The Willamette Sayings and Loan

Below will be found the directors report, for the fiscal year ending February 28, 1897, of the Willamette Savings and Loan Association of this city For the benefit of our readers we give herewith a condensed report from the president's appoal statement. This institution has been in existence now nearly three years, and although no special ef-Council meets first Wednesday of each forts have been made, a steady and permonth in city hall. manent growth is shown. As a means of accomulating small savings, and keeping the same at a good rate of interest, the association is unsurpassed and de-CHAT ABOUT TOWN, serves the cordial support of all residents in preference to an institution, outside the city or state. Besides the advantage of keeping your money at home, you have the satisfaction of knowing on what security it is loaned and can investigate the affairs of the association at any time, also having a voice in the management. The following facts show the association to be in a very satisfactory condition. The net profits for the year ending February 28,'97 was $508.48 which has been distributed pro rata to each series. After this distribution the amount to the credit of the different series was as tollows; Series No. 1, $4474.90; series No. 2, $866.80; series No. 3, $946 17.

S-ries No. 1 had 215 shares in force and the book value

Series No. 2 had 60 shares in force and the book value of each share was $14.45. Series No. 3 had 128 shares in torce, and the book value of seach share was $7, 19,

The total amount paid in on each share, excepting the entrance fee, has earned during the past year a fraction feet Malarial Liver tonic and blood over 10 per cent per annum. institutions of this kind. The association now has loaned on first mortgage on approved local property the sum of $5930 and has cash on hand amounting to $560 02. As the association can grow very much larger without the expenses of running same increasing materially, the profits will continue to grow. The directors chosen at the annual corporate meeting held March 20th, are: Geo. Harding, W. A. Huntley, W. P. Hawley, Rudolph Koerner, Geo. Broughton, L. L. Porter, J. P. Logan, E. E. Charman and E. MILLER—In this city on Friday, March 19, 1897, Charles F. Miller, eldest son of J. N. and Sophia Miller, aged 13 years, 10 months and 8 days.

Charles was run over by a freight train Wednesday evening and had his left leg crushed and was unable to rally from the amputation made necessary on account of the accident.

The funeral services were held at the Baptist church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted ov the pastor, Rev. M. L. Rugg, the large auditorium being filled with friends who had assembled to express their sympathy with the family and to pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased. Charley was a seventh grade pupil at the Barclay school and the pupils of that grade, some 40 in number, attended in a body with their teacher, Miss Gertrude Finley, and six of his schoolmates, George Winesett, W. E. Burns, George Rall, Burt Yale, George Califf and Clyde Hoffman, acted as pall bearers. Charley was also a member of the Baptist Sunday school and Junior Christian Endeavor society, many of whose members followed the Canby, was in the city Monday. remains to their last resting place in the city cemetery. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

A peculiar, and to some people a prophetic incident in connection with young Miller's death was the fact that on Wednesday, his last day at school, his class was directed to write a letter in their copy books, and Charley's letter was addressed to his father, saying he is suffering from a severe attack of rheuwas going away and bidding his parents matic fever. farewell. Later in the day, in language work, a few hours before the accident, he was required to write a sentence on store on Main street. the blackboard and wrote: "All my work is now ended."

ANDREWS-In this city on Thursday March 18, Dr. Luther M. Andrews, aged 72 years, 5 months and 2 days. Dr. Andrews, owing to his advanced age and an attack of the grippe had been in feeble health for some months past, and failing quite rapidly, passed quietly

Cowan delivered a short address on the life and character of his deceased friend. The remains were then taken to the Masonic cemetery, the pallbears being G. A. Harding, Caleb Cross, Geo. Horton, R. Koerner, D. B. Martin and L. W. Davis. The closing rites were then conducted by the Masons with the beautiful and impressive ceremony of the order. There was a large attendance of both G. A. R. men and Masons. Dr. Andrews being a member of both orders, as well as a large concourse of business men and friends. The floral offerings were very handsome and appropriate.

Dr. Andrews leaves an aged wife and of this city, to mourn his loss, for he was a true husband and a kind father.
