.S.A.
