Under the snow lies a secret, my dear,

Under the snow, And it whispers the coming of roses fine And the golden bell of the Jessamine vine This secret under the snow.

Under the snow sleeps a song, my love, Under the snow, And, its notes unawake to buttercups fair Or the violets' call in soft summer air, This song sleeps under the snow.

Under the snow lisps a prayer, my sweet, Under the snow, And it melts in a hope on the crocus leaf And promises life in the hyacinth wreath, This prayer down under the snow.

A DETECTIVE'S PAPER.

of the Curious Items and Advertisements That It Contains,

The American Hawkshaw will go down into literature outside of the dime novel and the detective story, for he has a newspaper of his own, says an exchange. This unique addition to the list of class papers is published monthly and it is devoted to the interests of detectives and policemen.

Its news columns are given over to a bulletin of more than $15,000 in cash rewards, with a veritable rogues' gallery of pictures and descriptions of "urcoks wanted," while the latest swindling schemes and methods of detection are fully explained for its crime investigating readers. It is interesting to read that "if you want to succeed as a detective you should understand hyp-

"Do you need bracelets in your business?" queries a dealer in patent nip-pers, handouffs and dark lanterns. 'Mustache, whiskers-just the things to change your appearance when shadsuggests another advertiser, while "skeleton keys to open 5,000 desks, drawers, trunks and padlocks, set of six." are offered to the profession at $1. It is rather grewsome to learn that '$100 spot cash buys a pair of thoroughbred English bloodhounds, only 10 months old, and already keep a cold trail better than most old dogs; best investment a sheriff or special officer can make." Also, "for 25 cents you can learn how to detect counterfeit money.

The most novel article is a brief treatise on "psychology" as applied to crime detection. The departments of "Police Pickings" and "Secret Service Snap two fine mountain streams running Shots" contain suggestive items all the way from the fact that the city council at Colfax, Wash. , has decided "to reduce its police force to one man' to the statement that "New York has 94 policemen to the square mile."

In an article on the future of the detective service the detective writer de-

he was an obscure and respected sur

The handwriting is plain and flowing, with a decided tendency to flourish. Two words are misspelled-barometrical and damage, which are written "bermetrical" and "dammage." But queerest of all is the length of the epistle. Jay Gould was noted for the brevity of his business letters. Three lines often sufficed him, when his wealth was nearly $100,000,000, to transact business involving millions. But as a poor surveyor he needed plenty of verbilevel.-New York Letter.

A Story of Hirsch.

One of the late Baron Hirsch's idiosyncrasies, says the London Daily Courier, was somewhat of an embarrassment to the ladies with whom he was acquainted, though some people might not have objected to it.

The baron had a fondness for playing cards with the ladies he met at country Rutledge, Or." For sale by C. G. houses and losing money to them. Not Huntley, druggist. a few sixpences either, but £10, £20,

At first sight there may not seem anything very embarrassing in this. But the fact is that the baron would take pains to lose, and it was a common thing for onlookers to say that such and such a lady with whom he was playing begique, or whatever the game might be, would be richer that evening by £50

perhaps. or play badly, just so as to leave his opponent the victor, and then what he really enjoyed was pulling out a few bank notes and passing them over. Not a very vicious taste in a multimillionaire. Still, it is not every lady in society who can take what is practically a present of money without feeling uncomfortable. The worst of it was that the baron was such a bad hand at deception. Everybody knew his little game.

A Curiosity of Central Africa.

Professor Garner, during his travels in central Africa, has discovered many queer things, not in the least remarkable of which is a curious little animal belonging to the simian family.

This queer little beast, measuring about a foot in length, precisely resumbles a bear in miniature. It seems to confine itself almost entirely to a narrow tract of country running along by the equator. The natives, who have given it the name of "ikanda," relate many remarkable stories about it. Its hands and feet are its greatest peculiarities. The former precisely resemble those of a human being, with the exception that they lack an index finger. The stump of this ferefinger looks exactly as though it had been amputated. The feet are also not unlike our own if it were not for two remarkable peculiarities. In the first place the great toe protrudes at right angles to its fellows, while number two differs in that it possesses a claw.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a health, vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it.
