The question of trusts and how much public control is possible and necessary is treated in a symposium of eight articles in the New York Independent for March 4. The articles are written by men of national reputation, who are thoroughly posted on the subjects they treat. These articles are the ablest and most comprehensive that have yet appeared on this all-important question, to Americans and any one who wishes to fully post themselves on this question should send for a copy of the Independent.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The ladies' basket ball team will play the juniors a game soon.

Rev. C. A. Willey is booked for a talk to men, Sunday at 4 p. m. There will be special singing and all men are kindly invited.

The board is on the lookout for an athletic field for the members to play ball, run and ride bicycles in this summer. This is one of the many things needed in Oregon City.

The Baptists will play the Presbyterians a game of basket ball in the gymnasium on Saturday night. Reserved seats can be had for 10 cents from members of the teams.

Twenty-seven state legislatures have before them bills for the restriction of the sale of cigarettes and the prohibition of their sale to boys. The use of cigarettes is fast becoming dangerous.

The thanks of the association are hereby tendered to Mrs. E. E. Williams, the Treble Clef Quartet and all who took part in the concert on the 26th. The entertainment was first class in every respect and thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

The second term of the vocal music class will close March 30th. All who join now will have the remaining lessons of this term free. Fifty cents will pay all charges for the rest of the term, and the third term, which will commence Tuesday night, April 6th. All may join who wish to, whether members of the association or not. There are 53 pupils now in the class.

Gladstone has made a growth of 60 new houses since the hard times began.

MEMORIES OF ANDERSONVILLE.

Woman's Relief Corps Raising Funds to Preserve the Historic Grounds.

In compliance with a request from the National Woman's Relief Corps, the ladies of the Oregon City corps have undertaken to contribute their share toward preserving the historic prison grounds at Andersonville and making of them a national park. To aid them in raising money for this purpose the ladies gave an entertainment at Willamette hall Wednesday evening, which was well attended and which yielded them a handsome sum.

The exercises were under the direction of Mrs. G. W. Stafford, vice-president of the corps, who acted in the absence of Mrs. T. Miller, the president. The first number was the grand patriotic song, "The Prisoner's Hope" rendered by Mrs. J. Lutz, the audience joining in on the chorus.

Mrs. F. L. Cochrane then gave an address in which she stated that the grand old song just sung did not have the meaning now that it did in the bitter days of the '60's when it came as the wail of a dying soldier boy in a Southern prison. It then touched the heart as none now can feel. She gave a brief sketch of the horrors that were endured by the Union soldiers confined in Andersonville, and which caused the death of 13,000 of them in a little over a year. Of the bitterness engendered by the war, and which extended to the women and even the children, she was happy to know that it was now a thing of the past and she hoped the boys and girls of today would never have to undergo the horrors and heartaches endured by the men and women who saved this nation. Her address was deeply interesting and was listened to with the closest attention.

The Halcyon chorus under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Charman, then gave a selection which was rendered in fine shape and the applause was such that the ladies had to favor the audience with a second piece. There were 18 singers in the chorus and they acquitted themselves in a manner that reflected much credit upon their director.

Why the Andersonville prison grounds should be preserved was then explained by Mrs. G. W. Stafford. Of Andersonville she said: "It is one of the greatest object lessons in patriotism left to us by the war of the rebellion. Within its stockade died many a man who could have had freedom and life by giving allegiance to the Southern Confederacy, but who braved death rather than dishonor his name and betray his country. It, with the great battle fields, should be preserved to keep in memory the deeds of bravery that gave liberty and peace to this great nation."

Ethel Albright and Veda Williams gave a duet which evoked a hearty encore, but the young Misses could not be induced to respond.

Commander M. L. Moore, of Meade Post then gave a reminiscence sketch of the work the women did in the late war to relieve the suffering of the sick and wounded soldiers, paying a special tribute to the work of Mother Mary A. Bickerdyke.

An instrumental duet by the Misses Draper so delighted the audience that they were recalled and in response gave a four-handed medley on the piano that was both pleasing and amusing.

C. A. Miller was then called and gave one of his popular songs and in response to an encore gave a song medley which fairly brought down the house and with it another encore so persistent that he had to give another song.

A historical sketch of Andersonville prison was then read by Mrs. Henry Meldrum concluding with a description of the grounds as they now appear. Her article was highly interesting and given merited attention.

Mr. V. Harris then favored the audience with one of his splendid bass solos which was so well appreciated that he was recalled for another. The Halcyon chorus gave a selection and a response in answer to a hearty encore.

The "Red, White and Blue" was then sung by Mrs. J. H. Strickler, the audience joining in the chorus. Such was the spirit and power in which she sang this best of all our national songs that she was honored with an encore to which they were no declining. She gave "The Star Spangled Banner" as her finale, rendering it in a most inspiring manner. In closing the program Mrs. Stafford thanked those who had assisted in the exercises and the audience for their presence and liberal aid to the corps in their present undertaking.

Hesperians Entertained.

Last Friday was one of the mile stones in the literary life of Hesperian society. Geo. Stafford, the able president sat in the magisterial chair and after the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by the secretary, Miss Ruby Logan, the following program was rendered:

A well selected and well delivered recitation by Miss Orpha Cosper. A much appreciated declamation by Harry Shaner. Misses Blum and Hollenbeck then sang an impersonated and humorous duet which was remarkably well delivered and greeted with deserved applause. Chas. Criswell read a satirical and pungent reading which was also well rendered. The embryo oratorical phalanx exhibited their wit and argumentative abilities upon the subject;

Resolved, That an occasional war is necessary to keep up and maintain the patriotism and manhood of a people. Messrs. Fred Meindle, Tom Myers and Edgar Merosse spoke in favor of the affirmative while Messrs. Secor and Babcock ably defended the negative. Miss Daisy Carotners then recited a fine gem of poetical brilliancy. Geo. Swafford in the reading of his essay proved himself to be a profound and able rhetorician. A cordial invitation to the Hesperian society from the McLoughlin Chautauqua circle was responded to by the former club and accordingly attended in a body the meeting of the Chautauquans at Mr. C. H. Dye's palatial residence. It was a rare treat to the Hesperians and set many of them to thinking about that most mysterious and complicated of all sciences, astronomy. They listened to the discussion of the solar system with wrapt attention and gained much new knowledge from their visit. HESPERIAN.

BARLOW NOTES.

A New Store for Barlow—St. Patrick's Day to be Observed.

ST. PATRICK'S BALL.—The evening of the 17th promises to be one of the events of the season when a grand ball will be given in Columbia hall to celebrate the event, and with its up-to-date decorations and first-class music. The Gioso Juvenile orchestra, (extra line) will render the music which alone will insure a very large crowd as the little fellows have no equal in the state. First class order will be maintained and the genial Chris Zeigler will act as caller. The club room adjoining the hall has been secured, where dainty refreshments will be served to the content of all. The popular price of fifty cents will be charged for dance numbers, and it is expected that one of the largest crowds ever assembled in Barlow will be in attendance to this ball.

STORE BUILDING LEASED.—Messrs. George B. Fox & Co. formerly of Molalla, have leased from Wm. Barlow the store buildings on the corner of First and Main streets for three years, and will open up, on or about March 15th or 18th. They have already received some goods, but before opening they prefer to have everything in first-class shape to show to their customers an inviting aspect. Messrs. Fox & Co. are wide-awake business men and have made many warm friends throughout the country and with their push and energy they will no doubt procure a large patronage from this and surrounding country and bring with them a good share of their old trade from Molalla.

HIS ANNUAL CALL.—Mr. William Partlow one of Oregon City's influential and prominent citizens, paid his annual call at the Barlow residence on the 8th, that being his 60th birthday. For the past ten years Mr. Partlow has been celebrating his birthday here, and the day is usually spent in merriment. Mr. Partlow looks as young as he did 20 years ago and is full of congeniality.

CREAMERY WILL PROBABLY START.—At the last meeting of the directors of the creamery association, communications were read with propositions to rent the creamery building. The secretary was ordered to correspond with the parties, offering them a good layout for the opening of the creamery, which no doubt will be accepted.

ATHLETIC CLUB.—The young ladies' athletic club is constantly adding new members, and the marked improvement of some of the young ladies in their acrobatic feats is phenomenal. It is hoped, in the near future, we may have an opportunity of witnessing a performance by the fair ones.

An Oregon City Student.

Miss Gracie Whitlock has left her many friends in this city and gone to Portland to complete her studies in Mrs. Weister's institution. At present her studies are art, music, elocution and language, also readings in history and literature. It is Miss Whitlock's intention to take a most complete course in their studies. The music department is under the charge of Miss Hulbert, who is a graduate of the conservatory of music in Berlin, Germany.

Miss Hulbert is well pleased with her pupil. An invitation will always be extended to Miss Whitlock's friends to be present at the entertainments given given in music and the exhibition in this institution. MRS. ALICE WEISTER.

Houses Made Bright.

Murrow, the painter, has removed his shop to Seventh street, near the depot where orders can be left for painting, paper-hanging and calicining. Prices to suit the times and all work honestly and efficiently done.

Avoid Consumption.

The The The

Best. Rest. Test.

There are two kinds of sarsaparilla: The best—and the rest. The trouble is they look alike. And when the rest dress like the best who's to tell them apart? Well, "the tree is known by its fruit." That's an old test and a safe one. And the taller the tree the deeper the root. That's another test. What's the root,—the record of these sarsaparillas? The one with the deepest root is Ayer's. The one with the richest fruit; that, too, is Ayer's. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a record of half a century of cures; a record of many medals and awards—culminating in the medal of the Chicago World's Fair, which, admitting Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best—shut its doors against the rest. That was greater honor than the medal, to be only Sarsaparilla admitted as an exhibit at the World's Fair. If you want to get the best sarsaparilla of your druggist, here's an infallible rule: Ask for the best and you'll get Ayer's. Ask for Ayer's and you'll get the best.

This is the Place to Buy Groceries

A full and complete assortment of all goods usually kept in a first-class grocery. Everything offered for sale is fresh; and sold at very reasonable prices. We have a very choice stock of canned goods, including both fruits and vegetables, to which we invite your special attention. Extra or fancy grades of teas and coffees at prices you are accustomed to pay for inferior grades.

A Safe Investment

A GOOD PLACE TO LIVE

Beautiful scenery and health giving air, high level land with good productive soil and pure water, a first-class public school building attended by nearly a hundred pupils on the premises; and a good plank road (one of the main thoroughfares in the county), connects with the macadamized streets of the city. This beautiful tract adjoins Oregon City and no portion of it is beyond a mile from the heart of the city and but a 15 minutes walk on plank walks to the business houses.

These are a few of the attractions of South Oregon City. Now is the time to think of the place to build your home or a good place to lay by an investment that will increase in value. The easy terms on which this property is sold should not embarrass any thrifty person. Lots are 50x100 and prices range from $100 to $150. Terms, $5 down and $5 per month until paid, without interest or taxes, a liberal discount for cash, and inducements to build. Every lot clear and ready for the garden. Quite a number of lots have been sold and there are several houses already occupied on the tract and quite a settlement in the neighborhood.

Oregon City with her big monthly pay roll, great woolen mills, large pulp paper and flouring mills and massive electric station, her fine public schools and all the modern improvements, is bound to increase her growth. Where can you find a better place to live in or a safer place for an investment? For further information call on or address

DON'T BE A CLAM

But come out and have an evening's fun at the Parkplace School House

SATURDAY EVE.

MARCH 13.

That Most Laughable ...Comic Drama...

The Old Hickory Farm

Will be presented by the young people of the Parkplace-Gladstone school.

The Musical Part of the Program Will Be First-Class.

The proceeds will go toward buying an organ for the school, and the admission has been placed so low that all can attend—only 20 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

P. S.—Reserved seats will be kept for them, and a special invitation is extended to all persons, who have allowed themselves to become long-faced and misanthropic, to attend, for the drolleries of Uncle Joshua will cure the most obstinate case of the "blues."

Those attending from Oregon City can reach the Parkplace school house by a short walk from the Sisters' platform on the electric car line.
