Wm. Welch, of Salmon River, was in the city last Tuesday.
J. D. Ritter, a well known resident of Needy, was in the city Tuesday.
Attorney A. S. Dresser was in Oswego Monday on legal business.
Hon. Geo. W. Prosser, the Oswego merchant, was in the city during the week.

Mrs. J. F. Purdom, of Grant's Pass, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. S. M. McCowan.
P. C. Patterson, an attendant at the insane asylum of Salem, was in the city Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Conyers of Clatskanie, spent Wednesday in Oregon City visiting relatives.
E. A. Bennett, a prominent merchant of La Center, Washington, visited this city last Friday.

E. O. Krause, the Salem shoe man, was looking after business interests in the city Monday.
Judge Thos. A. McBride returned from Astoria, last Wednesday, where he had been holding court.

Mrs. M. E. Pogue, of Salem, is in the city, visiting at the home of Mrs. M. F. Martin on Main street.
J. B. Heninger, agent for the Capital Nursery Co., of Salem, transacted business here during the week.

F. H. Morrison, a well known architect of Dallas, but formerly of this city, was in Oregon City Thursday.
Miss Neita Hickman returned Monday from a pleasant visit of a week's duration with friends at North Yamhill.

Mrs. J. M. Graham, of Portland, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glassford, last Friday and Saturday.
J. E. Hedges has decided to locate at Canemah, and will move there with his family the latter part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Sheeler, of Princeville, Illinois, are visiting Mrs. Sheeler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Moody.
Judge Sears, who has been holding court in this city in the absence of Judge McBride, returned to his home yesterday.

Harry T. Booth, special agent of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., with headquarters at Portland, was in the city this week.
Misses Eva and Pearl Meldrum, Cornelia McCowan and Florence Morey attended the party given by Mrs. D. P. Thompson, of Portland, in honor of Miss Woodward.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Smith of Needy were visiting at the home of George Horton the first of the week. Mr. Smith is the genial justice of the peace in that district.
Mrs. Renton of Honolulu, who is making a visit with relatives and friends in this country, left Monday for Indiana, after a week's stay in Oregon City, with her sister Mrs. Wallace Ludgate.

Mayor Straight has shaved off his whiskers, which have adorned his face since the time "whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary" in settlement of an election bet with J. F. Nelson.
Miles Rowan, who has a farm at Beaver creek, moved his family to Oregon City last week and is occupying the Church cottage at the head of Seventh street. He is an old soldier and his health has failed him so that he can no longer do heavy work.

Miss Vera Pillsbury, who spent several months visiting California friends in San Francisco and Oakland, has returned to her home in this city.

Editor Fitch, of the Herald, paid his election bet with Druggist Tilzer last Sunday afternoon by submitting to a public drenching from a Main street hydrant, in the presence of a large crowd.

Rev. Gabriel Sykes, pastor of the M. E. church in this city for the two previous years to this but now in charge of the church at Beaverton was, in Oregon City, Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. Sykes, visiting their old friends.

Of the whereabouts and doings of a former well known Oregon City resident the Canyonville, Douglas county, Avalanche-Journal, has the following to say: "Capt. J. P. Shaw, of Portland, has been spending several days in the city. He now puts in most of his time at the placer mine on Granite creek, owned by himself and other parties. They have a number of men employed getting the mine in condition for good winter run. There is no question but that there is plenty of pay dirt in the ground owned by the company."

Hospital Notes.

Samuel Roake, who had his skull severely fractured sometime since in the paper mills and with whom it was a question for several days as to whether he would pull through or not, has so far recovered from his injuries that Wednesday he was able to return to his home from the Oregon City hospital. It will be some time yet though before he can return to his work in the mills.

Hon. T. E. Holmes, who has been a patient at the hospital for the past three weeks, has fully regained his health and has been spending this week visiting in this city with his sister, Miss Mollie Holmes and his many old time friends. Mr. Holmes is collector at the United States custom house at Mary's Island, Alaska, and will leave to-day (Friday) for his post of duty.

Sim Neizer, the young man who got his foot shot in a hunting accident, is recovering nicely from his wound, with every prospect of saving his foot in good shape.

The other patients in the hospital are all making good progress toward recovery and nothing of unusual interest can be noted of them.

What the Pendleton Tribune Thinks.

The Pendleton Tribune of November 4th says of Miss Orrie Ober and her eastern Co.: "For a Million" drew a very large house at the Frazier opera house last night, which is good evidence that the company's work is appreciated. The piece was much stronger than the opening bill and was received with great applause. The Orrie Ober company is a good one and should be well patronized. To-night they play 'Tribby,' which is said to be up to the standard, as Miss Ober and Mr. Ettinger starred in that play last season, playing the piece exclusively in all the larger cities of the South."

Shively opera house week beginning Monday, Nov. 16. First play "Race for Congress." Eastern prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents. Seats now on sale.

Gone to His Rest.

Lucius Alexander Seely, one of Oregon's 1851 pioneers, died at his home near Wilsonville in Clackamas county, Oregon, Friday November 5, at 8:15 p.m. Lucius A. was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Seely, and was born in Ogden, St. Lawrence County, New York, August 10, 1820, making him at the time of death 76 years, 2 months and 26 days of age.

With his parents at the age of 16 he moved to Illinois and was educated at Pottsdam academy.

In 1842 Lucius A. Seely at the age of 22 and Miss Sophia H. Buckman aged 18 were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the home of the bride's parents at Farmington, Ill. and resided near that place 8 years, when the idea of coming to Oregon entered their minds and they with six other families made up an emigrant train of ox teams and crossed the plains as all our forefathers did in those good old days, without any serious accident, only the loss of six horses belonging to Mr. Seely, supposed to have been taken by some of the Salt Lake people, as they were near that place at the time.

A six-month trip landed them in Baker's prairie, (now Canby) in October, 1851 where they resided six years then moved to Lion City, (now the pulp and paper mill site) only remaining one year, and moved to their present home and bought of Mr. J. K. Bolton 320 acres of land, about 100 acres of which was covered with water and known as Coffee lake which Mr. Seely drained by an artificial canal running from the lake into the Willamette river, a distance of one and one half miles and on an average of six feet deep by ten wide which was very expensive in those days, and a great deal of trouble as he had to cross land belonging to others between the lake and the river. Nevertheless this enabled Mr. Seely to farm 100 acres of as fine farming land as ever man tilled, yielding 100 bushels per acre annually for years.

At first Mr. Seely erected one of Oregon's famous log cabins where the family lived 18 years, enjoying all the pleasures of pioneer and frontier life in the far West. He then built a handsome 1½ story, plastered house of good dimensions, where with his family around him has resided up to his death.

To Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Seely were born eight boys and one daughter, and one adopted daughter taken in infancy. Jera, George, Hattie, and J. Bene, born in Ill., Frank, born on the steamer James P. Flint coming up the Columbia river on the journey to Oregon; Judson, S. and Bishop at Canby; Robert and Edward in the log cabin and Emma, the adopted daughter died at the age of 17 years. Hattie was married to James Whitmore and in 1878 died at the home of her parents, leaving five children. Jera J., the oldest died at his home in Portland in 1883, leaving seven children. The remaining seven sons with their families reside near the old home.

Mr. L. A. Seely was of strong, vigorous constitution, always enjoying the best of health and able to labor until the age of 70, then as age came health and strength failed and the last six years he spent in a life of leisure. His health failed gradually until about two weeks ago when he was confined to his room and about six days to his bed when the end came quietly and without a struggle. Mr. Seely was a devoted Christian, having joined the Presbyterian church in Ill. at the age of 18 and after moving to Oregon was united with that congregational faith in which he died a true believer.

Pill Clothes.
The good pill has a good coat. The pill coat serves two purposes; it protects the pill, and disguises it to the sensitive palate. Some coats are too heavy; they won't dissolve, and the pills they cover pass through the system, harmless as a bread pellet. Other coats are too light, and permit the speedy deterioration of the pill. After 30 years exposure, Ayer's Sugar Coated Pills have been found as effective as if just fresh from the laboratory. It's a good pill, with a good coat. Ask your druggist for

Main Street, one door South of M. E. Church.

It has often been said of Mr. Seely and it is true, "that his life was a good example to follow, of good disposition, kind honest and upright, always ready to lend a helping hand to the poor and needy, the widow and orphan, and a good neighbor in time of need and always to be relied upon." His word was law, honesty being his motto; very generous in school and church work.
He leaves behind a widow well provided for, seven sons and eight daughters-in-laws, over 50 grand children and scores of friends to mourn the loss of a husband, father, grandfather, friend and neighbor.
The many friends will remember that a little over five years ago, Grandpa and Grandma Seely celebrated their golden wedding at their fine old home, surrounded by over one hundred relatives and neighbors.
The interment took place at Pleasant Hill Saturday the 6th of November at 3 o'clock p. m. conducted by Rev. and Mrs. Barber. Beautiful flowers covered the last resting place. The funeral service was delivered at Hood View Sunday at 10:30 a. m. by Rev. Barber, the text was "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord, from henceforth for they rest from their labor and their works do follow them," which was very appropriate. The entire community desire to extend sympathy in this their sad hour.
ANNA.
Be regular and punctual in all things" was one of the old maxims, taught long ago. The last is not forgotten, but the first is scarce remembered, so irregular is the life of most people nowadays. The only corrector of this evil is Simmons Liver Regulator, which keeps the liver active and prevents the ills of irregular living, dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, etc. It also cures these troubles.
The finest line Oriental rugs ever brought to Oregon City, are now on sale at Mrs. E. E. Martin's store. A fine pattern at 8 cents per foot and finer grades at equally low prices.
