Scoff and Cough.
The man who scoffs at friendly advice to "take something for that cough," will keep on coughing, until he changes his mind or changes his earthly residence. Singular, isn't it, how many stubborn people persist in gambling with health as the stakes, when they might be effectually cured of cough, cold, or lung trouble, by a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

AFTER DEATH.
I sometimes linger o'er the list
Of friends I lost in other days,
And still the question with me stays—
"When I am gone, shall I be missed?"
I doubt if others think the same
Or even wish to share my thought—
That men were foolish who have sought
To leave a never-dying name.
When thou hast run thine earthly race,
Thou wilt not "leave a world in tears,"
Nor will men come in after years
To view thine earthly resting place.
Thy poor remains will rest as well,
Thy spirit will be no less free,
Although it is not thine to be
A Milton or a Raphael.
Fret not thyself, but heaven thank
If all the good that thou canst do
May be so done that only few
Need ever know thy place is blank.
Be thankful if but one true heart
Shall feel for thee the moment's pain—
Ere it can say, "We meet again!"
Of knowing what it is to part.
One loving heart thou mayest crave,
Lest all thou cardest for on earth
Should seem to have no lasting worth
And end forever in the grave.
One faithful heart beneath the sky
In which to leave a seed of love
To blossom in a world above
And bear a fruit which shall not die.
