The truth of the statement that "Yamhill beats the world" has again been verified. This time it is in the tomato line. Sarah Hopfield, of McMinnville, comes to the front with one that weighs 3 pounds and 14 ounces. McMinnville never was much of a place for tomatoes.

J. B. Noe, of Needy has been in town during the week attending court as a juror. Mr. Noe has one of the best nurseries in the county and is not discouraged as to the future of the fruit business in Clackamas county for in addition to his nursery he has a large orchard of the leading varieties of fruit and is planning to add to his orchard a large number of trees this coming season.

Charles Albright, jr., the reliable and old stand-by meat dealer, still leads in the butchering business in Oregon City. His old customers stay with him, and if perchance, they should wander away to some other market, they always come back to Albright. Albright's meats are tender and juicy, and can be obtained either at the market on Main and Fifth streets, or at the shop on the corner of Center and Seventh streets, next door to Dan William's.

One of the best agricultural papers published on this coast is the Rural Northwest of Portland. Its editorials and articles are all written by persons who have a practical knowledge of the subject they are handling and who are Oregon and Washington men and women who have gained their information from the farms of these states, so that the advice given is always applicable to farm work as carried on in this state. The paper is but 50 cents a year and no farmer should be without it, for in this day of education the well posted farmer is the one that will make a success of his business.

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Camptonville, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with severe cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call in a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy she concluded to try it. She found that it always gave prompt relief. It was seldom necessary to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us lots of worry and time," she says, but also doctor bills. It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For sale by Geo. A. Harding, druggist.

George Ely returned Sunday from a four weeks trip to San Bernardino county, California, where he went to examine the country with a view of removing from Oregon to that section. He comes back perfectly satisfied with Oregon. He says that that part of California is no place for a person of small means. No cows are kept except by the rich who can afford to keep up an irrigated pasture and buy feed and that the people nearly all use canned milk, buying it by the dozen or gross. The fruit farms can only be handled successfully by wealthy people, it costing very heavy to get the water onto the ground and prepare for an orchard. He thinks that the disadvantages of Oregon are not nearly so bad as he thought they were before he saw California.

According to a celebrated anatomist there are upwards of 5,000,000 little glands in the human stomach. These glands pour out the digestive juices which dissolve or digest the food. Indigestion is want of juice, weakness of glands, need of help to restore the health of these organs. The best and most natural help is that given by Shaker Digestive Cordial. Natural, because it supplies the materials needed by the glands to prepare the digestive juices. Because it strengthens and invigorates the gland and the stomach, until they are able to do their work alone. Shaker Digestive Cordial cures indigestion certainly and permanently. It does so by natural means, and therein lies the secret of its wonderful and unvaried success. At druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

Died. Weiss—At 5:15 o'clock, Sunday evening, November 1st, 1896, Anton Weiss, aged 75 years.

Mr. Weiss received a stroke of paralysis about four years ago and a second one a year and a half ago, from which he never recovered. He was an old pioneer, having emigrated to Oregon in the early forties and settled on his claim at the mouth of the Tualatin, where he has since resided and where he peacefully passed away on Sunday evening last. He was a man whose hand was ever open to relieve the sufferings of the poor and needy; honest, upright, thrifty and industrious he leaves an estate of some $20,000. His brother, Francois, the only one living out of a family of six boys, left his Chicago home last Sunday and arrived in this city Thursday. In his younger days Mr. Weiss was active in public affairs and was at one time chief of the police of Oregon City. The funeral took place from the Baptist church Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. M. L. Rugg.

Married. MERVIN-SHARP—At the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. W. Vanmeer at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, October 29, 1896, Miss Jennie W. Sharp to Eugene Mervin, Rev. J. W. Cowan, D. D. of the Congregational church, officiating.

A Western Favorite. The courtship of Lieutenant Grant and Miss Julia Dent, described by Colonel Emerson, in the November Midland, Des Moines, Iowa, is better than a romance, because it's true and because the reader feels he now for the first time knows General and Mrs. Grant personally. The second installment of Midland's "Grant in the West" verifies the October promise that Colonel Emerson has interesting and valuable material and knows how to use it. Mr. Tjernagel, the traveler, vividly describes the Jerusalem of today. A visit to the mountain home of Joaquin Miller, is pictured, as is also a visit to the birthplace of James G. Blaine. The University of Wisconsin is the subject of one illustrated paper and the Western Association of Writers is the prolific theme of another. Frank Calkins' "Young Homesteaders" make their debut in society. The prize story, "A Drama of Doodlebugs," by Ruby Rosser, is a romance and tale of adventure combined. The scene is laid in Missouri after the war.

A Grand Ratification. This (Friday) evening the Republicans of Clackamas county have planned to hold a grand demonstration in Oregon City, in honor of their victory in this county and the election of Major McKinley to the presidency. Preceding the meeting, which will be held in Weisard's hall, a monster parade will be made on the streets of Oregon City. There promises to be more men in line and novel and unique features in the parade than ever before witnessed in this city. A steam float with a chime of whistles will arouse all populists who may have retired early. The greatest feature of the parade will be the marching of 300 horsemen, who are to come from all parts of the county. They will arrive in the city in the early evening and will head the procession.

A Farewell Party. On last Wednesday evening a number of the young people of this city gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Sprague of the West Side to honor their friend, Roy Sprague, who was to leave the next day for San Francisco to join the United States navy. The evening was spent in games and merry-making and at 11 o'clock an elegant lunch was served. The girls present were: Orpha Cosper, Jeanette Read, Minnie Dutcher, Maggie Goodfellow, Blanche Bain and Kate Mark; the boys present were: Nicholas Humphrey, Joseph Goodfellow, Harry Draper, Charlie Chase, Robert Caulfield, Belani Van and George Case.

High Five Club. A number of the ladies of Mount Pleasant met last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. C. Williams and organized a social club to be known as the High Five. In honor of her guests Mrs. Williams had her house beautifully decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums and at the close of the meeting served to them an elegant lunch. The officers chosen are Mrs. W. B. Stafford, president, and Miss Nellie Warner secretary. The next meeting of the society will be held at the home of Miss Nellie Warner in two weeks from the last meeting.

Now For Bargains. A bankrupt stock of dry goods, clothing boots and shoes, embracing a good selection in each line will be opened up for sale next week in the Schram building, next door to E. E. Williams' grocery store, and sold at forced sale. Auction every day. This is no fake sale as the quality of the goods will prove and the prices cannot be met as these goods must go.

Monday evening a special meeting was held in the lecture room of the Methodist church by the Sunday school board of that church, for the purpose of acting on the resignation of Mr. Purcell, the superintendent. After an explanation from Mr. Purcell to the effect that it was impossible for him to devote the time that was necessary for the success of the school by reason of his church and Sunday school work at Parkplace and other places, his resignation was accepted and J. L. Swafford was chosen to fill the vacancy. Mr. Purcell has made a very efficient superintendent and the school will miss his presence. Yet the Methodist people feel that in Mr. Swafford they have a superintendent who will be able to keep their Sunday school in an interesting and prosperous condition.

Insurance that insures—

F. E. DONALDSON.

W. R. Heatless, of Logan, was a caller at the ENTERPRISE office Monday. Mr. Heatless, in company with Tom O'Neil and Oscar Biers, returned last Saturday from a trip to Squaw creek, a tributary of Ogle creek, where they located a very promising mining claim. They sunk a six foot shaft and got some fine samples of ore which they will have assayed. On a previous trip Mr. O'Neil had brought out surface croppings that assayed $6.06 per ton and the boys feel sure that the samples they brought out this trip will run much higher.

Some Kind Words. Prof. J. J. Truitt, who has so many warm friends in Portland, Or., where he taught and studied his profession over a year, is visiting our city and schools to introduce the "Famous" muscular movement (professional) in penmanship. Theory and practice combined and controlled by "count time" nearly the same as counting time in music. Prof. Palmer of the Western Penman says: "The muscular movement system of writing is sweeping the country like wild fire and from every quarter we hear its praises sung with all the enthusiasm of which Young America is capable. It is the only system that combines legibility, rapidity and beauty and adapted to the wants of the American people."

A word from friends: Mr. Truitt has filled some positions of trust and has done all honorably.—Prof. Perdue, Del. I trust and believe our relations as teacher and examiner may be of the most pleasant character.—J. O. Treeny, School Examiner, Md.

Mr. Truitt is said to be one of the finest teachers in our county and popular with all who know him.—Dr. Wright, Delaware.

It gives me pleasure to certify to the efficiency of J. J. Truitt as associate teacher in our schools.—Geo. Robinson, School Superintendent, Kansas. Mr. Truitt having both a literary and business education, I feel confident he can do better work in educational lines than the average teacher.—Prof. A. P. Armstrong, Portland Business College. Your penmanship is very good and you ought to make a success in this line of work.—San Francisco Bus. College.
