CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Regular Monthly Meeting Held Wednesday Night.

All the members of the city council were present Wednesday evening, except Meltrum and Cooke, Mayor Straight presiding.

Some objections were made to granting J. N. Miller a renewal of his liquor license, but the council finally voted to grant the application. Wampa Zimmerman was granted a renewal of liquor license, and the chief of police was directed to notify Mr. Zimmerman to keep his empty beer kegs off the sidewalk.

Messrs. Brady & McDonough were given permission to transfer their liquor license to the new location on the corner of Main and Fifth streets.

The usual grist of bills were allowed, after which the city recorder read his monthly report, which showed that $1312 had been received from various sources during the month, and $1100 had been issued in warrants.

The treasurer's quarterly report showed $7,965.33 in the general fund, and paid out $5,525.27, and $566.46 interest on warrants. There remains a balance of $2380.06 in the treasury; the balance as per last report was $1735.11; city taxes had been received to the amount of $1300, and $1215.75 in warrants had been redeemed; $3,874.10 in warrants had been presented and not paid for want of funds; $105.57 had been received into the cemetery fund, and $1097.76 into the Main street fund. The report was referred to the finance committee.

With permission of the council Dr. Carl called the attention of that body to the urgent need of a sidewalk along Jefferson street from Seventh to 12th, so that children attending the primary grades at the Barclay school, could reach that place without passing around by way of Main street. C. O. T. Williams also favored the new sidewalk, as his daughter had to go that way to reach the Eastham school. On motion of Councilman Porter, the street commissioner was directed to notify property owners along the West Side of Jefferson street between Seventh and 12th, to build a sidewalk six feet in width.

On motion of Councilman Koerner a new sidewalk was ordered for VanBuren street, between Fourth and Seventh.

On motion of Porter the matter of letting the bids for the improvement of Seventh, was delegated to the street committee, with authority to let the same to the lowest bidder.

The ordinance levying the assessment for the improvement of Seventh street was read the first time and ordered published.

Mayor Straight stated that he had seen the widow of the late General A. L. Lovejoy, and that she possessed a valuable oil painting of Dr. John McLoughlin, the founder of Oregon City, which she wished to dispose of at a sacrifice. The mayor thought the city should purchase this painting, and have the same displayed on the walls of the council chamber. After entertainingly reciting the deeds and kindnesses of Dr. McLoughlin, the mayor let the matter in the hands of the council. On motion of Moffatt, a committee, consisting of the mayor, and Councilmen Bitner and Koerner be authorized to act in the premises.

A motion by Moffatt unanimously carried that the saloon license of S. J. Baechler, be revoked.

The ordinance relating to the feeding of horses on the streets was ordered enforced, also in the matter of connecting water closets with sewers.

TRANSLATION.

(Seneca, "Edipus," 990-91.)
Fate drives in on. Yield we to fate,
So marking cares will mend our state.
Or change the web that fortune weaves,
Four mortal men, who sins and grieves,
His course foredoomed from heaven receives.
There is the thread relentless spun
Of every life beneath the sun.
Their ordered path all things pursue,
And from the old was torn the new.
No god that knits the casual chain
That knits events might break in twain.
No prayer ava. la.—his race each one
Foredoomed must run.

—Academy.

WORKING IT BACKWARD.

Remarkable Things Shown by the Kinetoscope When Reversed.

"Impossibilities Made Possible by Means of the Modern Inventions in the Electrical Field" furnished the theme of a lecture given recently by Professor G. Queroult in the Paris Academy of Sciences. During some of his experiments he hit upon the idea to turn around photographic records and also the series of pictures seen through the kinetoscope, respectively the kinematograph. Having photographed a plant at regular intervals and shown in the kinetoscope the growth, the development of the stem, leaves, buds, flowers and fruit, the same consequence of photographic pictures reversed was presented to the eye of the astonished academicians, who wondered at the fruit turning into flowers, flowers into buds, buds drawing back into themselves and disappearing, the leaves closing, getting smaller and disappearing, the stem getting shorter and shorter, until the earth closes over it.

The most incredible things are developed before the eyes of the spectator if a most ordinary series of such pictures is reversed. A drinker takes up an empty glass and replaces it full upon the table; a smoker sees the stump of a cigar flying at him from the floor, takes it to his mouth and sees the smoke originate in the room, draws it into his mouth and into his cigar, which is gradually lengthened and finally replaced in the pocket. A wrestler, who has probably thrown away his garments, is recovered with them by their, so to speak, walking up on him into their places, while he himself performs motions of which he never saw these most ordinary motions performed backward; a man, for instance, seated at a table before an empty plate, works hard taking bite after bite from his mouth, until the chicken is whole again on the dish before him, and the side dishes are also returned full to their respective places. In order to fully enjoy an exhibition of the kinetoscope, such an exhibition should be completed by arranging alongside of each other the same scenes in regular order in one machine and reversed in another. It would be advisable, however, to inform the spectators previous to their looking at such a reversed series of pictures, for otherwise they might think themselves the victim of a dream, a hallucination, or something worse.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Hope When You Are Hard Up.

The hopeful phase is when we seek work for the first time. Possibly we are entire strangers to the great city and its ways. We have entered its gates without introduction, with little experience of life, less money, and yet with the grand idea of stepping into some lucrative appointment that may be had almost for the asking. If of an adventurous and enterprising spirit, we are prepared to enjoy this new experience. The untired city has a fascination for us. Its streets, its buildings, the faces of its inhabitants—all touch our fancy. We set off full of hope. We are so sure that fate has something bright in store.

We go from agent to agent, from editor to editor, from publisher to publisher, from one place of business to another. Agents are naturally pleased to pocket their fees as they smilingly assure us they will do their best to find us work. Editors receive us with a tired air and point to a pile of unread manuscripts. Poor editors! Publishers do us the honor of assuming that we have a book for inspection. Business employers scan us with a commercial eye. "No business capacity" is their inward comment. We read it in their faces.—Good Words.

The Two "Dark Days."

There are two "dark days" mentioned in the annals of New England. The first occurred on Oct. 21, 1716, when it suddenly became so dark soon after noon that the people were forced to use artificial lights to do their ordinary work. This strange condition of the atmosphere lasted about 2 1/2 hours. Again, on May 19, 1780, there was a remarkable darkening of the atmosphere, but the phenomenon did not come on so suddenly as that upon the earlier date. The darkness in this latter instance began between 10 and 11 o'clock on the morning of the day named and lasted throughout the day. The darkness extended from the northeastern part of New England westward as far as Albany and southward to Pennsylvania. The most intense and prolonged darkness, however, was confined to Massachusetts, more especially to the seaboard. It is said to have come from the southwest, but there is no mention of it made in the history of Ohio or the Virginias. The exact cause still remains one of the unexplained mysteries.—St. Louis Republic.

Papa Haydn's London Debut.

On Haydn's arrival he first took up his abode at Bland's, the music publisher, at 45 Holborn, but soon afterwards removed to rooms prepared for him at 18 Great Pulteney street, the residence of Salomon. Near here, at Messrs. Broadwood's, is shown a room in which Haydn used to retire to compose. At Salomon's he would appear to have appreciated the arrangements made for his comfort, especially with regard to the cuisine, which was under the direction of a foreign chef. We find him, however, complaining of the late hour at which Londoners dined, though to us 6 o'clock might seem unconformably early. In March, 1791, he conducted the first of Salomon's concerts at the rooms in Hanover square, and in this and the following year he brought out the first six of his grand symphonies. For many years Salomon was among the foremost musicians in the metropolis. During Maria's first season in London he conducted and played solos at all her concerts. The Morning Chronicle called him a genius and asked whose violin playing approached nearer the human voice. When an old man, he was still full of enterprise, and took great interest in the foundation of the Philharmonic society.

Great enthusiasm prevailed on the occasion of the first of the Salomon-Haydn series of concerts. Mrs. Storace sang, while Salomon led the orchestra as first violin, and Haydn presided at the pianoforte.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Their Minutes.

"I wonder," said a member of a woman's association, "why the report of the secretary is referred to as 'minutes'?"
"I don't know," replied another. "It always seems a great deal more like hours."—Washington Star.

Fun has no limits. It is like the human race and face. There is a family likeness among all the species, but they all differ.—Halliburton.

The long line of English precedence is closed by bourgeois, who rank next below citizens, who follow officers of the army and navy.

You will, I believe, in general ingratiate yourself with others still less by paying them too much court than too little.—Lord Greville.

Fits Cured

From U.S. Journal of Medicine
Prof. W. H. Pecke, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any living Physician; his success is astonishing. We have heard of cases of 20 years' standing cured by him. He publishes a valuable work on this disease, which he sends with a large bottle of his absolute cure, free to any sufferers who may send their P. O. and Express address. We advise any one wishing a cure to address Prof. W. H. PECKE, P. O. 4 Cedar St., New York

New York Tribune.
Leader of the Republican Party.
1896.

Are You Willing to Listen to a Suggestion?

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE'S broad columns and large print make it the easiest paper in the country to read, either on the cars or at home.

Henry Romeike, proprietor of the largest Newspaper Clipping Agency in the world, testifies in a published card, that his clippings for over 4,000 clients shows that THE TRIBUNE contains, "day by day and week by week, for more original matter than any daily newspaper in New York City." He proves the fact by figures. THE WEEKLY ranks the same.

Business men find the market report of THE TRIBUNE absolutely without an equal. THE TRIBUNE is the only newspaper in New York City whose reporters actually visit all the different markets in person.

THE TRIBUNE now prints the best and freshest humorous pictures of the day from the comic press of two continents, and supplies plenty of other entertainment.

By its special telegrams and correspondence, its able editorials and high literary character, THE TRIBUNE maintains a splendid position in the regard of Republicans and lovers of music, art, and good books.

THE TRIBUNE'S society news is known everywhere for excellence. Its fashions have always been of special value, and changes of style are, as a rule, foretold in THE TRIBUNE sooner than in other newspapers.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE is recognized, officially, as the leading newspaper of the Republican party.

As for Farming and Labor, THE TRIBUNE has for 50 years demanded, and yet demands that very possible dollar's worth of food and commodities, consumed by the American people, shall be produced by the American people. For this cause THE TRIBUNE labors in its various additions 365 days in every year.

A man is judged by the newspaper he takes. He who reads THE TRIBUNE is wide awake, progressive, respectable and capable, worthy of the confidence of business and social friends. If you are a young man you will live in a rut all your life (except by catering to that which is base) if you feed your mind upon newspapers, full of scandal, vulgarity and inanity. Think for a moment of the people who read newspaper of that class. On the other hand, THE TRIBUNE has probably the largest clientele of the very people who can help to improve a young man's position, of any newspaper in the United States. Associate yourself with them.

Mr. Horr continues to write for THE TRIBUNE.

Sample copies free. DAILY, $10 a year. SUNDAY separately, $2. SEMI-WEEKLY, $2. WEEKLY, $1. TRIBUNE ALMANAC for 1896, 50 cents.

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS
Edited by ALBERT SHAW.

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS, as its name implies, gives in readable form the best that appears in the other great magazines all over the world, generally on the same date that they are published. With the recent extraordinary increase of worthy periodicals, these careful reviews, summaries, and quotations, giving the gist of periodical literature, are alone worth the subscription price.

Aside from these departments, the editorial and contributed features of the REVIEW OF REVIEWS are themselves equal in extent to a magazine. The Editor's "Progress of the World" is an invaluable chronicle of the happenings of the thirty days just past, with pictures on every page of the men and women who have made the history of the month.

The Literary World says: "We are deeply impressed from month to month with the value of the 'REVIEW OF REVIEWS,' which is a sort of Eiffel Tower for the survey of the whole field of periodical literature. And yet it has a mind and voice of its own, and speaks out with decision and sense on all public topics of the hour. It is a singular combination of the monthly magazine and the daily newspaper. It is daily in its freshness; it is monthly in its method. It is the world under a field glass."
